U. S. DELEGATES OFF FOR GREAT NAVAL DEBATE

Hopes for Cruiser Reductions Ebb.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 9.—[Special.]—With the object of negotiating a treaty with the chief naval powers for the reduction of naval armament without sacrifice of national security and of procuring Anglo-American naval parity, the American delegation is aboard the steamer George Washington tonight bound for the London conference, which is to meet Jan. 21.

It was on this same ship a little more than 11 years ago that Woodrow Wilson set forth for the Paris peace conference to write what he hoped and believed was to be a charter of permanent peace for all mankind.

What with the future of the disarmament movement that is involved, the questions of national security, the ambitions and jealousies of world powers, and the play of world politics in the negotiations, the conference bids fair to be one of the most momentous events since the world war and the peace of Paris. Predictions are frequently heard that if this conference should fail the world will witness unprecedented competition in naval building.

France Is Irreconcilable.

On the eve of the assembling of the conference, the prospect of the conclusion of an agreement on navy reduction or limitation by the five leading naval powers—the United States, Great Britain, Japan, France and Italy—appears none too bright because of the intransigeant opposition of France to a disarmament treaty that does not apply to land and air as well as sea defense. It now seems more likely that there will eventuate a three power agreement of Great Britain, America and Japan, terminable whenever Britain shall deem her security threatened by a French navy building program.

Indications are not wanting that the American delegation already has given up hope of achieving any reduction of actual strength in cruisers and has fallen back on the possibility of procuring a curtailment of the number of capital ships—battleships and aircraft carriers, which are the only categories now restricted. It is not unlikely that the powers will agree to cut down their capital ship fleets to the extent of two or three ships each. There also may be a postponement of battleship replacement for five years, if not a reduction in the size of capital ships.

Two Delegates Already in Europe.

The members of the American delegation aboard the George Washington are: Henry L. Stimson, secretary of state and chairman of the delegation; Charles Francis Adams, secretary of the navy; Dwight W. Morrow, ambassador to Mexico; David A. Reed, senator from Pennsylvania, and Joseph T. Robinson, senator from Arkansas.

They will be joined in London by the other two members of the delegation, Charles G. Dawes, ambassador to Great Britain, and Hugh S. Gibson, ambassador to Belgium.

Naval Advisers Being Taken.

Accompanying the delegation is an advisory commission of naval experts composed of the following members:

Admiral William V. Pratt, commander in chief of the United States fleet.

Rear Admiral Hilary P. Jones, retired, a delegate to the Geneva conference of 1927.

Rear Admiral Arthur R. Hepburn, chief of staff, United States fleet.

Capt. Alexander H. Van Keuren, in charge of the design division, bureau of construction and repair, navy department.

Capt. W. W. Smyth, member of special board on naval ordnance, navy department.

Commander Harold C. Train, on duty with the general board, navy department.

Lieutenant Commander Charles W. A. Campbell, aid and flag lieutenant to commander-in-chief, United States fleet.

Together with assistants, secretaries, and stenographers, the delegation numbers more than 100 persons. In addition, many of the members are

Coolidge Says Character Has Enriched U. S.

St. Petersburg, Fla., Jan. 9.—(AP)—Economic life in America has made astounding progress since the birth of the republic and the causes have been the character of the people and the accumulation of capital, former President Calvin Coolidge said here tonight. He spoke at the annual convention of the New York Life Insurance company.

"In any estimate of the power of a country, we find the chief asset in spiritual values," said Mr. Coolidge; "without them all else is vain. In this respect we are well equipped. The heart of the people is sound.

Great Body of People Industrious.

"Civilization always has its camp followers; we are not without a fringe of idle, vicious, boisterous wastrels. But they are conspicuous chiefly by their contrast with the great body of sober, industrious, thrifty, intelligent, honest, God fearing men and women of high courage and abiding faith, who make up the great body of our people.

"The material welfare of the country also depends upon the amount of capital it can command. It is not merely the superiority of the American people that enables them to do about one-half the world's work; it is because each operator has greater facilities, uses more improved machinery, and is supplied with several times more horsepower than the workers in other countries."

Dollar Marks of Progress.

Declaring that the rapid increase in accumulated capital is indicated in part by the records of banks and insurance companies, Mr. Coolidge said that in 1910 the deposits in savings banks were about four billions; in 1920, six and one-half billions, and at present ten and one-half billions.

The total amount of insurance in force for the same dates, he added, was about fifteen and one-half billions, thirty-five and three-quarters billions, and one hundred and three billions.

"Nothing has been more fascinating than this economic development," said Mr. Coolidge. "Nothing more completely demonstrates the ability of the people under our system to take care of themselves. The advocates of defeat have often asserted that the only economic salvation lay in communism, but the independent spirit of the American has constantly replied that the individual is sovereign, that the private ownership of property is a sovereign right, and he is able to take care of his own destiny."

HOOVER LEAVES TARDY GUESTS IN THE LURCH

Washington, D. C., Jan. 9.—[Special.]—President Hoover gave Washington officialdom a little lesson in etiquette tonight at the White House reception to the judiciary.

The time announced for the reception was 9 o'clock. The President received the guests as they arrived, shaking hands with each one in the line as they passed. A few minutes after 9 the entire line had passed by the President, and, observing that no others were waiting, he retired to another part of the White House.

It developed later that about one-third of the guests had failed to be on time, and consequently they were deprived of the President's greeting.

Mrs. Hoover, being ill with a cold, was unable to preside as hostess.

More Pastors' Sons Desired; Subsidy Urged

New York, Jan. 9.—[Special.]—A project to encourage increase of the progeny of the clergy was launched at the annual luncheon meeting of the committee on coöperation with clergymen of the American Eugenics society today at the town hall club. Dr. Clarence G. Campbell, president of the Eugenics Research society, asserted that it is known from factual data that the best quality of leaders arises in the greatest frequency from the progeny of the clergy.

He proposed therefore, as a measure of racial benefit, a special stipend for the rearing of every child born to a clergyman.

Action on Plan Considered.

The Rev. Dr. H. S. Huntington, chairman of the committee, said that Dr. Campbell's proposal would be studied with a view to putting the plan into effect.

The soft, easy environment in which we are living is the only process known to science by which the human being can be organically weakened, Albert Edward Wiggam, biologist and writer, said.

Charity Called Destructive.

Charity and philanthropy as now carried on, he added, are leading to the deterioration of mankind, medicine and hygiene are tending to weaken man's organic powers and morals and education are not directly remedying the situation.

College graduates as a class are disappearing, he declared, but added that there is evidence of a "saving biological remnant" of the most successful who still make homes and have children. If this is not true, he continued, "civilization cannot long continue as a going concern."

Reinstated Policeman Arrests Three as Robbers

A few hours after he had been reinstated on the police force by the action of the city council early yesterday, Policeman Frank Falkowski of the Town Hall station arrested Albert Hecker, 3626 Roosevelt road, and Jack Ruff and Rolly Siesen in their rooms at the Ontario hotel, 618 North Clark street, on robbery charges. The trio were implicated by Joseph Ruff, 19 years old, 1218 South Albany avenue, in the robbery of Charles Slater, owner of a haberdashery store at 1005 Irving Park boulevard, on Wednesday night.

ALDERMEN ACT TO TRIM "FAT" FROM EXPENSES

Both Groups Claim More Strength.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Ald. John S. Clark will endeavor this morning to have the city council trim $2,000,000, perhaps $4,000,000, of "nonessentials," "less essentials," and "political fat" from the corporate budget. He will try to take the cash from the appropriations considered "pork" or of minor importance and transfer it to the bureaus of public safety and health. His plan is to amend the budget.

Corporation Counsel Ettelson hesitated yesterday afternoon to say that it is legal to amend the budget. Last night he was doubtful, and this morning he is expected to say it cannot be done.

Clark said that it will be done if a majority vote of the city council can be obtained and maintained. He has outside legal advice that his plan offends no law.

Both Sides Make Claim.

This is the plan of action by the Clark group at the council meeting this morning when the struggle over the budget is resumed. The group claims that it will increase the majority which it showed in opposing the mayor's veto Wednesday night. However, Thompson's forces claimed yesterday to have added to their strength.

The council passed a corporate budget totaling $55,272,205. Of this total, the mayor vetoed appropriations aggregating $37,425,060. The Clark group sought to override the mayor's veto. They failed to get the required two-thirds vote, although they mustered 26 to the mayor's 19 votes.

The mayor's veto was for the purpose of increasing appropriations $4,618,523. Ald. John Toman has prepared ordinances for presentation to the council this morning to make that boost in expenditures. That plan would overload the budget. The mayor offers no added revenues, except a hope that a special session of the legislature will increase taxes for that amount.

What the Plan Involves.

The Clark group insists that the city live within its income. To do that it proposes to save for police, fire, and health service $27,000 set aside for the zoning board; $35,000 allowed for maintenance of aldermen's automobiles; $26,000 given the bureau of public license; $148,000 handed the department of public service; $100,000 to $150,000 from the city law department, and proportionate amounts from other "less essential" departments.

The Clark resolution proposes "that the city council," when it meets this morning, shall resolve itself into a committee of the whole for the purpose of giving consideration to any suggestions for amendments to certain departments which are of lesser importance than those which Mayor Thompson has vetoed. The mayor vetoed appropriations for police, fire, health, electrical departments and part of the street bureau because he claimed they are inadequate.

Keep Within Income.

The Clark resolution commits the council to the policy of not appropriating more than the city controller's estimate of 1930 income, which is $53,601,000. The resolution recites the efforts heretofore made to reduce the appropriations of the less important departments.

Among them was the decision of the council to abolish the job of market master and transfer the duties to the bureau of compensation. The mayor vetoed that.

The abolition of the departments of public service and welfare failed to get the required two-thirds vote of the council.

The council repealed the ordinance creating the zoning board, but the mayor refused to give his approval.

The blame for these results is placed by the Clark resolution upon the "city administration which has made it impossible to eliminate certain expense."

If the Clark plan fails, Ald. Arthur Albert will present a resolution requesting the mayor to veto the "fat" appropriations. The aldermen put these appropriations in the budget, and the mayor declined to take them out.

Corporation Counsel Ettelson was

Policeman and Bandit Shot in Boul Mich Duel

A highwayman and a policeman shot and wounded each other in a spectacular gun battle at Oak street and Michigan avenue yesterday evening at the height of the rush hour, after the bandit had failed in an attempt to rob a motorist. The gunman fled in a commandeered automobile, but was captured a few minutes later.

The wounded policeman is Clarence Binder of the Lincoln park force, who was shot once in the left elbow. The bandit is Robert Joyce, 28 years old, of the Victoria hotel, Clark and Van Buren streets.

Tries to Rob Motorist.

The pistol duel was staged on the northwest corner of Oak street and Michigan avenue, diagonally opposite the Drake hotel, after Joyce had attempted to hold up John McManemin, 6014 North Rockwell street, a laundry salesman. Joyce leaped on the running board of McManemin's automobile while the salesman was waiting for the traffic light to change at Division street and Lake Shore drive. He beat upon the window on the right side of the car, where Miss Eva Tege, 21 years old, 4051 Sheridan road, was sitting.

McManemin started his car south, and Joyce, unable to open the locked door, half jumped and half fell into the snow as the car lurched forward. McManemin continued south in the drive as fast as the icy condition of the street would permit, and at Walton place and Michigan avenue saw Policeman Binder. He and Binder went back up the drive. They met the robber at Oak street.

Bandit Fires at Policeman.

While still 10 feet from Joyce, Binder yelled at him:

"What are you trying to do here?"

In reply Joyce drew his gun and fired five shots, one of them striking Binder in the left elbow. Binder, who has been on the park police force only three months, drew his gun and emptied it at Joyce. Two bullets hit the gunman in the back as he ran.

Joyce dashed out into the south bound traffic lane on the drive and leaped on the running board of an automobile driven by James Ward, 4627 North Damen avenue. Pushing his empty gun against Ward he ordered him to drive west in Oak street. At State street he ordered Ward to drive south.

Sergeant Captures Gunman.

As Ward neared Chicago avenue he saw Police Sergeant Albert Otto and, turning the car into a snow bank, he fell to the floor of the front seat, calling to the policeman:

"I've got a stickup man in here. Save me."

Otto, seeing Ward fall, thought he was shot and rushed forward with his pistol drawn, as Joyce fell from the car, his empty gun still in his hand.

"Don't shoot," Joyce cried. "I'm shot already."

Otto picked Joyce up and rushed him to the Henrotin hospital, where Binder had been taken. When it was found that Joyce's wounds were not serious he was taken to the Chicago avenue police station.

Robber Shot to Death.

One of the two Negroes who attempted to rob Frank M. Armstrong, 3348 Maryland avenue, real estate dealer, was shot to death in a duel with Armstrong last night in the vestibule of a building at 5724 Prairie avenue.

Armstrong had gone to his building at 5722 Prairie avenue to collect rents and, after a visit to the basement, entered the building next door, the two Negroes following him in and threatening him with revolvers.

"All right, boys," Armstrong said, moving his hand toward his coat pocket as if to hand over his money. Instead he drew a pistol and began firing. The Negroes fired back and fled toward the door, one of them falling dead across the threshold.

The dead man was identified as Theodore Simpson, 30 years old, 4328 Prairie avenue.

Predict Fair Skies as Storm Subsides.

A heavy snowstorm which increased the difficulties of winter motoring, brought a backbending task to householders, and provided six or seven thousand needy men with work began to abate shortly before midnight. Except for flurries this morning the immediate outlook is for no more snow, the weather forecaster said.

During 20 hours of almost continuous precipitation, a white coverlet about eight inches thick was laid upon Chicago. The official record showed a fall of 7.6 inches up to 7 p. m. The fall thereafter was but a fraction of an inch.

A temperature which held about 25 degrees all day made the snow wet and clinging. Hence, the drifts were not great although a brisk northeast wind was blowing most of the time. The weather forecaster, C. A. Donnel, predicted the wind would shift to the northwest this morning and by nightfall blow the skies clear of clouds. He said the temperature would probably drop ten degrees.

Two Deaths Laid to Storm.

The weather was blamed for the deaths of two men and the serious injury of another.

Edward Dalton, 22 years old, a towerman, living at 1626 North Keystone avenue, was killed by a Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific passenger train as he stepped from behind a box car in the yards at Troy street and Chicago avenue. The exertion of shoveling his sidewalk proved fatal for Morris Dack, 52 years old, who collapsed and died in front of his home at 7451 Champlain avenue.

Raymond Kaufman, 30 years old, chauffeur for Attorney Alfred S. Trude, suffered a possible skull fracture when he stepped into the path of an automobile while shoveling a drive at the Trude residence, 4960 Drexel boulevard.

1,000 Shovelers Clear Loop.

Mayor Thompson's veto of the city council appropriation for street cleaning brought a sigh of relief from the street superintendent, Joseph F. Butler. On account of the veto, Butler was able on the basis of the 1929 budget to hire 1,000 shovelers, 42 trucks, and 40 snowplows to clear the loop of snow.

In other shopping centers the merchants themselves did the task, aided by the Chicago Surface Lines, which cleared all streets used by the street cars. All boulevards under park control were swept clean.

Highway police and scouts for the motor clubs reported some of the county's secondary highways blocked by drifts, but the main arteries were all described as passable. Kane county farmers worked all night to open side roads to the railway stations in order to have clear going with milk for the Chicago market this morning. Forty trucks worked out of Elgin headquarters of the state highway department to clear the trunk highways into Chicago.

Heavy Snow Downstate.

Towns in central and western Illinois confronted a more serious storm situation. The snowfall at Galesburg was reported to be 18 inches and highway traffic was paralyzed. Miles of telephone and telegraph wire were grounded by the burden of sleet in Vermilion county around Danville.

Telephone service was disrupted in Mattoon and all but the business district went without electric light. Railroad dispatchers at Carbondale were cut off entirely from St. Louis and had only one wire open for Chicago messages.

Fred Ritzius, government weather observer at Ottawa, reported a fall of 8 inches up to 2:30 p. m., when the storm of 18 hours' duration showed signs of abating. Traffic plowed through ten inch drifts at Quincy.

Forty Plows Clear Peoria Roads.

The highway department had forty tractor plows on the roads around Peoria. Motorists were cautioned to carry shovels on their journeys in the southern Illinois district.

Twelve inches was the average snow depth in Adams, Brown, Schuyler, and Hancock counties. Rural schools were dismissed.

Heavy snows were general in Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri, and Indiana, while in the northwest the snow was light and the temperature below zero. Readings from 10 to 28 below were common in Minnesota, North Dakota, and Montana.

Wisconsin's heaviest snowfall co-cured at Elkhorn. The fall there was 14 inches as the blizzard slackened towards evening. The Beloit college weather observatory reported an 8 inch fall in Beloit, but traffic was not greatly hampered.

An air mail pilot, R. L. Smith, flying the Chicago to St. Paul route, was blown off his course by a 33 mile gale and landed on the drifted emergency field at Somers, Wis., late Wednesday night. He notified his company of the mishap, spent the night in the unheated cabin of his ship, and took off again in the teeth of the gale yesterday, landing safely at Milwaukee. From there he started for St. Paul.

FLOOD PERILS DIXIE

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 9.—(AP)—High water stages were assuming threatening proportions tonight as rain continued to swell streams in the lower Mississippi valley.

From Cairo, Ill., south, down the valley, small streams had left their banks. The larger ones were nearing flood stage and the Mississippi was climbing too rapidly for the comfort of the flood harassed people who live on its delta.

Cold showers continued over a large part of the valley tonight after record rainfall since Monday. A report that the Mississippi would reach 42 feet, three feet below flood stage at Cairo, gave rise to fear of flood stage here. There also was a report from Cairo that the Ohio was high and may push the Mississippi even nearer flood stage at Cairo.

At Hickman, Ky., farmers have moved their live stock from the low lands. In Arkansas, the Ouachita was flooding low lands, as were the Black and St. Francis. In Mississippi the cold water was driving stock from the bottom lands and threatening its levees.

Two Dead in Indiana.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 9.—[Special.]—Two dead and property damage of thousands of dollars today resulted from storms and floods throughout northern Indiana. Flood danger was reported most alarming along lower courses of the Wabash and White rivers.

Illinois Roads Flooded.

Harrisburg, Ill., Jan. 9.—[Special.]—A continuous three day rain has caused much property damage and some suffering in southeastern Illinois. Country roads are impassable, water is over some state roads, rural mail service has been curtailed, some farmers are marooned and their corn in the fields is being beaten down.

SANITARY BOARD ADOPTS BUDGET OF $64,000,000

Employ John W. Davis in Lake Diversion Case.

The sanitary district board of trustees yesterday passed a budget totaling $64,135,490. The explanation was made, however, that two items will not be spent until 1931. One of these, $13,293,802, will be used to meet 1931 bond interest payments, and a second, $6,109,000, will be used for construction next year.

Thus, the trustees pointed out, the actual budget for 1930 will total $44,732,687. The budget includes $26,290,250 to be used in retiring bonds and paying interest. The appropriations will be well within the anticipated revenues, President Elmore declared.

Retain John W. Davis.

Employment of John W. Davis, nationally known attorney, who was Democratic candidate for President against Coolidge, was also agreed upon by the trustees on motion of John K. Lawler, chairman of the judiciary committee. Mr. Davis will argue Chicago's case in the Supreme court on the water diversion suit. He is to receive as his fee an amount not to exceed $50,000.

The $64,135,490 total was made up of the following items:

Engineering	$32,411,684
Law	1,742,769
Clerical Dept.	218,998
Treasurer	5,500
Board trustees	78,300
General and fixed charges	3,387,250
Bonds and interest	26,290,987

The item termed "general and fixed charges" was made up of $1,678,000 to retire tax anticipation warrants, $567,900 as the anticipated loss in collecting taxes, and $720,000 to pay left over 1929 bills.

Elmore Is Optimistic.

"The recent report of Master Hughes in allowing the district only nine years in which to finance and complete a program approximating $150,000,000 in construction of sewage treatment plants will tax us to the utmost," said President Elmore.

"The district is in a fair condition financially, considering the fact that no taxes have yet been collected for the years 1928 or 1929. It should be emphasized that one of the reasons for our financial requirements at the present time is the failure of the city of Chicago to meet its $5,000,000 bills for electric current due the sanitary district."

Puts on All His Clothes for River Plunge; Saved

Joseph Shrut, 52 years old, 1356 Sunnyside avenue, quit his job as a janitor at that address yesterday, garbed himself in all of his clothing to save himself the trouble of carrying baggage, and then leaped into the river from the Madison street bridge. Sergt. Patrick Burns of the Central police station, who saw him jump, tossed him a rope with a hook on the end of it and fished him out. At the Central station, the police peeled off two suits, a sweater, two suits of underwear, two pair of socks, a woolen shirt and an overcoat and put Shrut in a cell to dry. He could give no reason for his dive.

MOTHER, 21, KILLS DISEASED BABY; COURT FREES HER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Jan. 9.—A 21 year old mother who strangled her five months old baby to death, was freed by a Berlin court today. The trial revealed a story of the despair of a mother, who believed her child incurably ill.

The baby was healthy at birth but later suffered agonies from a disease inherited from the mother. Doctors gave her no hope for the child's recovery.

She went home and strangled the baby, cut her own wrists, and tried to hang herself. Her husband, who came home unexpectedly, saved her. To save his wife he told police he had murdered the baby, but she confessed. The court freed her upon the testimony of doctors as to the baby's suffering.

2 RAILROADS LAY FREIGHT EMBARGO ON LAREDO, TEX.

Houston, Tex., Jan. 9.—(AP)—An embargo was declared today by the Missouri Pacific lines and the Texas-Mexican railway on all freight business using Laredo as a gateway, it was learned at the Missouri Pacific offices here. The embargo does not cover freight business going only as far as Laredo, it was said.

The order grew out of international difficulties in connection with the threatened arrest of former President Pultarco Elias Calles of Mexico recently by District Attorney John A. Valls on a charge of conspiracy to murder.

Officials of the Missouri Pacific could not forecast how long the embargo may last.

attempting to block the Clark plan last night by having the mayor sign the appropriations which he did not veto. On that Clark commented: "That will make no difference. We have the right to amend the budget."

All of the 473 patrolmen and 222 firemen, recently laid off, who could be located yesterday were put back to work, although the police department gave out the opinion that the reinstated patrolmen cannot be paid without a specific order of the city council.

Other than police and firemen, none of the estimated 2,153 recently discharged employés were placed back on the job, despite widely circulated rumors to the contrary. No official except the police and fire commissioners has claimed to have authority to reinstate the discharged employés. Corporation Counsel Ettelson declined to say that it would be legal. The city controller's office said that they will not be paid, if reinstated, unless there is an appropriation made for them.

NEW YORK ENJOYS "HEAT WAVE," WITH MERCURY UP TO 65

New York, Jan. 9.—[Special.]—New York's midwinter "heat wave" continued unbroken today with the mercury touching a new Jan. 9 high level of 65 degrees. This was within two degrees of the record for any date in January—the 67 degrees registered Jan. 12, 1890. The previous Jan. 9 record was in 1889 when the thermometer registered 56 degrees. Overcoats and furs were freely discarded and cold drink stands did the best business in months.

At the same time 77 degrees was registered at the kiosk on Postoffice square.

HUSBAND LEAVES; WIFE ASKS $50,000 OF HIS PARENTS

Sixteen year old Ida Rudolph, 1500 North Damen avenue, and her husband, Julius Rudolph, met at a wedding last Oct. 1. It was a case of love at first sight balked by religious differences. His ardent wooing swept her scruples aside in a tearful evening, followed by an elopement to Crown Point on Nov. 15. They returned to receive a blessing from his parents, which was withheld until a ceremony was performed in a synagogue on Dec. 1. During the interval the parents prevented them from living together.

But Julius left her New Year's day. He wrote: "All the necking I did with you was a lot of baloney." It was signed "Brokenhearted."

This tale is woven in her suit for $50,000 for the alienation of his affections against his parents, Alexander and Jenny Rudolph, 3320 Flournoy street. It was filed yesterday in the Superior court by Attorney Harry X. Cole.

BURGLAR'S LOVE FOR THE DRAMA IS HIS DOWNFALL

The Town Hall police last night had solved 50 recent burglaries in all parts of Chicago and had recovered loot valued at more than $3,000, all because Maurice Le Fever, 27 years old, 1319 North La Salle street, is a lover of the drama. Le Fever confessed to the burglaries, including one at 20 Cedar street, last Sunday morning, when he escaped with jewelry valued at $1,500 after entering the apartment of Solomon H. Stix, an insurance broker, through a window opening on a fire escape.

On Jan. 1 Le Fever robbed the home of Harry Sebel at 701 Junior terrace and took $2,000 worth of jewelry and clothing. Included in the loot were two tickets for "Strange Interlude" at the Blackstone theater. Sebel had recorded the number of the seats and notified the police. Detectives Joseph Corcoran and John Leabeter went to the theater on Tuesday night and found Le Fever there.

In his room the police recovered a large quantity of jewelry, clothing and silverware which he admitted stealing, and the addresses of 30 homes, many of them on Lake Shore drive, which he intended to rob.

The raid resulted in the arrest of 57 men and women.

HOUSE REBELS AT DRY PLANS OF PRESIDENT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 9.—[Special.]—Prohibition today caused what may prove to be the first serious rift between the house of representatives and the White House. Administration leaders in the house sent word to President Hoover that the resolution proposing a joint congressional prohibition committee is not likely to pass.

Creation of the committee to handle various dry enforcement bills, in particular the program being drafted by the Wickersham commission, was urged by the President as far back as June 6 and it is known to be the attitude of the executive that it should be formed at once. Passed by the senate three weeks ago, the committee resolution was sent to the house rules committee, from which it has never emerged.

Believe Plan Would Cause Delay.

Speaker Nicholas Longworth admitted that "the leaders of the house" do not believe such a joint committee should be allowed to usurp the functions of the independent house committee already constituted.

"The leaders do not see why a joint committee would not take longer to investigate the subject than individual committees would take," Speaker Longworth said. "It is our purpose to take up each legislative measure and have it acted upon by the independent committees of the house."

Heretofore, in contrast to the senate, the house of representatives has acceded to the wishes of the White House with almost clocklike regularity and the reported upset on the committee plan came as a surprise. Just what steps, if any, the President will take to overcome resistance to the plan is problematical, but it is believed that the plan will not be abandoned without an effort to revive it.

Fifty Wets Form Bloc.

Fifty wet members of the house of both political parties pledged themselves at a caucus today to battle to a finish against the forthcoming program of the drys to put bigger and sharper teeth in the prohibition laws.

Although the so-called wet bloc represents only one-eighth of the house membership, which is overwhelmingly dry, its meeting today foreshadowed militant opposition when the dry legislation reaches the showdown stage. The fire of the wets, it was indicated, will continue to be concentrated upon what they denounce as prohibition murders by prohibition agents and coast guard crews.

Cause Is Growing Stronger.

"We do not expect to stay altogether on the defensive," declared Representative J. Charles Linthicum [Dem., Md.], chairman of the bloc. "We realize that our cause is growing stronger with the people every day and we expect to take the offensive with several bills of our own."

Mr. Linthicum explained that today's meeting was preliminary to frequent conferences the wets will have as the session proceeds. At the next meeting, two weeks hence, the executive committee, headed by Representative John J. O'Connor [Dem., N. Y.], will present a slate of officers. It was understood that there is some dissension between Tammany and another group, led by Representatives F. H. La Guardia [Rep., N. Y.] and John C. Schafer [Rep., Wis.], the candidate of the latter group for chairmanship being Representative James M. Beck [Rep., Pa.].

Among the Illinois wets who attended the session were Representatives Oscar de Priest and Fred A. Britten, Republicans, and Adolph J. Sabath, Democrat.

Attack on Commission Renewed.

The wet bloc rally was one of several developments today as the prohibition controversy continued to sizzle and splutter.

Earlier in the day Representative Loring M. Black [Dem., N. Y.], following up his attack yesterday upon the Hoover law enforcement commission, introduced a resolution demanding that the commission conduct public hearings, transmit to the house minutes of its proceedings to date, and "proceed to investigate the desirability of further efforts to enforce the 18th amendment."

"The commission," said Black, "is a public body, not a private board of directors. Its expenses are paid from the treasury and the country is entitled to know its operations. The public has kept quiet until now, feeling that the commission would answer the question in an authoritative manner. They felt that something would come of it in which they could place credence. Instead of that, nothing has come and the public is losing confidence."

Meanwhile the commission, which has been in session for the last two days, adjourned without making a word of its proceedings public nor issuing any kind of a statement. It was reported, however, that Chairman George W. Wickersham is authorized to issue a statement soon.

Frank J. Loesch of Chicago, a member of the commission, here for the meetings, called at the White House for a brief conference with President Hoover, but would not reveal afterwards what was discussed.

Corn Sugar Used by Stills.

Prohibition Commissioner James M. Doran registered a new complaint today about the growing problem of corn sugar liquor, making public figures showing that during the last year of the 3,864 stills confiscated in the northeast, 3,430 were manufacturing alcohol from corn sugar.

"The corn sugar illicit distilling is causing us grave concern, for there seems to be a constant growth in it with the highest type of plants being erected," Doran said. "The alcohol is just as good a grade as that manufactured legally and is shipped to the bootleggers in five and ten gallon cans."

The bureau a year ago seized a corn sugar distillery near Cincinnati, the commissioner said, which had used 79 cars of corn sugar in three months. Each car, he said, contained 500 sacks, weighing 100 pounds each.

Doran said that diversion of legal alcohol was steadily decreasing and that, while the progress was slow, under the system inaugurated a year ago, through which only enough alcohol to supply legitimate demands in manufacture was withdrawn, diversion will be decreased to a negligible amount. He said all alcohol released from the warehouses is traced.

Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blacklidge, collector of internal revenue, mailed 450,000 income tax blanks for 1929 taxes to thirty northern Illinois counties yesterday. March 15 is the final filing date.

Paris to Be Taxiless Today; Drivers Plan 24 Hr. Strike

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Jan. 10.—[Friday.]—The traffic problem will momentarily be solved today when the Paris taxis go on a 24 hour strike. Union taxi drivers decided on the strike last night as a protest at the increase in the parking tax and fares. They claim that the higher tariff has cut down their tips considerably.

MOVE TO DOOM R. O. T. C. TO SAVE SCHOOLS $19,000

$360,000 U. S. Aid Lost if Corps Is Scrapped.

The finance committee of the board of education yesterday cut out of the $87,000,000 school budget the entire appropriation of $18,901 for the high school R. O. T. C. The trim was unanimously approved despite the vigorous protest of Superintendent of Schools William J. Bogan.

The reduction was made in an effort to trim $7,000,000 out of the educational fund appropriation of $54,000,000 to fit the anticipated 1930 revenue. Efforts of five Thompson trustees to trim the educational appropriation had added $400,000 to the total instead of reducing it.

Seven school employés, composing the complete headquarters staff of the reserve corps, will be dismissed if the budget is approved next week by the board. They include: Maj. Frank Beals, director of the corps; Capt. Louis H. Condy, bandmaster; two sergeants, two watchmen, and one stenographer. These employés are the only members of the R. O. T. C. staff paid by the school board.

U. S. Pays 95 Per Cent.

It is estimated that 95 per cent of the total expense of maintaining the reserve corps is provided by the government. This amounts to about $360,000, which is paid by the government for the care of the uniforms and equipment of 5,000 boys and the salaries of seven commissioned officers and 17 noncommissioned officers, assigned for duty with the schools by the army. They are in charge of the units at the 21 high schools.

With the supervising officials, who are on the school board pay roll, eliminated, school officers and others are wondering how the corps can continue. The small item of $19,000 is the only expense paid by the board for the reserve corps.

Trustee Lewis E. Myers, one of the mayor's most recent appointees to the board, proposed the elimination of the R. O. T. C. appropriation.

"I fail to understand why the board should pay for the training of soldiers of the government," he said. "We do not need any drill sergeants in our schools at a time like this. New York has abolished the R. O. T. C., so I move we strike it out of the budget."

Bogan Protests Move.

Supt. Bogan immediately protested that the trustees were acting hastily and asked that a decision be deferred for a day. "This is education of the finest kind," he said. "It gives the boys an idea of what discipline is and provides excellent physical training."

Mr. Myers was supported by Trustees Theophilus Schmid, Carter Blatchford, and James A. Hemingway, chairman of the committee. All are Thompson appointees.

The board left one hope that the action might be rescinded. They agreed to permit Maj. Beals, the director, to come before the committee and explain why the R. O. T. C. should not be abolished. Maj. Beals said that numerous American Legion officials had volunteered to help in putting the appropriation back in the budget.

Legion Leader to Help.

Ferre C. Watkins, national chairman of legislation of the American Legion, last night planned to aid Supt. Bogan and Maj. Beals.

"The service men of the city of Chicago and most of its citizens will be shocked to learn of the board's action," Mr. Watkins said. In a total budget of $87,000,000 the board can not find $19,000 to provide for the training of 5,000 keen minded, alert R. O. T. C. students.

Yesterday's total reductions amounted to $254,990 while $7,000 was added. The net decrease to date is $704,905. Twenty-six more employés were ordered dismissed and two were hired, bringing the total reduction in personnel to 119. Yesterday's reductions included $100,000 for evening schools and $75,000 for swimming instruction in high schools.

While budget trims similar to the R. O. T. C. abolishment are being ordered, the committee continues to approve appropriations for the upkeep of automobiles for board members and department heads. This expenditure amounts to more than $50,000.

1,642 POOR MOTHERS UNABLE TO COLLECT THEIR PENSIONS TODAY

Mothers on the county mothers' pension list will not receive their bimonthly checks of $26 today. A total of approximately $45,000 for 1,642 needy mothers with from two to five children cannot be paid because the county treasury is empty. There is no prospect of funds for at least three weeks, even though the county board is successful in obtaining a favorable legal opinion on the 1930 budget.

The controller's office yesterday served notice on all court clerks to ask jurors not to cash warrants which they will receive for their services for the first two weeks of the year. Approximately 850 jurors are entitled to receive $45,000 at the end of their service.

MARY PICKFORD SAYS SHE GOT $10,000 A WEEK

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 9.—[Special.]—Mary Pickford appeared in Superior Judge Harry Holzer's court today and testified in an attempt to reduce the inheritance tax due the state of California from the $1,100,000 estate of her late mother, Mrs. Charlotte Smith, who acted as Mary's business adviser. Mary testified she received salary at $10,000 a week for many weeks during her movie career, mostly prior to 1920.

MOVIE OPERATORS WIN MORE PAY IN NEW CONTRACT

Exhibitors Balk at 6 Day Week Plan.

Representatives of the Chicago Exhibitors' association last night signed a two year wage agreement with the Motion Picture Operators' union which embodies a $2.50 weekly salary increase for the operators in 1930 and an additional $2.50 per week in 1931.

The exhibitors refused to consider the operators' demand for a six day week with no pay reduction. They pointed out this would mean a 15 per cent wage increase. Wage scales of the operators vary with the type of theaters, but the exhibitors declare the average hourly rate ranges between $2.50 and $3.50. They stated some operators in the de luxe theaters receive weekly salaries of $125 and more.

Both the large exhibitors and union officers said that the settlement was reached on a compromise basis. Jack Miller represented the regular motion picture theaters and Mort Singer the vaudeville houses.

This year the small theater owners banded together and conducted individual negotiations. Last night they refused to accept the same terms agreed upon by the large exhibitors. It was pointed out after the union delegation walked out of the conference hall at the Stevens hotel that the independents desire to sever all affiliation with the Will Hays group and seek to have former Judge Emanuel Eller enthroned as the Judge Landis of their group. This unit will hold a meeting this afternoon to reconsider the union demands.

Hopes for Cruiser Cuts by 5 Powers Ebb.

accompanied by their wives. Mr. and Mrs. Stimson are accompanied by their chauffeur, three valets, and four maids. The Stimsons have leased an English country estate near London, where they expect to do considerable week-end entertaining.

While the delegation goes without such formal instructions as were given the American plenipotentiaries to the Geneva conference of 1927, Mr. Stimson and his associates are thoroughly indoctrinated with President Hoover's view that reduction of armament and the establishment of Anglo-American parity are to be sought by mutual concession. The President and Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald having explored the possibilities of compromise in preliminary negotiations to their mutual satisfaction, the American delegation, joining with the representatives of the other four powers, is now to pursue this course farther in getting down to brass tacks.

Plots and Rivalries Revealed.

If the American delegation sets forth for London with a materially modified hope of accomplishment, it is because recent developments have revealed in a garish light the welter of international distrust, suspicions, rivalries, plots, and counter plots into which the Americans are plunging.

France, recovered from the war and possessing the greatest gold reserve in Europe, is dreaming again of empire and essaying to regain the position as a naval power she held before the war. She is smarting from the fancied slight she suffered at the Washington conference, when she was given a battleship ratio of 1.67, compared with the 3 of Japan and the 5 each of England and America.

Insulted at the first Hague reparations conference by the MacDonald government following British repudiation of the Anglo-French naval agreement because of American repugnance to that secret maneuver, France is now filled with suspicion that the Hoover-MacDonald meeting in Washington signalizes an Anglo-American entente that will operate to her disadvantage at the London conference in the same manner that the Anglo-American understanding which she firmly believes existed in the Washington conference forced upon her the rating of a second class naval power.

Proposes to Double Her Fleet.

"You will not find France suffering from an inferiority complex at the London conference," said a spokesman of the Tardieu government.

And so far is she from a willingness to join in that naval reduction which Mr. Hoover urges that she has served notice of an intention to maintain a navy of 800,000 tons, double the strength of her present fleet. She refuses to accept parity with Italy. She is maneuvering for a Mediterranean security agreement, if not to draw the United States into an Atlantic agreement modelled on the four power Pacific pact. Finally she refuses to sign a naval limitation agreement at London, except as a means of facilitating an eventual agreement on sea, land and air disarmament under the auspices of the league of nations.

Want America Linked to League.

Great Britain, while accepting Anglo-American parity in principle, is maneuvering to retain actual naval superiority over the United States. So long as France is expanding her navy and will not agree on an immediate limitation, Great Britain will not consent to any reduction save one contingent on the course of France.

Great Britain and France are at one, however, in the aim to induce the United States to enter into an agreement for enforcing the Kellogg peace pact that would align America with the league of nations in the event of war. Great Britain, France, Italy, and Japan want the construction of new battleships postponed for five years, the effect of which on the United States would be to prevent the building before 1936 of any ships equal to Britain's Rodney and Nelson, both built after the Washington conference at which America scrapped her new navy.

Japan Wants New Ratio.

Japan wants to increase her ratio of cruiser strength to that of Britain and America from the 60 per cent applying to capital ships to 70 per cent. She is renewing her demand for a 70 per cent ratio, despite the fact that she yielded a demand for 70 per cent at the Washington conference and accepted 60 per cent in consideration of the United States and Great Britain discontinuing development of naval bases in the western Pacific.

The ostensible reason for the renewal of the demand is that Japan perceives a menace in the long cruising radius of the 10,000 ton cruiser and in the great naval base the British are building at Singapore, just outside the zone in which the development of bases is forbidden.

Britain's Offer Is Awaited.

Inasmuch as Great Britain issued the invitations to the conference, it devolves upon that country to make the initial proposals of armament reduction at the opening session. The British program will be awaited with intense interest. If there is to be reduction of existing tonnage, which is the essence of the Hoover proposal, it will be up to Britain, having the largest navy, to lead the way. Whether the zeal of Mr. MacDonald for reduction, in which he claims to yield nothing to Mr. Hoover, will impel him to sacrifice existing tonnage as the United States did at the outset of the Washington conference becomes the foremost of speculation as the meeting approaches.

Up to date, however, there has been no suggestion of a disposition on the part of the British to scrap any ships built or building. In cruiser strength they are proposing not a reduction but an increase. They make much of their willingness to come down to 50 cruisers from the 70 they demanded at the Geneva conference. But the fact is that they have only 52 cruisers now and have not had as many as 70 since the war. The 20 cruisers they pretend to be sacrificing are only paper ships.

A "Cut" from 320,000 to 339,000 Tons.

It thus turns out that Britain is proposing to scrap only two cruisers and these are a couple of old ones included in a group of obsolete ships that are to be replaced with larger ones. This replacement is to raise the British cruiser tonnage from less than 320,000 existing today to 339,000 which they pronounce their irreducible minimum of cruiser strength.

A few months ago the Hoover yardstick for measuring equivalence of naval units was being relied upon to establish parity between Britain and America. But the yardstick never materialized. Nobody was able to produce a formula satisfactory to both countries for stating how many 10,000 ton eight inch gun cruisers are equal to how many 7,000 ton six inch gun cruisers. So the negotiators have fallen back on the ancient method of compromise.

U. S. May Be Forced to Build.

As the conference opens Mr. Hoover is holding out for twenty-one 10,000 ton cruisers, which, with our 10 cruisers of 7,050 tons each, would accord America an aggregate tonnage of 280,500. Mr. Hoover has indicated, however, that should the British insist on having a cruiser tonnage of 339,000 it would be necessary for the United States to build an additional five 7,000 ton cruisers, thereby bringing our total tonnage up to 315,500 in order to gain parity.

The British, however, are unwilling to allow the United States more than eighteen 10,000 ton cruisers, and are proposing that we build eight small ones, whereby our total tonnage with the ten small ones we already have would be 300,500. The British propose to limit themselves to 15 big cruisers, conceding that because of our lack of naval bases we need a larger number of big ships with a long cruising radius. They would have in addition 35 smaller cruisers. But among the 35 smaller ones are four of the Hawkins class, which are between 9,000 and 10,000 tons in displacement and mount guns of 7.5 inches caliber. They are regarded by our navy general board as virtually as powerful as our 10,000 ton eight inch gun cruisers.

Pacifists Echo Hoover's Words.

This joker in the British propaganda destroys the pretended preponderance of big cruisers accorded America. For the British would have in reality 19 big cruisers and we would have 18 under the British plan.

President Hoover's statement that the United States is expending more on its army and navy than any other country in the world has been accepted abroad as a confession of American militarism and as evidence that it is for America, not others, to scrap armament. Pacifists at home and abroad are using the statement effectively in their propaganda.

They are as silent as was Mr. Hoover on the reason that our smaller army and navy cost more than any others, which is that our soldiers and sailors receive several times the pay of their foreign comrades and live far better, while in this tariff protected country ships and guns and all other materials of national defense cost double what they do abroad.

British Leap Upon It.

The Patriot, a British publication that is fighting any concessions by the MacDonald government in the matter of cruisers, leaped upon the Hoover statement with avidity.

"As matters stand," said the Patriot in the Dec. 19 issue, "we alone of all powers have made great reductions, naval and military, since the war, while elsewhere there have been notable increases which President Hoover has recently admitted. We alone, therefore, have gone ominously far towards disarmament. This should place us in a strong moral position, and if public opinion were awakened the cutting down of our already inadequate cruiser fleet would be impossible."

While recognizing the difficulties to be confronted in London, the American delegates are assuming an optimistic attitude. Senator Reed has discussed the outlook with optimism tinged with caution.

"The critical factor upon which hangs the success or failure of the conference is the frame of mind in which the nations participating approach the conference," he has said. "If there is a disposition to be suspicious, critical, cynical, the conference almost certainly will fail. As far as I am able to discover, that is not the spirit in which the nations involved are approaching it. We have had eight years of experience with the Washington limitations treaty and have discovered that every one has been the gainer in that limitation.

"I believe the countries involved are approaching this conference with a sincere desire for peace and the economies that come from limiting navies. All of us, from every country, will, of course, be on the alert to avoid being overreached, but I have seen nothing to indicate any intention to do that.

"I am a firm believer in national preparedness, but I believe with equal conviction that it is folly to engage in a naval race with other countries. I have seen one war and I don't want to see another."

DELEGATES SALUTED AS LINER PROCEEDS ON WAY TO LONDON

Aboard S. S. George Washington at Sea, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Bearing the American delegation to the London naval conference, the steamer George Washington was headed toward Europe tonight.

Secretary of State Stimson and members of the delegation stood on the bridge deck during the trip down the harbor from Hoboken. They heard the mighty siren of the George Washington respond thrice to each farewell salute from ferry and tug, and they saw passing vessels dip their flags in greeting.

The secretary of state and Secretary Adams of the navy department ascended to the bridge to take Fort Jay's parting salute of 19 guns, accorded to cabinet members. They stayed there until the time came to drop the pilot.

Capt. A. B. Randall set the liner on the regular winter course across the north Atlantic. It is designed to bring the George Washington to Plymouth on Jan. 17.

The weather was sparklingly clear and there was only a slight roll to the big ship as she plowed eastward.

Secretary Stimson, Ambassador Morrow, and Senators Reed and Robinson came to New York ahead of the official party, and arrived at the ship at different times.

The main party from Washington, headed by Secretary Adams, made the trip from the national capital in a special train to Jersey City, from where they were brought to the United States line piers in automobiles and with a police motorcycle escort.

The members of the delegation, their wives and secretaries, began gathering aboard the George Washington shortly after noon today, but it was 3:25 o'clock before the last gangplank was pulled to the pier and the big liner slid out into the Hudson.

GERMANY LOPS OFF $10,000,000 FROM ITS '30 NAVAL BUDGET

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Jan. 9.—The Democratic News Service today announced that the government has cut down this year's appropriation for Germany's new crack cruiser "A," known as the Ersatz Preussen, from about $3,000,000 to about $2,000,000.

The German navy planned to start work on the second cruiser "B," allowed under the Versailles treaty. Because of financial shortage, economy experts crossed out many proposed appropriations for the new warship. So far they have clipped the 1930 naval budget close to $10,000,000.

The Nationalists are proud of the achievement of German engineers in the Ersatz Preussen and are highly indignant at the government's failure to build the ships which Germany is allowed. On the other hand, the Socialists are delighted.

CANADIAN DELEGATES OFF

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Jan. 9.—The Canadian delegation to the five power naval parley in London left today.

The Hon. J. L. Ralston, minister of national defense, heads it. He will be at the conference with Commodore Hose of the naval service, and Maj. Vanier of the Canadian staff at Geneva. Maj. Brown and F. Pearson of the external affairs department, are also in the party.

Canada has been invited to the parley by way of carrying out the principle of dominion representation and consultation but not because, in any sense, it is a naval power. The dominion has only two ships and they are not finished.

Mexico Puts Ten on Trial for 1920 Dynamite Plot

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 9.—(AP)—On charges of dynamiting the chamber of deputies early in 1920, ten persons went on trial in the second district court today. They are also accused of having plotted the assassination of the then President Calles and Gen. Alvarez Obregon, president elect, in May of the same year.

Italy's Cannons on Islands of Mediterranean Stir London

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 9.—Information has been received at the British admiralty that Italy is creating a mine base on the island of Pantellaria, halfway between Sicily and the coast of Tunis, which would enable her to close the entry to the eastern Mediterranean in event of trouble with France.

At the same time Italy is said to be fortifying the islands of Elba and Capraja, between the Italian coast and Corsica. It is also said she has worked out a plan for the seizure of Corsica, which, with the mine field off Pantellaria and Sardinia, would enable her to make the Tyrrhanian sea into an Italian lake.

Fears Sicily's Airdromes.

What is troubling the British the most is the report of 18 airdromes on the island of Sicily, within easy reach of the coast, and in easy bombing distance of Malta, which would thus be rendered of little use as a naval base.

Without doubt, these developments will be discussed at the naval conference, and will figure in the eventual bargain, which must be struck between France and Italy if the conference is to be successful.

Britain Announces Delegates.

The complete official list of British delegates to the naval disarmament conference issued by the foreign office this evening are as follows:

Prime Minister MacDonald; Arthur Henderson, secretary of state for foreign affairs; W. Wedgewood Benn, secretary of state for India; A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty.

The dominions' office delegates are Sir H. F. Batterbee and C. R. Price, liaison officer. The treasury office is represented by G. C. Upcott, deputy controller of supply services.

Press officers are Sir Arthur Willert and G. F. Steward Obe, while the secretariat of the delegation includes Col. Sir Maurice Hankey, secretary; assistant secretaries, Commander L. E. H. Maund, Squadron Leader E. J. Hodsoll, and Capt. L. F. Burgis.

Japanese Talk to MacDonald.

Prime Minister MacDonald returned this morning from his vacation at Lossiemouth and immediately plunged into his work. The first visitor was Foreign Secretary Henderson, who leaves London tomorrow for the meeting of the league of nations council at Geneva. In the afternoon he received the Japanese naval delegates, who declined to disclose any information about their talk.

France Rejects Italian Parity.

ROME, Jan. 9. — (AP) — The Franco-Italian negotiations for a preliminary naval understanding before the opening of the five power disarmament conference in London came to a standstill today with the announcement that France had rejected Italy's proposal for naval parity between the two countries.

The Italian foreign office regarded the French reply as a rupture of the negotiations, which have been going on for many weeks. Italy's efforts to reach an agreement by negotiation on the question of parity are considered to have failed, and Rome believes that the conversations with France have reached an impasse.

It now is inferred here that Italy and France will go to the London conference without a prior understanding, unless Foreign Minister Briand of France and Foreign Minister Grandi of Italy, who will meet in Geneva shortly, can achieve something by personal exchange of views.

BRITISH TO KEEP NAVY TALKS DRY; YANKS ARE COMIN'

[Copyright, 1930, By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Jan. 9.—Although ordinary liquor regulations do not apply to royal residences and drink could be served all night to the delegates to the naval conference in St. James's palace, it has been decided, out of deference to the supposed susceptibilities of the United States visitors, that nothing stronger than lemonade shall be sold. Some suggested that the spectacle of one delegate handing another a small lemon in time of crisis might not be so placatory as something more cordial, but the foreign office was adamant that no strong drink shall be sold inside the palace refreshment room.

FELICTATIONS TO ROSENWALDS SWAMP SHIP RADIO

New York, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Congratulatory messages to and answers from Mr. and Mrs. Julius Rosenwald, honeymooning aboard the liner Saturnia bound for Egypt, have overtaxed the ship's radio equipment, the captain of the vessel reported to the line's headquarters here today.

"Rosenwald radio telegraph messages overtax ship's equipment," Capt. Stuparich of the Saturnia wirelessed the Cosulich line today. "He and bride spending morning reading and answering hundreds of telegrams received before ship's departure."

YALE PROF DENIED CITIZENSHIP IN CONSCIENCE CASE

Wouldn't Bear Arms in "Unrighteous" War.

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 9.—[Special.]—Douglas Clyde MacIntosh, Dwight professor of theology at Yale university, was today refused citizenship in the United States because he declined to take the oath, which contains a promise to bear arms unless his conscience approved. His statement to the United States District court said that he felt that his allegiance was first to the will of God.

The case is slightly different from any recorded in United States citizenship applications because no especial radical or admittedly pacifist belief was involved in the refusal of the applicant to subscribe fully to the prescribed oath.

Will Be Further Tested.

Notice of appeal from the decision of the District court was tonight given by Dr. MacIntosh's counsel, making it certain that the case will be tested in the United States Circuit court of New York and perhaps in the United States Supreme court.

Judge Warren B. Burrows' memorandum of response to the Rev. Dr. MacIntosh's petition, filed today, says in part:

"It appearing that the petitioner, considering his allegiance to be first to the will of God, would not promise in advance to bear arms in defense of the United States under all circumstances but only if he believed the war to be morally justified, it is decided that the petitioner is not attached to the principles of the constitution of the United States, and it is further decreed that said petition for citizenship is denied."

Got U. of Chicago Degree.

Prof. MacIntosh was born in Scotland, received his B. A. degree there, and subsequently studied at the University of Chicago, where he received his Ph.D. in 1909. He later joined the Yale faculty. In 1916 Yale gave him an honorary M. A. degree.

During the world war he served with the honorary rank of captain as chaplain of the first command stationed near Vimy Ridge, and later went overseas a second time as a Y. M. C. A. worker with the A. E. F.

His book, "The Reasonableness of Christianity," was awarded the $6,000 prize as the best book on religion published for ten years by the Bross foundation.

DROPS TO DEATH

Jacksonville, Fla., Jan. 9.—[Special.]—Neva Paris, well known aviatrix and entrant in the transcontinental Powder Puff Derby last year, was killed at noon today when her Challenger Robin monoplane crashed into the marshes of the Satilla river near Woodbine, Ga., fifty miles north of here.

Witnesses reported that the woman apparently was circling for a landing place when the plane went into a nose dive.

Miss Paris, who was connected with the Curtiss Flying service, left Columbia, S. C., this morning and was scheduled to arrive at the municipal airport here today. She left her home port on Long Island on Jan. 2 and since that time had been visiting airports along her route south, delivering lectures to women students in aviation. She was on her way to Miami, Fla., where she was to enter the annual air Derby.

SHIP OF STATE RIDES SMOOTHLY, HUSTON IS TOLD

G. O. P. Leaders of Nine States in Conference.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Republican leaders from nine midwest states, 125 of them, were guests at a banquet last night in honor of Claudius H. Huston of Chattanooga, Tenn., new chairman of the Republican national committee. The purpose of the party, which was thrown by George Woodruff at the Chicago club, was to get the war horses acquainted with the new head of the G. O. P., who in 1928 broke the solid south and introduced Tennessee as a "mysterious stranger" in the Republican column for Harding, and repeated it for Hoover in 1928.

The dinner was a private affair with no public speeches, and the situation in the various states, political, industrial, economic and business, was discussed informally. Visiting politicians who came to the Union League club during the day held informal conferences. The tenor of their utterances was that the ship of state is riding on an even keel, that the clouds are beginning to roll away and business is getting better, and that by the time the congressional elections roll around next November the G. O. P. will be sitting pretty.

No Comment on Politics.

Chairman Huston had no public comment to make on politics, taking the ground that the next campaign is too far away to warrant much political conversation from him as yet.

"This is just a gathering to get acquainted," he said. "There's nothing I can say no politics, for there's no campaign until the congressional elections. Primaries are strictly the business of the states, and the national party organization does not take active part until the primaries are over."

Among the guests at the dinner were three governors, John Hammill of Iowa, Fred W. Green of Michigan, and L. L. Emmerson of Illinois. Three national committeemen were at the tables, David M. Mulvane of Kansas, James E. Davidson of Michigan, and J. Matt Chilton of Kentucky. Roy O. West, former secretary of the interior, and Illinois committeeman, dropped around with his regrets, for he had an engagement to preside at a church meeting.

John T. Adams Present.

John T. Adams of Dubuque, Ia., former national chairman, and J. R. Nutt of Cleveland, treasurer of the national committee, were among the guests. So were William B. Harrison, mayor of Louisville, Ky., and Frank Ball of Muncie. Senator Otis F. Glenn, who arrived from Washington yesterday, was at the banquet.

About 75 of the guests were Chicagoans, including groups prominent in industry and commerce. Mr. Woodruff presided.

Gov. Walter Kohler and Committeeman George Vits of Wisconsin are both on the invalid list, and among those representing the state was Carl A. Johnson of Madison.

The award will be presented on April 30 in Washington.

A subcommittee, with Ernest Buehler of Albank park as chairman, was appointed to carry on an educational program within the small districts against any proposed merger.

PRESIDENT OF POLAND ANGRY; FOES TAP PHONE

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

WARSAW, Jan. 9.—The Polish capital has been stirred by last Monday's discovery that an important telephonic conversation between the president of the republic and Premier Bartel was overheard by as yet unknown listeners-in and circulated among M. Bartel's political adversaries.

This happened a fortnight ago when M. Bartel was busy forming a cabinet and spoke one day to the president, who was spending a holiday at Spala. Afterwards the contents of the conversation were used against the premier. An investigation has been ordered and a special committee has started inquiries at the Warsaw telephone exchange. Complaints have been made many times, both in the press and parliament, but the minister of post and telegraph always denied the existence of a "black cabinet."

Nevertheless, during the last month conversations have been constantly interrupted. It is characteristic that the listeners-in always seemed to impart their information to a large number of people more or less important in political life. Warsaw's telephones, instead of a public utility, became a nuisance.

TROOPS OF ITALY "SHOW OFF" FOR FUTURE QUEEN

25,000 Men, 300 Planes in Vast Spectacle.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Jan. 9.—The armed might of Italy was assembled today in Parioli hippodrome to provide further pantomimic pageantry for the former Belgian Princess Marie—she is Italian now—and her royal wedding guests.

In the sea of humanity the Eternal City's new sweetheart, wearing a salmon colored hat with a flap over one ear and a rich vision in a fur coat, stood by Premier Mussolini, wearing the uniform of prime minister and cocked hat, in the richly ornate tribunal, as 25,000 troops of the land, sea, and air forces filed by. Premier Mussolini and the princess seemed to get on famously.

Princess and Duce Chummy.

They laughed and chatted and applauded together when gallant Prince Humbert, Princess Marie-José's husband, in full uniform, rode by on a prancing steed at the head of his famous 92d regiment of infantry, of which he is colonel.

Today was a sort of imperial triumph for young Fascist Italy and all took great pride in the brilliance of the soldiery. Past the reviewing stand tramped thousands in rhythmic order — infantry regiments, cadets, black shirts, and red and black carabiniers. Big tanks and armored cars groaned along, cavalry galloped by and hundreds of pieces of field artillery lumbered after them to the crack of the drivers' whips. This review was crowned with an aviation demonstration which was pronounced by military observers as the most precise and perfect spectacle of aircraft management ever witnessed in Europe.

300 Planes Do Stunts.

Three hundred airplanes were marshaled over the field in the form of a truncated cone or crown just over the heads of Premier Mussolini and the sovereigns. They arrived from the airdromes about Rome in concentric circles, one above the other and narrowing toward the top to a circle, in which small scout planes sped about at an altitude of 3,000 feet.

The lower and widest part of the circle, which was made up of bombing planes, was about 900 feet from the ground, with the other circles at intervals between them, each whirling around the circuit with such a mighty noise that the huskiest voices of the spectators were drowned to the volume of a whisper.

Today's review was truly a superb spectacle. In the tribunal, decorated with the arms of Belgium and Savoy, were gathered all the royalty and government and state officials and elite of Rome. Former Queen Amelia of Portugal, former King Amanullah of Afghanistan, the duke of York, Marshal Petain, the famous French soldier, and all members of the royal house of Savoy were there. Queen Elisabeth of Belgium was wearing a gray ensemble, adorned with pearl colored furs. Queen Elena of Italy wore a delicate violet tinted dress.

Kings Gallop By.

All were on tiptoes when the three kings, in modern military garb, but in the manner of medieval tournaments, galloped by the assembled royalty of rank and beauty. These three kings were Albert of Belgium, Victor Emmanuel of Italy, and Boris of Bulgaria, helmeted and caparisoned. Beside them galloped an escort consisting of Gen. Mazzera, war minister, and the brilliant general staff, including Augusto Turati, secretary of the Fascist party. Bands blared the Bra-bançonne and the Italian royal march as the three kings reviewed the troops. Then the march began. It took an hour to pass the reviewing stand.

Former King Amanullah was relegated to the benches because he has no constituency at present.

Fireworks Light Up City.

After the grand dinner in the Quirinal palace tonight to all the royal guests the prince and the princess stood on the balcony of the palace and watched the brilliant display of fireworks which were discharged from the top of Janiculum hill.

Afterwards the merrymaking went on again on top of the Capitoline hill, where Prince Boncaompagni, governor of Rome, gave an elaborate reception.

The three palaces which crown the top of Capitoline hill, once the central citadel of the ancient city, were joined together by an extemporized corridor to accommodate tonight's guest list, which was the largest of any of the receptions. Thousands of soldiers again tried to keep them under control.

View "Ancient Marriage."

Guests watched from the windows of the governor's palace. They saw figurants and mimes in costumes of ancient Rome enacting a street scene as it might have been in the Roman forum 2,000 years ago. There were praetorian guards and gladiators, plebeians playing dice in the streets, patricians carried in palanquins, accompanied by slaves with lanterns, barbarians, Gauls and Scythians.

Then came a curious evocation of an ancient Roman marriage. The nuptial procession was headed by flower girls and bridesmaids. The bride and her husband were carried by on litters. The cortége moved into a penumbra of darkness, the lights went out, leaving the forum in its prehistoric darkness.

Tomorrow will likely end Rome's week of triumphal feasting. The last scheduled event is the gala festival at the opera, after which the Belgian ruler will return home. The duke of York also leaves tomorrow night. Other royalty will go later. The prince and princess will leave Rome Saturday for the castle of Racconigi in Piedmont, King Victor Emmanuel's wedding present. There they will spend a a short honeymoon before going to their future home in Turin.

LLOYD GEORGE DEALS MERCY WITH JUSTICE IN FIRST CASE AS JUDGE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 9.—David Lloyd George, wartime prime minister and Liberal leader in the house of commons, took his seat today for the first time as chairman of the Carnarvon county quarter sessions in the same court in which he first practiced as a lawyer 40 years ago.

The first prisoner was Samuel Dew, 70 years old, with 30 previous convictions, charged with stealing a wheelbarrow. Mr. Lloyd George offered to let him off if he would promise to enter the workhouse. Dew agreed, but asked for a few days for a last fling, and Mr. Lloyd George gave him until next Monday.

As Dew left the court he waved his hat and called for three cheers for Lloyd George. There were about 40 magistrates on the bench, including Dame Margaret Lloyd George, the chairman's wife.

FIVE WHO HELD GIRLS CAPTIVES GET JAIL TERMS

Five of the 11 youths indicted some months ago after they were alleged to have held two 15 year old girls as prisoners in a barn in the forest preserve last summer were sentenced yesterday when they pleaded guilty to contributing to the delinquency of a minor in Judge William N. Gemmill's court. Those sentenced were Edward Murphy Jr., owner of the barn, one year in the Bridewell; Claude Montgomery, six months; John Dempsey, 30 days; Schubert Stevens, 30 days, and Edward Ryan, 30 days. Tony Lettiere's case was continued until Jan. 14.

GERMANS AGREE TO GIVE FRENCH DEBT GUARANTEE

Rush Discussions So as to Attend Naval Talk.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

THE HAGUE, Jan. 9.—Lifting his voice for the first time since the conference began, Philip Snowden, British chancellor of the exchequer, today delivered a rubber tired ultimatum to the German delegates to speed up the discussions on the final settlement of the reparations problem and the putting into operation of the Young plan.

"We cannot afford to waste any more time delaying over problems which must be settled, and must be settled quickly, with many delegates obliged to leave next week for the London naval conference," snapped the chancellor.

Then, breaking out in a big smile, he added: "I am sure our German friends are just as anxious to obtain a decision on the points at issue as we and our French friends are."

French, Germans Progress.

The conversation of Premier Tardieu and Foreign Minister Briand of France with Dr. Curtius, German foreign minister, and former German Chancellor Joseph Wirth made considerable progress. It was reported that they were framing an agreement for the insertion of a protocol giving France the safeguards she demands in case some future German government deliberately tears up the reparations agreement.

The French believe the German delegation will accept the phraseology under consideration if it can obtain concessions elsewhere and it has been promised that the whole question will be settled by tomorrow night.

The matter of the date on which Young plan reparation payments are to be made—the Germans want the end of the month and the French the 15th—is also near settlement, it is said, with Germany willing to agree to the middle of the month.

Discussions were broken off early so the delegates could hustle into tailcoats and high hats for Queen Wilhelmina's court tonight, when a musical program has been arranged.

Plan Huge World Bond Issue.

Preliminary conversations among the French, British, and German delegates have begun over the flotation of the first reparations loan as soon as the international bank can be organized. It is predicted here that eight hundred million marks (about $190,400,000) in bonds will be issued in the world money markets in the early spring. The details of this issue will be settled when Jackson E. Reynolds of New York, Melvin A. Traylor of Chicago, and Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the Reichsbank, arrive here on Sunday.

Hague Talks Alarm Germany.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Jan. 9.—Official and unofficial Germany is complaining bitterly tonight that they see no chance of getting a fair deal at the Hague, and that the Young plan, devised with the help of American business experts, is being sadly vitiated by politicians.

It is being complained that England is interested only in the forthcoming naval conference in London and negotiations with America, and to get through with the Hague reparations conference as quickly as possible it is allowing France to slip the dangerous clauses of the Versailles treaty into the Young plan.

The change to the middle of the month for the German reparation payments increases these by $200,000. This and a few other details which have transpired from the Hague alarm Germany. It fears that the changes will undermine the position of the financial chiefs responsible for the country's currency.

The German press is unanimous in the demand "that representatives of the government refuse to sign an agreement which in no way is identical with the Young plan, but continue to negotiate until the fundamental principles of sound business sense which inspired the Young plan is reincorporated in the document being drawn up at present."

GUNMEN GET $85 IN STORE.

BANK EMPLOYE IS JAILED FOR $32,000 SHORTAGE

Sidney G. Stedman, 1323 Winnemac avenue, assistant manager of the real estate department of the Sheridan Trust and Savings bank, was held at the detective bureau last night on a charge of embezzling approximately $32,000 from the bank. The police said Stedman admitted the shortage in his accounts and blamed it on recent losses in the stock market.

The warrant for Stedman's arrest was obtained by Harold W. Van Loan, assistant cashier of the bank, who said the shortage was discovered last Saturday. Van Loan said that since that time an audit of Stedman's accounts has been made by the United States Fidelity and Guaranty company confirming the original discovery.

Stedman will be arraigned in the South State street court today before Judge Joseph Schulman, who issued the warrant.

DORR PICTURED AS SLAYER IN QUEST OF MONEY

State's Evidence Shows Shortage in Accounts.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Clarence Williams, burglary, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary; Maurice Heidebrand and Arthur Golden, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life each in the penitentiary by Judge John P. McGoorty.

James E. Mendenhall, embezzlement, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary; Louis Brown and Frank Miller, robbery, sentenced to 1 to 20 years each in Pontiac reformatory by Judge Harry Fisher.

William Johnson, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary by Judge Jacob Hopkins.

Evidence of murder for money rather than murder for love was presented by the state in the packed courtroom of Judge Harry B. Miller yesterday in the trial of Samuel Howard Dorr.

In an effort to strip the slaying of William J. O'Brien, on Nov. 20, of every tinge of romance, the state set about to prove that Dorr shot his tenant, O'Brien, not because he loved Mrs. O'Brien, and not, as the defense contends, because he wanted to protect her from her husband, but because he wanted her husband's insurance money to get himself out of financial difficulties.

Romance Less Appealing.

The "romance" between the defendant and Genevieve O'Brien, wife of the slain man, which has been, so to speak, the box office attraction for the trial and which has drawn thousands of spectators during the week of Dorr's appearance in court, grew a shade or two less appealing in the face of cold recitals of figures which indicated what amount Dorr, the insurance salesman, was behind in his accounts.

Abraham Lapine, attorney for the Continental Casualty company and the Continental Assurance company, for which Dorr was agent, testified that Dorr had a shortage of between $2,400 and $2,500 in his accounts.

On Nov. 14 or Nov. 15, Lapine testified, Dorr brought to him his contracts for the purchase of his two flat building at 7328 South Maplewood avenue. That was the building occupied by the Dorrs and the O'Briens.

He was to turn over to the company his equity in the building, which amounted to about $3,000, and if examination of his books disclosed an ability to pay $100 a month to the companies he could thereby regain his equity and renew his contract with the company as an agent, which had been cancelled, Lapine said.

The two policies, each for $2,500, which Dorr had sold O'Brien as insurance on O'Brien's life, were introduced and identified by Lapine. Genevieve O'Brien, who now is in the county jail awaiting trial for the murder of her husband, was named the beneficiary in each.

The state contends that Dorr, through his alleged intimacy with Mrs. O'Brien, could profit from the insurance. Lapine said no claim had been filed for their payment.

On Nov. 19, the day before the shooting of O'Brien, Dorr closed an account he held jointly with his wife, Rose, in the Commonwealth Trust and Savings bank, and opened a checking account in his own name to the amount of $29.50 and a savings account in his own name for $1.02, it was testified by Howard A. Levy, cashier of that bank. Two notes totaling $300 were due Nov. 14 and 15, and the bank was pressing Dorr for payment, Levy testified, and a third, for $300, would have been due Dec. 23.

XMAS BOMBER IS CHARGED WITH MURDER OF THREE

Washington, D. C., Jan. 9.—[Special.]—A warrant charging first degree murder was sworn out today for Lawrence Leroy Brady, 26 year old Washington auto mechanic, in connection with the New Year's day bombing at Seat Pleasant, Md. He will be arraigned at a preliminary hearing tomorrow.

Brady is the brother-in-law of Naomi Hall Brady, secret bride and expectant mother, who, with two children of her family, was killed when the bomb, disguised as a Christmas gift, was opened.

Lieut. Joseph T. Itzel, Baltimore detective in charge of the investigation, revealed that Leroy's brother, Herman Brady, husband of the dead woman, would be released from the Marlboro jail tonight, adding that Herman would be a state's witness against his brother.

Itzel declared that Herman would testify he believed his brother had constructed the death dealing device and had personally delivered it. The statement, signed by Herman, he said, disclosed that Leroy had become angry with Herman when he learned of his secret marriage.

RENTS ROOM; ENDS LIFE.

Herman Reese, 45 years old, committed suicide yesterday by inhaling gas in the room which he rented on Wednesday night at 4309 North Tripp avenue. Mrs. Albert Brattain, the landlady, said Reese told her he had come here from Kansas City.

BUGS MORAN SEES INSIDE OF CELL 1ST TIME IN 2 YEARS

George (Bugs) Moran, north side gang leader, and his lieutenant, Leo Mongoven, spent four hours in a cell at the detective bureau yesterday after they had been arrested in the lobby of the Hotel Sherman by Detectives Roy Van Herik and William Murphy. They were released on $1,400 bonds each on charges of disorderly conduct and vagrancy after a petition for a writ of habeas corpus had been filed in Judge Otto Kerner's court and later withdrawn.

When Van Herik and Murphy approached the gang leader in the hotel lobby, Moran asked who they were and when they displayed their stars he replied:

"Stars don't mean nothing. Fellows with badges like that killed seven men up on Clark street on Valentine day. Besides, my name ain't Moran. It's George Q. Johnson."

Moran balked at riding to the detective bureau in a patrol wagon and was taken there in a taxicab when he agreed to pay the fare. The police said it was Moran's first imprisonment in nearly two years. Mongoven, however, was arrested about a week ago and held for several hours, after the police raided Moran's loop headquarters at 127 North Dearborn street.

U. OF MISSOURI CENSURED IN SEX QUESTIONS CASE

Professors Say Faculty Dismissal Unfair.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 9.—(AP)—President Stratton Duluth Brooks and the board of curators of the University of Missouri have been severely censured by a special committee of the Association of University Professors as a result of the controversy over a sex questionnaire at that institution last year.

The censure, announced tonight by the association, was returned after an investigation into the disciplining of two members of the university faculty "because of their sanction" of the questionnaire circulated among students.

The association said the inquiry had been undertaken at the request of President Brooks, many members of the faculty, and students in the courses of Prof. Harmon O. Degraff, who was dismissed last April on account of the questionnaire. Prof. Max F. Meyer was suspended.

Statement Issued.

The committee's conclusion, as revealed in a statement issued preliminary to publication in the February bulletin of the association, was:

"For the board of curators to decree the most severe punishment within its power, dismissal and suspension without pay, for this alleged 'offense' [trivial, if any], is under the present circumstances a clear breach of the principles of freedom of teaching and research and security of tenure in the university."

Members of the committe of inquiry were Profs. A. J. Carlson and L. L. Thurstone of the University of Chicago; Percy Bordwell of the University of Iowa, and J. H. Gray of the American university at Washington.

Questions Were Approved.

Alluding to the actions against Degraff and Meyer as having been taken without notice to them "and without preferment of definite charges," the statement said the questionnaire had related to "the changing economic status of women, the sexual code and the moral ideas concerning the family." Both professors approved the questions and several hundred copies were distributed among students with instructions to answer them anonymously.

"There is little or no evidence that any student receiving the questionnaire was shocked or insulted by it. There is no evidence that the questionnaire led to sexual immorality on the part of the students. Apparently, before the publicity, the questionnaire was taken by the students for what it purported to be, a scientific inquiry.

"The evidence is in agreement on the point that the sex matters and sex problems brought up by the questionnaire are familiar or known not only to the students in the University of Missouri but practically to every high school graduate before entering the University of Missouri."

DRY SPIES FIRE ON 2 FLEEING MEN AND THEN BEAT ONE UP

Bowdle, S. D., Jan. 9.—(AP)—George Ruark, federal prohibition agent, and J. S. Guinan, special investigator, were bound over to the next term of Circuit court after a preliminary hearing here yesterday on charges of assault with dangerous weapons.

E. J. Blumhardt, Bowdle implement dealer, who made the complaint, testified at the hearing that he and A. S. Bell, Bowdle veterinarian, were stopped by Ruark and Guinan as they were leaving the Ben O'Leary farm. Believing themselves in danger of a holdup, he said they attempted to escape in their automobile, but stopped when fired upon.

Blumhardt asserted Guinan jumped on the running board, causing the car to go into the ditch, and then beat him with a "loaded stick." He and Bell were taken back to the O'Leary farm, where he said the officers made a liquor raid.

Ruark and Guinan had been guarding the O'Leary farm. Ruark said he stopped Blumhardt's automobile to determine whether it was carrying liquor or evidence from the farm. No liquor was found in the car.

QUAKE IN FRANCE; WINDLESS SEAS SWEEP SHORES

BREST, France, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Extremely heavy seas washed the coast of Brittany tonight from Brest to Lorient, the visitation coming in the wake of earthquakes which lasted from three to sixteen seconds. The phenomena shook the morale of the population, inured though the people are to freaks of the ocean. What disturbed them tonight was that there was no wind to account for the waves.

Many fishermen, recently returned from the Newfoundland banks where there were seismic disturbances a few months ago, averred that the Atlantic has "gone crazy."

No loss of life was reported from any place along the coast. Several houses collapsed when the earth quivered under the seismic shocks. Comparatively little damage was done by the waves.

France Declares Cruiser on Algerian Rocks Total Loss

ORAN, Algeria, Jan. 9.—(AP)—The French cruiser Edgar Quinet, which ran aground on a submerged and uncharted rock off the coast of Algeria several days ago, was declared officially to be a total loss by the ministry of marine tonight. There were no casualties.

HOUSE MEMBERS DISAGREE ON WAR DEPARTMENT CUT

Hoover's Economy Plans Draw Crossfires.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 9.—(AP)—President Hoover's plan to economize on war department expenditures found support and opposition in the house today during general debate on the 450 million dollar supply bill of that government branch.

The recommendation of the house appropriations committee, submitted by Representative Barbour [Rep., Cal.], that the activities be reorganized and curtailed to effect economy, was met by the declaration of Representative Snell [Rep., N. Y.] that "this country will never cut down its army."

La Guardia Criticizes Planes.

The army's multi-motored airplanes were described as unsafe by Representative La Guardia [Rep., N. Y.], a world war aviator with the American forces in Italy. The multi-motored planes, La Guardia said, were supposed to provide reserve power, but they needed all their power to keep them in the air, and single motored planes in the army service were safer.

La Guardia referred to the recent crash at Bolling field here, in which Representative Kaynor of Massachusetts and four companions were killed after taking off for a flight before the Christmas holidays, as having brought facts on the multi-motored planes to the floor of the house.

Approved by Subcommittee.

The bill being considered calls for an outlay of $442,000 greater than that for the present year. Barbour, chairman of the subcommittee that drafted the bill, said his group approved the economic survey of the war department instituted by the chief executive and based its recommendations on the experience of the committee.

U. S., Canadian, and British Bankers Start Mexico Tour

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 9.—(AP)—A group of American, Canadian, and English bankers arrived here today on an inspection trip during which they will study economic and banking conditions in Mexico. The party, which expects to say a fortnight, included Frederick Fulton and Ramsay Wilbert Ward of the National City bank of New York.

POWER UTILITY GROUPS DEFEND WORK IN SCHOOLS

File Answer to Publicity Charges.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 9. — (AP) — Counsel for power utility associations completed today their answer to testimony previously gathered by the federal trade commission on the dissemination of utility pamphlets in schools and sought unsuccessfully to develop their reply to charges of seeking to influence editorial opinion through excessive advertising expenditures.

The latter line of testimony was ended abruptly during the reading by B. F. Weadock, counsel for the joint committee of National Utility associations, of an analysis of utility advertising expenditures. This said the total newspaper advertising cost of 1928 was $8,425,320, contrasted with the estimates of about $30,000,000 presented by previous witnesses.

Temporarily Denied.

The commission held that the analysis, prepared by William H. Hodge, vice president and manager of advertising for the Byllesby Engineering and Management corporation, was not competent evidence, but reserved the right to admit it later after study by its own counsel.

The same ruling was made in connection with an historical review of the Muscle Shoals development, which was advanced by Weadock. Commissioner McCulloch, who presided, held this was not pertinent.

Authorities Consulted.

In summing up the school phase of the utility case, Weadock said that in all of the states where schools had been supplied with utility pamphlets these had been submitted to responsible school authorities. No effort had been made to hide the source, he said, and in only one state had government ownership been mentioned.

Listing each publication, Weadock specifically asserted that it contained no direct reference to public ownership. He said, however, that some schools had received at their own request other publications not primarily intended for them which contained discussion of government ownership.

Sunday School Teacher's Accounts Short; Arrested

New York, Jan. 9.—[Special.]—T. Edward Jarrell, 26 years old, Methodist Sunday school teacher and cashier of the Plaza National bank of White Plains, was arrested, arraigned and held for the grand jury today on charges preferred by President Edwin P. Day of the bank that his accounts are $31,000 short. Day said Jarrell had been playing the stock market. The specific charge was misappropriation of $5,000 two days before Christmas.

DEMOCRATS MAY START MEYERING IN SHERIFF RACE

Await Traeger Decision on Running Again.

Organization Democrats said yesterday that the best bet concerning the slate making that is to start with the county central committee meeting this afternoon is that Capt. William D. Meyering, now alderman of the 8th ward, will be the regular candidate for sheriff in the April primary.

The one condition stipulated in the offer of wagers was that Sheriff Traeger will not choose to run again. The constitution prescribes that no sheriff shall be eligible to reelection at the expiration of his terms, but Traeger was elected because of a vacancy, to a short term and has received one opinion that the ban does not apply to his case.

If Traeger steps aside, it is said, Meyering will be chosen because of his record in the city council and because of the race he ran for secretary of state in 1928. He led all the state candidates on the Democratic ticket and in Cook county ran ahead of Alfred E. Smith. In the world war he lost his right hand.

On the Republican side there is also likelihood of a service man as a candidate for sheriff. Friends of Maj. Carlos Ames, a veteran of the 86th division, now chairman of the city civil service commission, are urging his potentialities.

At Springfield Justus L. Johnson of Aurora announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for congressman at large.

Capture 3 Yeggmen After Gun Fight on Housetops

Newark, N. J., Jan. 9.—(AP)—Three men who were surprised tonight while attempting to blow the safe in a branch office of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company were captured by police after a running gun battle across rooftops. One of the yeggmen was shot through the leg and another surrendered after he had emptied his gun. The third, who escaped, was found a few minutes later in bed in his room, 60 feet from the roof where the three tried to stand off the police.

The purpose of the demonstration is to further the feeling of peace between the two nations.

SAYS HOOVER AID TRIED TO SETTLE SUGAR DUTY ROW

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 9.—[Special.]—Evidence of White House attempts to compromise the sugar tariff controversy in congress was given to the senate's lobby investigating committee today by R. L. Purdon, a sugar expert of the commerce department's bureau of foreign and domestic commerce.

At the height of the squabble between domestic and Cuban sugar interests, Purdon testified, Walter H. Newton, one of President Hoover's secretaries, requested several government bureaus, including Purdon's, to study the practicability of the so-called sliding scale plan of duties.

Transmitted to Smoot.

The result of his studies, Purdon said, was "five or six" different proposals, which were submitted to Mr. Newton and by the latter transmitted to Senator Reed Smoot [Rep., Utah], chairman of the senate finance committee. Subsequently Senator Smoot assigned him, Purdon continued, to the task of bringing the conflicting sugar interests to agreement on a sugar schedule, but the effort was futile, and the senator finally abandoned the sliding scale scheme entirely.

"Everybody was making sliding scales of their own," declared Purdon.

"What became of those you proposed?" asked Senator T. H. Caraway [Dem., Ark.], chairman of the committee.

Still Has His Sliding Scales.

"I still have them," answered Purdon, joining the wave of laughter which went up.

Purdon denied that any of the information contained in the "highly confidential" memorandum addressed to Junior Owens, secretary of the American Bottlers of Carbonated Beverages, by William H. Baldwin, New York publicity man, concerning Purdon's work on sliding scales at the request of "the White House," was in reality confidential and that all of it would have been given to any one who sought it.

Baldwin undertook a $50,000 publicity campaign against increased sugar duties, operating in the name of the bottlers' association, but financed by the Coca Cola company and the Hershey company, producers and refiners of Cuban sugar.

Calls It Just Hocus Pocus.

"I think after listening to some of the testimony before this committee," said Maurice Mermey, one of Baldwin's aids, called to the stand today, "that the word 'confidential' is one of the most abused words in the vocabulary. 'Confidential' is like the robe and hood in a fraternal order—just hocus pocus to add atmosphere and greater importance to communications."

"Then you people use it to impress your employers with the fact you have dug up some real stuff?" asked Senator Caraway.

"Well, I won't argue that," answered Mermey. "But, senator, we did do some real work on this job."

Mermey's Memory Fails.

Mermey willingly admitted having written the "confidential" memorandum, analyzing the attitudes of the Republican members of the senate finance committee toward sugar rates, but his memory failed him when he attempted to recall who told him that Senator D. A. Reed [Rep., Pa.], "thinking in terms of pig iron," probably would "trade in Pennsylvania's interest," or that Senator C. S. Deneen [Rep., Ill.], faced with a stiff fight from Representative Ruth Hanna McCormick in the coming senatorial primary, is "a fatalist in politics," who "should be a Presbyterian, but isn't."

Mermey asserted he was not sure whether it was David J. Lewis, former member of the tariff commission, or some one else who told him that the "Republican insurgent group" in the senate "did not expect to get their sugar bounty plan through, but were sponsoring it merely to help themselves politically."

Praises Insurgent Group.

"Do you still have that opinion of the insurgent group?" asked Senator T. J. Walsh [Dem., Mont.].

"O, certainly not," protested Mermey. "I have the highest regard for the insurgent group."

"Well," asked Senator Walsh, when the laughter died down, "when did you change your mind?"

"Almost immediately after I wrote that letter," answered Mermey.

INJECT PHILIPPINE INDEPENDENCE TALK INTO TARIFF DEBATE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 9.—[Special.]—The Philippine independence question was injected into the sugar duty controversy today when debate on the proposed increase commenced on the floor of the senate.

Senator Vandenberg [Rep., Mich.], who favors the increase in duty urged by beet and cane sugar interests, raised the Philippine independence issue. He said that the admission of sugar free from the Philippines was a serious menace to the domestic industry. Disclaiming any intention of advocating independence for the Philippines, he insisted that the competition suffered by American agriculture from sugar and vegetable oils had stimulated the independence movement in the United States.

Senator Ransdell [Dem., La.], on behalf of the Louisiana cane sugar industry, urged the house bill rates of 3 cents per pound on full duty sugar and 2.40 cents on Cuban sugar.

"Under present tariff rates," he said, "the domestic sugar industry is greatly depressed, and that condition will be greatly aggravated unless relief is granted. Based upon present conditions and future prospects, a tariff rate of at least 2.40 cents against Cuba is necessary."

Senator Harrison [Dem., Miss.] offered an amendment to provide for retention of present rates of 2.20 cents per pound on full duty sugar and 1.76 cents on Cuban sugar. Senator Harrison opposed any increase in duty in a radio speech tonight.

Paroled Convict Shot as He Flees from Police

Andrew Marshall, 41 years old, 2238 West 19th street, a paroled convict, was in the Bridewell hospital with a bullet wound in his left leg as a result of an attempt to escape from two policemen who arrested him on a robbery charge. Policemen Martin Goldman and John Woods of the Marquette station went to Marshall's home after Robert Cuchra had told the police that Marshall tried to rob him in his soft drink parlor at 2101 West 18th place. While they were waiting for a patrol wagon, Marshall broke away and was shot as he fled.

RIVERS, HARBORS LEGISLATION TO COME UP TODAY

Illinois Project Awaits Engineers' Report.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 9.—[Special.]—Consideration of rivers and harbors legislation, which is expected to incorporate an authorization for the use of federal funds to complete the Illinois state waterway, gets under way tomorrow before the house committee on rivers and harbors. Brig. Gen. Herbert Deakyne, assistant chief of engineers, will be the first witness and will discuss the status of various projects which were included in the rivers and harbors bill which failed of passage in the last congress.

Discussion of the Illinois waterway project will be deferred until the army engineers' report is received. This report is now being reviewed in the office of the chief of engineers and will be submitted to congress within the next two weeks.

Increase Is Requested.

Representative W. E. Hull [Rep., Ill.], a member of the house rivers and harbors committee, today asked President Hoover to urge an increase in appropriations for river and harbor work above the $55,000,000 carried in the pending army appropriation bill. It was asserted by Representative Hull that if the Mississippi waterway system is to be completed within five years, as favored by the President, the appropriation should be increased to $75,000,000. An additional $20,000,000 would be included in a deficiency bill under Mr. Hull's proposal.

The army engineers have already tentatively allotted the 1931 appropriation of $55,000,000 without allowing for new projects which may be authorized in the proposed rivers and harbors bill.

Illinois Cause Strengthened.

The situation with respect to the Illinois waterway is regarded as in good shape in both the house rivers and harbors committee and the senate committee on commerce. Yesterday's action of the Republican committee on committees, of which Senator Charles S. Deneen [Rep., Ill.] is a member, in adding Senators Henry Allen [Rep., Kas.] and R. B. Howell [Rep., Neb.] to the committee on commerce, has strengthened the Illinois waterway forces considerably on that committee.

4,700 COOK COUNTY FARM OWNERS DEMAND REDUCTION IN TAXES

Led by O. G. Barrett, federal farm adviser, 35 representatives of 4,700 Cook county farmers appeared before the board of assessors yesterday to demand an average cut of 40 per cent on the valuation of their farms as fixed under the reassessment. They charged that the valuations against the farms had been made on mythical subdivision values.

"If the taxes are more than the returns," Mr. Barrett said, "a great injustice will be done the farmers of the county. Sales will be forced and great harm done."

Harry S. Cutmore, director of the reassessment, replied that the assessors are not auditors and cannot take income into consideration in making valuations. He added that the country town districts have evaded payment on fair property valuation in the past. The complaints were taken under advisement.

STATE TO SPEND GAS TAX MONEY ON MAIN ROADS

The state of Illinois will follow a policy of developing Cook county roads which are of county-wide importance, Director Harry Cleaveland of the department of public works and buildings declared yesterday after a conference at Springfield with Frank T. Sheets, chief highway engineer.

Fear had been expressed in some quarters that the state, in spending Cook county's share of the gasoline tax, would spread the money upon new and narrow highways instead of using the funds to widen present main thoroughfares. Mr. Cleaveland's statement seemed to remove this possibility. His declaration, while applying specifically to Cook county, outlined the policy which will be followed throughout the state.

"Judgment must be used, of course, in following a general policy," said Mr. Cleaveland. "In general, we will favor the selection of streets which may be improved in such a manner that the general public will have free and unrestricted use of the pavement for moving vehicles. This means that streets without street car tracks will be favored.

"It is imperative that the streets selected for improvement be logical continuations of state aid roads coming up to the city limits."

BERAN DENIES GETTING SLOT RING'S BRIBES

Frank J. Beran, police custodian, denied yesterday in Judge Otto Kerner's court that he had received any bribe money to return confiscated slot machines to the so-called slot machine syndicate headed by James [High Pockets] O'Brien. The case will be submitted to the jury today.

David C. Rockola, "crown prince" of the syndicate in the days when it operated unmolested, testified that he had left envelopes containing approximately $250 on a desk in the custodian's office. He did not say, however, that Beran received the money or that he had any arrangement with him for such procedure. He did admit getting back some of his slot machines. Rockola was sentenced to six months in jail for refusal to testify during the slot machine trial of Dr. William H. Reid, six police captains, and other defendants.

Beran testified that he did return some machines. He said, however, that they were not slot machines, but so-called "skill" machines. The returns, he testified, were made on regular police department orders after an injunction was issued.

REMICK APPOINTMENT CONFIRMED.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 9.—(AP)—The senate today confirmed the nomination of James Waldron Remick of New Hampshire to be arbiter of war claims.

KINSMAN LINKS MAYOR HALE TO LIQUOR GRAFT

East Chicago Police Chief Accused at Trial.

Mayor Raleigh P. Hale of East Chicago accepted booze graft money; Chief of Police James Regan told his officers to "forget" about the saloons they had raided, and the combination resulted in almost no dry enforcement in the twin towns of East Chicago and Indiana Harbor, Ind. This was the gist of yesterday's testimony before Federal Judge Slick at Hammond, where the two officials and 26 others are on trial for liquor conspiracy.

John Burhop, a nephew by marriage of Mayor Hale, was the mayor's principal accuser. A former policeman, Burhop said he had resigned from the force in East Chicago in June, 1928, to collect money from a string of small liquor dealers in the two towns. He first collected $600 from four Mexican saloonkepers, he testified.

"And what did you do with this money?" asked United States Attorney Oliver Loomis.

Says He Gave Hale Money.

"I gave it to Dr. Hale (Mayor Hale is a practicing physician) as he sat in his car in front of the police station," said Burhop.

Under further questioning, Burhop, who is 24 years old and a stepson of Dr. A. G. Schliecker, whose wife is a sister of Mrs. Hale, testified that before he left the force Chief Regan told him to "lay off" the beer trucks if he saw any while cruising the town on his motorcycle. He ran two saloons of his own while wearing a uniform, he said, and resigned only to organize the payoff syndicate.

The defense contends that Burhop was forced to leave the force on the instigation of the mayor, who learned of some shady dealings in which his nephew was engaged. Burhop admitted on cross-examination that he is now under sentence for contributing to the delinquency of a girl.

Told to "Forget," He Says.

Former Police Capt. James Kirrin testified of repeated instances when, after certain bootleg places had been raided, Chief Regan instructed him to "forget them" and said "don't take the files to court." He raided a brewery in September, 1927, Kirrin said, and was immediately transferred to desk duty by Regan and the case was dropped.

Kirrin's testimony was partly corroborated by Steve Fano, a former patrolman, who said he had once mentioned the existence of a large still to Mayor Hale, only to be told to "forget it." Fano said Regan later asked him to resign and that when he refused he was discharged.

Sergt. Vincent Crawford testified that Capt. Kirrin had told him to "orget" about several liquor cases, and the prosecution inferred that Kirrin was only echoing the chief.

The testimony closed after Deputy County Prosecutor Wayne McDaniels, assigned to the East Chicago court, and City Judge Michael Havern had taken the stand to tell of legal changes in the method of issuing search warrants. McDaniels said Regan had suggested the change and the defense questioned him in an attempt to show that the chief made the change because information of raids was being circulated before the officers had served the warrants.

JUDGE STARTS QUIZ INTO METHODS USED IN BOOK SHOP CASES

Municipal Judge Herbert G. Immenhausen, in Morals court, yesterday launched an inquiry into the methods of obtaining evidence against booksellers in the sale of allegedly obscene literature when informed that the law provided that half the fine resulting from such prosecutions shall go to the investigator who got the evidence.

A case involving Miss Marion Mathes, 26 years old, 15 East Erie street, clerk in a bookstore at 500 North Michigan avenue, caused this feature of the law to be brought to Judge Immenhausen's attention. Miss Mathes was seized on a John Doe warrant sworn out after investigators for the Rev. Philip Yarrow of the Illinois Vigilance association asserted they bought an obscene book in the shop, which is owned by P. A. Stephens. Policeman Olaf Gustafson could not find Stephens, so arrested Miss Mathes instead.

"I think the state's attorney's office should be very careful in these cases," said Judge Immenhausen. "In fact, I think it would be better to go to the source of supposed obscene literature, the publishers, rather than prefer charges against the sellers."

QUO WARRANTO SUIT HITS NEW MAYOR OF GARY

Gary's mayoralty tangle was transferred to a new field yesterday when all previous court actions were dismissed and quo warranto proceedings were filed against Mayor Roswell O. Johnson, whose election has been attacked on the ground that he was sentenced to a federal prison for violation of the dry laws. Mayor Johnson remained at home during the day on the orders of his physician, who cautioned him against the danger of a nervous collapse.

In addition to the quo warranto suit, Mayor Johnson faces the necessity of obtaining funds to meet the city's next pay roll. The general fund held only $3,500 when he took office on Monday.

The quo warranto suit was filed in the Lake county Circuit court at Crown Point by Emmet White, defeated Democratic candidate for mayor. It was entered on the records after suits under the declaratory judgment act, filed by White and former Mayor Henry G. Hay, had been dismissed in the Lake and Porter county courts.

BOY, 12, SPURNS MOTHER IN TRIAL OF KIDNAP CASE

Raymond Klassen Jr., 12 years old, yesterday chose to remain in Chicago with his father, rather than return to St. Louis to his mother and his stepfather, who, he said, were cruel to him. The boy made his choice in the Town Hall court when his father was arraigned on a warrant charging him with kidnaping the boy.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Francis Anderson, of St. Louis, obtained the warrant several days ago, claiming that Klassen, whom she divorced three years ago, took Raymond from the Cedar hotel, 1118 North State street, while she was visiting there. Klassen denied the charge, claiming that the boy had come to him from St. Louis voluntarily. Mrs. Anderson was not present yesterday when the boy made his choice and the hearing was continued until today to give her an opportunity to present her side of the case.

ASKS CANADA TO FOLLOW HOOVER TRADE BODY LEAD

Richest Man in Dominion Is for U. S. Measure.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Jan. 9.—That Canada should take action along the lines promulgated by President Hoover recently in calling government and business leaders together for the maintenance of business prosperity, and forming a council to that end, was advocated here today by Sir Herbert Holt, president of the Royal Bank of Canada, at the annual meeting of the bank.

Sir Herbert is rated as Canada's richest man, and is associated with numerous financial and industrial organizations.

Praises Hoover's Mobilization.

"The prompt action of the President of the United States," said Sir Herbert, "in the recent crisis in securing the coöperation of the national and state governments in a program of general construction, proved effective in allaying the fears of the public, and convinced them of the feasibility of maintaining business at normal levels, by going further and securing the active coöperation of industrial leadership throughout the country.

"President Hoover has established the practicability of mobilizing the nation to secure stability. The success of this movement was due to leadership that understood the customs and psychology of business.

Demands Advisory Trade Body.

"There is no question but that Canada should profit by this example. It is essentially a British tradition that capable and successful leaders from all lines of industry should advise and assist the government when their services are required. It would be to the advantage of the country to establish a nonpartisan advisory council composed of men of outstanding ability, representative of industry, agriculture and labor. This council would bring about a closer approachment between government, industry, agriculture and labor that would assist the formulation and execution of effective measures for the maintenance of that equilibrium which would insure stable prosperity."

C. E. Neill, vice president and managaing director of the Royal Bank of Canada, urged action that would encourage American tourists to buy "dry" goods in Canada as well as "wet" goods. He said that if Americans per capita bought in Canada one-tenth they did each year in France it would add a billion dollars to Canada's trade.

MYSTERIOUS UNDERSEA "LIGHTNING" IS SEEN OFF COAST OF BURMA

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

RANGOON, Jan. 9.—A remarkable phenomenon likened to submarine "lightning" was reported on his arrival here by the captain of the British India steamer Talma.

In passing through the Gulf of Martaban on Dec. 28, in fine weather, he says, the vessel entered an area of numerous small phosphorescent globules which rose from below, breaking on the surface. Later they resembled vivid flashes of lightning under water, but they rapidly formed dazzling beams, radiating under the steamer in curved lines 30 feet wide and revolving to the right and left from a center five miles away.

The ship's compass was not affected, and no difference was noticed in the steering but the engine's revolutions dropped, which leads the captain to suggest that the phenomenon, which lasted 15 minutes, probably was due to volcanic disturbance.

WED BY PROXY, HUSBAND SAYS; ASKS DIVORCE

Benny Wysther, 22 years old, 10724 South Wabash avenue, filed a bill for divorce in the Superior court yesterday against his wife, Rose, 29 years old, whom he is alleged to have married by proxy when he was in short pants at the age of 15. He charges cruelty, alleging that his wife threw chairs and china at him.

The Wysthers were married at Crown Point, Ind., on Sept. 26, 1922. Wysther was not present at the ceremony, according to the bill. It alleges that he sat in an automobile while his bride went through the service with a stranger, whom she had hired for the occasion for $15 because Benny was too young to go through the ritual. The stranger took the liberty of changing the boy's first name from Zenny to Benny, Wysther complains. They never saw him again.

The Wysthers separated in June, 1923. They have a daughter, Mildred, 5 years old. Mrs. Wysther lives at 127 East 118th street.

You wouldn't care to meet Marvin

MONEY. Charm. Ability. In all New York there was no abler man in his field. Yet people called him "the prince of pariahs."

Men thought him a great fellow—for a little while. Women grew romantic about him—until they knew. People welcomed him at first—then dropped him as though he were an outcast.

Poor Marvin, yearning so for companionship and always denied it. Poor Marvin, ignorant of his nickname and ignorant, likewise, of the foundation for it.

Halitosis (unpleasant breath) is the damning, unforgivable, social fault. It doesn't announce its presence to its victims. Consequently it is the last thing people suspect themselves of having—but it ought to be the first.

For halitosis is a definite daily threat to all. And for very obvious reasons, physicians explain. So slight a matter as a decaying tooth may cause it. Or an abnormal condition of the gums. Or fermenting food particles skipped by the tooth brush. Or minor nose and throat infections. Or excesses of eating, drinking and smoking.

Intelligent people recognize the risk and minimize it by the regular use of full strength Listerine as a mouth wash and gargle. Night and morning. And between times before meeting others.

Listerine quickly checks halitosis because Listerine is an effective antiseptic and germicide which immediately strikes at the cause of odors. Furthermore, it is a powerful deodorant, capable of overcoming even the scent of onion and fish.

Keep Listerine handy in home and office. Carry it when you travel. Take it with you on your vacation. It is better to be safe than snubbed.

EX-ROADHOUSE OWNER JAILED AS AUTO VICTIM DIES

Mike Crowe, Freed After Accident, Rearrested.

Michael Crowe, former owner of the Peep o' Day roadhouse, was rearrested by the Summerdale police yesterday after John Shea, 45 years old, 1331 Granville avenue, a crippled watchman, who was struck by an automobile owned by Crowe, died in the Rogers Park hospital.

The automobile struck Shea at Ardmore avenue and Broadway on Sunday and crashed into another car in which Bernard Camden, 6817 Lakewood avenue, and Francis L. Daily, 6256 Winthrop avenue, were riding and then sped away. When Crowe's car was found later Camden and Daily identified it as the machine that had struck Shea.

Crowe was arrested in his room in the Birchmont hotel with Miss Florence Torrey, 7719 North Paulina street, in whose name the license was issued. She said she did not own the car, but had permitted Crowe to use her name in applying for the license. She was fined $100 last March after she had driven the same car into a house.

Crowe was booked on a charge of assault with an automobile and released on bond. The police say they have witnesses who have named Crowe as the driver of the car.

An inquest on Shea's death will be held today at 6222 Broadway.

Shea's death and two others raised the 1930 Cook county motor toll to 18. The other victims:

John Mitchell, 58 years old, 2017 Cottage Grove avenue. Died at the county hospital of injuries suffered on Christmas day when he was struck by a taxicab at 26th street and Prairie avenue.

Will Brown, 63 years old, colored, 29 East 43d street. Died in the county hospital of injuries received when he was struck by a hit and run motorist on Jan. 2.

Pies were strewn along the right of way of the Pennsylvania railroad at 104th street when a passenger train struck a pie truck driven a Benjamin Shapiro, 37 years old, 3419 Flournoy street. Shapiro was stlightly injured.

MEXICO SQUIRMS IN POLITICAL CRISIS AS RUBIO RUSHES HOME

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Just when Mexico's political house seemed in order, old differences within the majority bloc of congress have followed a hastily patched up truce and have created a situation which, while not necessarily presaging grave difficulties, constitutes a problem of serious concern.

The political crisis had drawn the attention of President Elect Pascual Ortiz Rubio, who is cutting short his visit to the United States with the announcement that his wife's health makes it advisable to return to Mexico City.

Grand Canyon, Ariz., Jan. 9.—(AP)—President Elect and Senora Pascual Ortiz Rubio of Mexico spent several hours at the Grand canyon of the Colorado river here today. 4 BLASTS ROCK PHILADELPHIA; 30 ARE INJURED

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 9.— (AP) — More than thirty persons were injured, four seriously, by four explosions late today in the partly demolished Globe theater building at Market and Juniper streets, across from city hall.

The blasts, which followed upon a small fire in the ruins of the building, are believed to have been caused by a spark dropping into an acetylene tank.

Crowds of homeward bound office and store workers scattered at the first blast, but many were knocked to the ground by debris which was hurled high in the air. Many windows in city hall and other nearby buildings were shattered.

Mayor Harry A. Mackey, had just left his office in city hall, and his chauffeur, who was waiting for him outside the building, was slightly cut by flying glass. The mayor had not reached the street when the first explosion occurred.

PHONE GIRL FOILS BLACKMAILERS; 3 ARE ARRESTED

Jeffersonville, Ind., Jan. 9.—(AP)—A telephone operator today frustrated an alleged blackmail plot to extort $8,000 from Otho H. Wathen, wealthy distiller, and incidentally caused the arrest of a white man, a Negro and a Negro woman.

The telephone operator, warned by her superiors to keep track of all telephone calls to the Wathen home, intercepted one, traced the pay station from which it came and notified police. Officers made a hurried run to the pay station and arrested the Negro woman, who in turn implicated William Carroll, 35, white, and Robert Garrett, 20, Negro, all of Jeffersonville.

Mr. Wathen had reported to police that he had been warned by mail and telephone that failure to deliver $8,000 to the extortionists would result in injury to himself, his wife and two children.

SON SAYS HIS AGED MOTHER IS HELD FOR MONEY

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 9.—[Special.]—Charging that his 81 year old mother is being held prisoner by persons interested in her money, Norman T. Kirk, son of Mrs. Laura Jane Kirk, widow of wealthy Peoria, Ill., manufacturer, today appealed to the district attorney's office.

Mrs. Kirk disappeared from her son's home last June 1, and was located at the home of Mrs. A. A. Ham in Alhambra, Cal., on Aug. 7, after the son had appealed to authorities in Los Angeles, Pasadena, San Diego, and Illinois to search for her.

DR. SCHIRESON DEFIES COURT IN LICENSE BATTLE

At the close of the hearings before the medical committee of the state department of education and registration, Dr. Henry J. Schireson, facing revocation of his license, yesterday defied an order of the Circuit court commanding him to produce records of his previous operations.

Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom, through his assistant, Harry A. Ash, has petitioned the committee to revoke the medical license of Dr. Schireson, on the ground that the physician has committed fraud in procuring license, and that he was guilty of gross malpractice in the case of Miss Sadye Holland. Miss Holland lost both her legs following an operation for bow legs.

Try to Shift Blame.

Dr. Schireson and his counsel, Burrill J. Cramer and Benedict J. Short, have countered with the defense that Dr. Schireson did not perform the Holland operation, and they have produced papers identified as Dr. Schireson's office records to support this claim.

Attorney Ash informed the committee yesterday that he desired the records of other cases of Schireson's to be produced, in the belief that the physician had not made similar records in those cases, and that this would tend to dispute the authenticity of the Holland record.

At the morning session Mr. Ash served a subpoena duces tecum on Dr. Schireson, directing him to produce the records in 30 hospital cases similar to the Holland case. Attorney Cramer announced that the subpoena would not be obeyed.

During the noon adjournment, Mr. Ash appeared before Judge Stanley Klarkowski in the Circuit court, and obtained a court order directing Schireson to produce the records. At 2 o'clock, when the hearing was resumed before the medical committee, and after Schireson's attorneys had repeated they would not obey the subpoena, Mr. Ash served the formal court order upon the physician.

Attorney Short, after reading the court order, declared that Dr. Schireson as a physician could never disclose the confidential communications between himself and his patients; that a physician's relation with his patient was sacred and could not be disclosed even in court.

"We are not going to produce the records, now or at any other time," Mr. Short stated.

"You want that to go into the record, in the face of an order by the Circuit court of Cook county?" Mr. Ash asked.

"Paint it on the wall if you want to," Mr. Short stated.

Appeals to Committee.

Then the defense lawyer appealed to the physicians on the board, asking them if they desired to force another doctor to divulge the confidential relations between himself and his patients.

"There is no law in Illinois privileging the communications between doctors and patients," was the reply of Dr. M. L. Harris, chairman of the committee, who is also president of the American Medical association. "I have often been up against the same matter in court, and judges have always ruled that physicians must answer questions."

Offered Secrecy Pledge.

Attorney Ash offered to stipulate that no one should look at Schireson's records except the members of the committee, all of whom are physicians. Still Mr. Short and Mr. Cramer answered for their client that they would refuse to produce his records. When they asked for a delay in which to produce records, Mr. Ash replied that "books might be made overnight," and he declined to permit a delay.

When repeated questions showed that the records would not be produced Mr. Ash closed the case. Dr. Harris announced that both sides would present written arguments on the evidence; that the state would present its arguments by Jan. 14, and that the defense arguments would be presented by Jan. 16, after which the members of the committee will take the case of Dr. Schireson and their decision of whether his license shall be revoked or not under advisement.

THE DEATH PENALTY IN PROHIBITION.

More debate in congress over the shootings in dry law enforcement. No wonder. Up to the inauguration of our experiment of noble motive the American administration of justice has been influenced by the theory that it is better nine guilty escape than that one innocent should be wrongfully punished. Perhaps this was a mistake, but it comported with the humane sentiment of our people. Our criminal procedure surrounded the individual charged with crime with a meticulous concern for his rights and with about every conceivable safeguard against injustice. The defendant, though charged with the most heinous crime—cold blooded murder, rape, murderous assault, robbery of the most callous and mischievous character—when he is brought to bar finds himself hedged about with a bristling barrier of technicalities devised for his protection from injustice and assuring him from the beginning of his ordeal to its close every right and privilege of citizenship in a free society.

But prohibition enforcement indulges in no such humane excesses. It follows unblushingly a new doctrine, the opposite of the traditional policy of our criminal law—namely: that it is better nine innocent suffer than that one guilty of infraction of the prohibitory laws escape summary punishment. The agents of government concerned with the operation of the experiment of noble motive shoot and maim on suspicion of guilt, inflicting by summary procedure upon innocent or guilty the extreme penalty.

If the individual murders, rapes, burns, or robs he may rely upon the rigid and elaborate restraints of the American system of justice. But if he comes under suspicion of infringing a dry law they are worthless to him. If a citizen on his lawful occasions becomes suspect and, being challenged, does not instantly obey, he may have a summary sentence of death passed upon him and be executed by a law enforcer, without trial.

Justification for this rule is offered in the theory that flight justifies any means to prevent it. This theory has not been in our law. Our law has held that against an individual who offers violent resistance whatever force is necessary to protect the officer of the law and to prevent escape is justifiable. But where he merely attempts to escape, the degree of force the officer is authorized to use is in proportion to the offense with which he is charged. Formally, the distinction is made between felony and misdemeanor. If the culprit is charged with, or if the officer has reasonable grounds for believing him to be guilty of, a felony extreme measures to apprehend him are legally justified, even to killing. But if the offense of which he is believed guilty is a mere misdemeanor such force is not lawful.

In our experiment of noble motive this distinction seems to be provided for by defining many breaches of the dry laws as felonies, such as bringing a pint of liquor over the border in a hip pocket, or a case of beer in the bottom of a citizen's car. For these heinous offenses a dry law enforcer, if he can show that he had reason to believe the citizen guilty, may command him to stop, and, if he does not stop, may shoot him. By definition the citizen is a felon, classed under the rule with the murderer, the robber, and the rapist.

Dry law enforcers have taken advantage of this situation to shoot on suspicion—in some cases on the slightest grounds of suspicion, as in the case of Jacob Hanson—and have been supported by the present government in these acts. The shooting of suspected rum runners is applauded in congress. We think this whole policy is a reversal and perversion of American principle and practice. We think it inhumane and tyrannous, contrary to the spirit of American government and the character of the American people.

But the fact which impresses us most is the complaisancy toward this evil of the clergymen and church organizations which have entered the political arena in the name of religion and morality and which assume to represent the Christian conscience in public affairs. From these we hear no protest. In some instances of flagrant violation of law and justice and humanity we have even heard clergymen defend the offense, and we assert that nothing could more gravely injure the influence of the church than this strange and un-Christian partisanship. In past ages religion has persecuted in the name of Him whose message to mankind was mercy and loving kindness. It is the outstanding paradox of Christian history, and its reappearance in our day and country is an astonishing and sinister event.

AFTER THE VETO.

The mayor has seen fit to veto various appropriations, totaling $37,000,000, in the city's budget. He found that minor appropriations, aggregating $3,000,000, were illegal in form; the remaining $34,000,000 he held to be insufficient. He wants more money, chiefly for police, fire protection, health, electricity, and streets. He says, and we are inclined to agree with him, that essential services of the city will be hampered unless some of the appropriations are increased.

Where the money is to come from the council does not know and the mayor does not say. He spoke hopefully of obtaining relief from the legislature, but there is no assurance that the governor will call a special session, or that a special session, if called, will approve of placing a further burden upon the taxpayers, or that relief, if granted, will come in time to avert the insolvency which the mayor's veto has invited and hastened.

The city administration has deliberately chosen again to spend in excess of income. Needless to say, the essential services could have been provided for adequately without exceeding estimated revenue. The mayor did not veto the appropriations which were plainly excessive, because those appropriations are useful in maintaining his political organization with patronage. He carefully kept the door to a reconsideration of those items closed. The waste of money on payrollers in the city's law offices, in the license bureau, the department of so-called public service, and elsewhere has his indorsement. It is in departments such as these that the money for the legitimate needs of the police, fire, and health departments was to be found. If financial integrity meant anything at all in the city hall the entire budget would have been vetoed and the council advised to rewrite it within the original total of $55,000,000 which is estimated to correspond to the city's income for 1930. As it is the council is advised to drive the city deeper into insolvency and hope for the best.

The mayor seeks to turn the responsibility for the city's deplorable financial condition from himself to certain persons he calls reformers. While advocating a policy of insolvency he blames the city's insolvency upon the reassessment. "It is therefore evident," his message says, "that the city officials are in no measure responsible for the revenue crisis."

This means the city hall crew is counting again upon the inability or unwillingness of many voters to read figures and draw obvious inferences from them of incompetence and maladministration. It remains to be seen whether the gang will get away with it once more. In neither of his previous administrations did Thompson run up against such determined opposition from the voters as he has met in this one. There is hope in that fact. Perhaps it may encourage the city council to show the kind of resolution which some previous city councils have displayed at moments when the outlook for the community and the taxpayers was blackest.

MUSSOLINI AND THE WEDDING.

David Darrah in his story of the wedding in Italy said that Cardinal Maffi, who read the ritual, asked the parents of the prince and princess if they consented to the marriage and then glanced at Premier Mussolini, who stood at the right hand of the altar. Il Duce apparently refrained from saying that he also did. The royal family has been out in the sun the last few days and Italy has been reveling in a great spectacle in which the strong man has not had anything particular to do except to put on the proper uniform and show up at the place where he was expected.

The king has long accustomed himself to just that part in the national life of his country and he probably enjoyed the feeling that this occasion belonged to the house of Savoy and not to the house of Mussolini. There might remain the reflection, however, that without Mussolini the wedding, if it took place at all, might have been held in one or another of the pleasant refuges which have been the solace of considerable royalty in retirement.

MEMO TO THE I. C.

South side commuters are now being unloaded in the new Illinois Central suburban station north of Randolph street. One of the anticipated virtues of this terminal was the fact that the platforms would be nearer the offices north of the river, thereby shortening the walk for many of the Illinois Central passengers. But this improvement has not been realized, for the railroad has not provided an exit at the north end of the station. All of the passengers must walk back to Randolph street in order to reach Michigan avenue. We are sure that the Illinois Central, informed of the deficiency in service, will be glad to construct the suggested exit for the convenience of its patrons.

Editorial of the Day

DIAMOND AND GRIDIRON.

[St. Louis Post-Dispatch.]

Connie Mack pleaded a lost cause at Princeton university when he bespoke the same support for baseball as the student body gives football. It simply isn't in the books. As a professional sport baseball is without a rival in sustained interest, punctuated with community hysteria. If racing is the sport of kings, baseball is the sport of democracy, whereat the bleacher feels a sense of proprietorship which the grandstand can never know. The hoi polloi sits on the throne.

Football, per contra, is class stuff. It is distinctively collegiate. It is exclusive. It possesses, too, a social aura, a smart set cachet, which baseball, however purified, refined, and deportmentally polished, does not have. Efforts to professionalize football are frequently recorded in the mournful red. From which it may be deduced that the enormous crowds that flock to college football are attracted thither neither by admiration for nor knowledge of the game. The gladiatorial quality of the struggle may appeal to the primitive, but the brimming bowls or saturated stadia may be largely explained because it is the thing to do.

As to the comparative merit of the two arts, let some rash adventurer, disdainful of the violent consequences, venture his opinion. But the always available visitor from Mars would, if a highbrow, pronounce baseball as packed with drama, a specialty of miraculous skill haunted unceasingly with the two essentials of drama—suspense and climax. To him football would be a Thermopylae, say, enacted before Mr. and Mrs. Aristos and all the Misses Aristos in the world.

There let us leave them—both bully games.

BUG THAT BRINGS FLU.

DR. I. S. FALK announces that he has discovered the influenza germ. He says it is a pleomorphic streptococcus isolated from the blood of a young lady who was developing an acute attack. He grows this coccus on culture media and then causes influenza in monkeys and some other laboratory animals by inoculating them with the culture. He expresses the opinion that from the coccus he or some one else should be able to make a serum for the cure of the disease and also a vaccine to prevent it by raising resistance against it.

We have great hopes that these more practical discoveries will follow. We have had enough experience with influenza to teach us that the only hope for control of future epidemics such as that of 1918 lies in the development of a vaccine. In that great epidemic the only health department procedure which accomplished anything in lessening the disease was vaccination. Two-thirds of the authorities thought even that procedure did no good. They are agreed that all others were worthless.

A streptococcus is a round germ which hangs together in chains. A common name for it is the chain coccus. There is a great group of these chain cocci, included in which are the erysipelas germ, that of septic sore throat, that of malignant endocarditis, one that causes suppurations, and possibly those of rheumatism, pneumonia, infantile paralysis, and even others.

A pleomorphic organism is one which tends to change its size and in some measure its form and some of its other qualities. The great world authority on the pleomorphic streptococcus is Dr. E. C. Rosenow of the Mayo clinic. He has found organisms of this general group responsible for a great many disorders. In 1918 he found such an organism present in influenza and made a vaccine from it and other bacteria associated with it. This vaccine was very extensively used and many thought it was of service in controlling the disease.

We hope that Dr. Rosenow will be able to verify Dr. Falk; that he will find the Falk coccus to be the same that he was working with or a new one of the same group. It is to be hoped that among the men who get busy studying the Falk coccus there will be some who will find a way to make a vaccine like the one Rosenow prepared or an improvement on it.

RECTAL FISSURE.

Mrs. L. E. M. writes:

1. Is there any cure for rectal fissure?
2. Is it dangerous?

REPLY.

1. Yes. Physicians cure this condition without trouble as a rule.
2. No.

WATCH THOSE THYROID PILLS.

K. S. writes: Is the use of one and also two grain thyroid tablets for the purpose of reducing harmful? In what respect? If it is not harmful now is there any danger of its affecting the person when he is older?

REPLY.

It may be safe enough when the obese person is carefully watched by a physician. Otherwise it is dangerous.

The physician should make periodic metabolism tests, observe the degree of nervousness and the effects on the heart. Whatever harm may be done will be noted during the treatment. There are no remote effects.

SLIPPERS OR SHOES?

Mrs. M. M. writes: Would wearing bedroom slippers all day cause fallen arches?

REPLY.

I don't think so.

However, to a person accustomed to shoes, walking in slippers causes great fatigue in the feet, ankles, and lower leg. If one persists, however, he trains the muscles and ligaments, after which walking in stiff shoes causes fatigue.

NO QUOTA FOR CANADIANS.

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 5.—[Friend of the People.]—Is it legal for an alien visitor in the United States to accept a job during his visit? Where can I secure information regarding requirements for entering the United States from Canada for permanent residence?

C. B. M.

An alien visitor to the United States for business or pleasure must depart before or on the date such visit has expired unless an extension has been granted. Application for extensions of temporary stay can be secured at this office. There is no provision in the immigration laws whereby an alien visitor to the United States can accept employment.

Information regarding the requirements necessary for entrance into the United States from Canada or any foreign country can be obtained at this office [1343 Transportation building]. An alien coming from Canada must secure a passport from the country of which he is a citizen and have it properly visaed by the American consul nearest his home in Canada. If he is not a native of Canada he must come in under the quota of the country of his birth. If he is a native born Canadian he must apply to the American consul and procure a nonquota visa; no passport is necessary. There is no quota for native born Canadians.

TEMPERATURE REQUIREMENTS.

Chicago, Jan. 8.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Will you please give me the rules and regulations regarding the correct temperature for heating apartments? H. B. R.

Section 2119 of the city code as amended Dec. 1, 1923, requires every person controlling the heating plant of any tenement house in which the heat is furnished from a plant used in common to furnish heat from Oct. 1 to June 1 so that the occupants may secure, without such restriction of ventilation as to interfere with sanitary conditions, a minimum temperature of 70 degrees at 6:30 a. m., 65 degrees at 7:30 a. m., 68 degrees at 8:30 a. m., and thereafter until 10:30 p. m., provided that notice by registered mail shall be given before any person shall be deemed to have violated this section. Since it may be difficult to prove sufficient facts to defend an action for rent in case you move out, we advise you first to report violations to the commissioner of health, city hall, and to exhaust the possibility of getting relief by formal notice to the landlord.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

Now, in a Manner of Speaking—

it's cold! bitter cold! and a lot of you boys and girls lost your money on Amalgamated Post Holes, and you can't go to Florida. If you were a polo pony you could go; the society columns tell about all the polo ponies that are starting or about to start for Florida. But if you had been a polo pony you wouldn't have lost your money in Amalgamated Post Holes. Neither would we. So the polo ponies go to Florida and we have to stay home and walk around in the blizzard. A polo pony's got horse sense. When Amalgamated Post Holes were at one sixty-five he wouldn't have galloped around and tried to protect it when it slid down to one hundred and thirty. He would have said "neigh, neigh," and let 'em have it. But us humans are different. We think we know more than polo ponies. And what's the answer? Well, the polo ponies are riding in nice warm cars down to Florida and we're chasing our hats through the snowdrifts in a ninety mile an hour wind. We've got to do something about this. We've got to hire some fellow to follow us around and when we start throwing our money around this fellow's got to holler 'Whoa!" And when he says "whoa" we've got to whoa, that's all. And then some day when our ears begin freezing and the blizzard is blowing down the backs of our necks we'll go to Florida like the polo ponies.

DEAD LOVE.

If suddenly one should whisper, "Gone? Gone?"
"He is gone!" And I should then be no more.
And you would keep moving and living on,
Looking up quickly at each opened door
Till you knew it was true. What would you miss?
The hours we spent when your hand on mine
Thrilled me as strangely as the wild, sweet wine
Of your warm, small mouth and its fragrant kiss?

I loved you so that it hurts my heart
With a dull sad ache, to breathe your name.
Now I am gone. I played a sorry part,
And the curtain is down on my futile shame.
Yet shame or fame your love belonged
Alone to me, by whom you were wronged.

BERNARD.

THE WEDDING'S all over and the papers didn't say, but we'll bet Mussolini kissed the bride and gave the groom a wedding present of a swift kick in the pants.

OH, HOW THE SNOW FELL and the gale blew and the ice and the blizzard did things around these parts yesterday! And as we stood for an hour or more with our nose froze and our feet froze and our hands froze trying to wigwag an S O S to a taxi, which went skidding by at sixty miles an hour, somebody said: "Well, if Chicago had a subway we would be out of all this—" Anyhow, they won't find the body until spring.

"Frances, Not the Cardinal."

The late Frances Newman, who wrote The Hard Boiled Virgin, Dead Lovers Are Faithful Lovers, and other things—oh, lots of other things that got people's dander up—also wrote a raft of letters which have just been published. Worse than that, a lot of people answered her letters, often too well if not wisely, and their answers are included in the collection. If you notice any undue redness in the literary ears of this and other continents, you'll know the ears' owners have been reading what Miss Newman wrote about them, or rereading what they may regret to say they wrote to her. However, what we started to reminisce about was the ironic situation John Riddel found himself in when Dead Lovers Are Faithful Lovers came out. He wrote a burlesque on the book for Vanity Fair, calling it "Dead Novelists Are Good Novelists"; and three days before the Vanity Fair containing his story appeared on the stands Frances Newman took an overdose of sleeping powders.

WE READ in the highly esteemed and w. k. New York Evening Post the rumor that, in addition to the thirty cruisers, the new dry army to be stationed along the "longest unarmed frontier in the world" will be recruited to 10,000 men, and that's just to start with. Mr. Hoover promised a job to every man if elected; and, by gravy, maybe he's going to make good.

WE HAD SIX odes addressed to Lynnette yesterday from as many different Lynns. We intended to publish all six and let Lynnette pick out the one she recognized as her Lynn, but do you know—need we say what happened to those lovely poems? Well, then, what happened to them was Mr. Thomas Atkins. And, really, Vangie never worked quicker.

THIS YEAR'S BEAUTY.

Her eyes divine
As the soul of her

Her cheek is the peach

Her nose is a study

Spun by an elf
In the magic night.

When day's at an end

KEEPER OF THE STARS.

LAGNIAPPE.

FIVE THOUSAND PEOPLE rioted for a chance to get into the American Museum of Natural History down in Manhattan to hear the Einstein theory explained. Which to our simple mind is absolute zero in rioting.

THIS is old-fashioned winter weather with a vengeance. But in the old days there were compensations. We had bob sled rides at night out to Funk's Grove, and the ladies of the First Methodist church gave an oyster supper, and we went out with our muzzle loading civil war muskets and shot rabbits, or shot at 'em; we got a quarter from Judge Weldon for cleaning the snow off his walks, and they ran out of coal at the Fourth ward school and we didn't go to school for three days. And Ed Kegler served red hot turtle soup with every five cent glass of beer. Ah, Laura, dear child, as Cleopatra said so lightly to Marc Antony, "Them were indeed the days!"

THE BANDITS who stole our last line for Thursday morning got scared when the policemen who had been given the gate were put back on the job and they brought it back. But they left it on our back doorstep and the darned thing frose stiff. No last line today, Hank. Between bandits and blizzards, life's just one damn thing after another.

WHAT THE SQUEALING IS ALL ABOUT

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

JANUARY 10, 1865.

CINCINNATI.—The court for the trial of the Chicago conspiracy cases met today, but as the defendants were not ready the case was adjourned until tomorrow. The prisoners ordered to trial are Charles Walsh, Buckner S. Morris, Vincent Marmaduke, R. T. Semmes, Charles T. Daniel, alias Charles Travis, E. Cantrill, G. St. Leger Grenfell, and Benjamin M. Anderson. They are accused of conspiring with Capt. Hines, alias Dr. Hunter, of the rebel army, to capture the arsenal in Chicago, overpower the guards, and release the rebel prisoners at Camp Douglas, then to seize the public buildings and leave the city to be sacked and burned by the escaped rebel prisoners. The time set for the attack on the camp was Nov. 8, last year.

ST. LOUIS.—A copy of a paper printed at Washington, Ark., received in Little Rock, announced the death of the rebel Gen. Sterling Price, reported in a general order from Gen. Fagan. This is considered authentic.

NEW YORK. — The Commercial's Washington correspondent says: "Horace Greeley is here, urgent and persistent in his demands for peace, and predicting an early termination of the war."

SPRINGFIELD.—Preparations had been made for a grand time here tomorrow at the inauguration of the governor and lieutenant governor with a big military and civil procession. However, the death at Decatur of Gen. Oglesby's son, an only child 6 years of age, probably will cause the inauguration to be postponed.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

JANUARY 10, 1900.

CHICAGO.—After a long, stormy session of the Episcopal convention at the Cathedral of SS. Peter and Paul, Rector Charles Palmerston Anderson of Grace church, Oak Park, was elected coadjutor bishop of the diocese of Chicago. His salary was fixed at $5,000 a year. The Chicago laity's protest was voiced emphatically by Edwin Walker, a lawyer, who pleaded in vain for a postponement.

LONDON.—Rear Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, addressing the London chamber of commerce, made the last speech of his political career for many years. In two days he reenters the navy as second in command of the Mediterranean squadron.

CHICAGO.—A small fortune for charity was realized at the 19th annual ball of the Young Men's Hebrew Charity association held at the Auditorium. One column of the grand march was led by President Sidney Loewenstein of the association and Miss Estella Cahn. The other was led by Henry C. Schwab, vice president, and Miss Clara Schlesinger.

NEW YORK.—Terry McGovern, the most wonderful little fighter ever seen in the ring, defeated George Dixon, the colored champion, in eight rounds of fierce fighting at the Broadway Athletic club, and won the featherweight championship. Dixon's seconds threw in the sponge to end the fight. The place was jammed with 4,800 spectators, although designed to hold only 4,000. Mobs clamored for admittance and from $20 to $40 was offered for any kind of a seat.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

JANUARY 10, 1920.

PARIS—Tomorrow Europe will be at peace. Between 5 and 6 o'clock in the afternoon the treaty of Versailles will come into effect, and, after nearly five and one-half years, the continent will return officially to international tranquillity. Germany will be once more a friendly nation among her European associates. She will, however, still be at war with America.

LONDON.—The town of Krasnoyarsk, eastern Siberia, has been captured by the bolsheviki, according to a Moscow dispatch, which says: "The remnants of the First, Second, and Third enemy armies have surrendered and 60,000 prisoners already have been counted."

CHICAGO.—Mr. and Mrs. George Dunn, 58 Bellevue place, announce the marriage of their daughter, Marion, to Charles Pope II., son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pope of Geneva, Ill., on New Year's day at St. Chrysostom's church.

PHILIP KINSLEY IN LONDON.

Chicago, Jan. 5.—Philip Kinsley's articles on London seem well designed to give Americans an unfavorable picture of contemporary manners and customs in England. It is true that the English are reserved and do not throw their arms around every loud, noisy provincial who steps out of Victoria station. Mr. Kinsley blandly intimates that he is unable to tell an American from an Englishman. I presume he is referring to their general appearance. There is one sure method: In a hotel, if one individual yells across the lobby at another individual, he is an American. If the other yells back, they are both Americans.

The coffee is not so good, as a rule. The tea, however, is excellent everywhere. Instead of comparing the wages paid in England with those paid in an undeveloped country such as America, it would be far more to the point to compare them with the wages paid in the continental countries. I wonder if Mr. K. really found the rooms so cold and clammy as his article would indicate. I found them to be quite comfortable, and the fireplaces added a touch of cheerfulness. True, the streets are winding and dodge in and out. That is one of the reasons why walking is so popular in England. On the average American street one can see the gas station and hot dog stand at the end, and he does not bother about a closer view.

These are small matters, of course, but the general trend of the article is such that one wonders if the series is one of the steps being taken to prepare the American mind for the next conference on naval limitations. THE TRIBUNE'S policy with reference to American naval strength is incomprehensible to many of us. To saddle the American taxpayer with the enormous cost of needlessly maintaining the largest navy in the world is nothing less than a demonstration of childish national pride. The greatness of any country should be measured by the standard of living of the average citizen. By this measurement the United States is far in the lead. The nation is self-contained and could exist indifinitely if its imports were cut off. We are blessed with all the essentials of national life.

In England conditions are different. Any garage economist knows that the current stock of food in the British isles would be consumed within four months. It is a matter of life and death that her sea lanes be kept open in any emergency. Regardless of cost, she must have a sufficient number of warships to protect these lanes and insure a continuous supply of the materials essential to her national existence.

C. L. MCGRATH.

WHAT OF IT?

Chicago, Jan. 6.—May I inquire your reason for printing the provocative article in Sunday's TRIBUNE on the snobbery, gastronomical and other peculiarities, the dreariness and poverty rampant in London? Surely a deliberate desire to stir up animosity at this particular time had nothing to do with it, and surely there was no thought of reciprocation for anti-American propaganda sponsored by certain despicable and hardly representative English journalistic trouble makers, for it goes without saying THE TRIBUNE would not lower itself to their level.

What if some Englishmen are snobbish and disdainful, love formality and display, make poor coffee, are poor managers, shun skyscrapers, and cling to the past? A mere scattering of freckles on their otherwise fair complexion! And we're afflicted with them, too. Some Americans are snobbish and disdainful, and, judging by our talkie theater attendants and our interest in regal trans-Atlantic gorgeousness, display and pomp are not wholly uninteresting to Americans. Americans make poor tea, and many of them are too good mixers. Our skyscrapers create many problems, and even cause considerable quibbling in instances, as do some other of our innovations. As to the individual case you magnify, how many men, ex-service men included, who feel Chicago should be blown up and started over again, do you suppose could be found along our avenues of the unemployed? And how many Americans are as unblushingly eulogistic about their country as was the prosperous Londoner?

Some of us seem to be as loath to abandon old prejudices and ideas as the English are to abandon a lot of things that really aren't of all effacing importance. At this time, when what looks like the first safe, sane, and sincere negotiations for international amicability are under way, holler and better than thou articles have a slightly archaic aspect. H. B. NEVILLE.

FOREST PRESERVE TOBOGGANS.

Chicago, Jan. 6.—I wish to take exception to "E. E. G.'s" article, "Perils at Palos Park."

I have been using the slides this winter and they are in excellent condition. Those using the slides are warned not to stand up or sway the toboggan while going down. Also, walking up the trough looking for lost articles can hardly be excusable. [This act was responsible for the grewsome accident.] It's like walking down railroad tracks with ears shut and eyes blindfolded. Football, I think, is responsible for more injuries than any other sport, and see how popular it is.

If the sliding is to be stopped, there will be several thousand disappointed fans who will have to go elsewhere to enjoy themselves because of a very small number of people who would rather play ping pong.

I suggest that the forest preserve build at least two more slides so that we wouldn't have such a long wait before taking the next ride.

KENNETH HALLBERG.

SAFE IF YOU'RE CAREFUL.

Chicago, Jan. 6.—Being one of the many persons who enjoy using the toboggan slide at Palos park, I would like to correct an erroneous statement made in yesterday's Voice of the People.

If one uses the chutes provided, which by the way are in excellent condition, there is little chance of injury. The accident referred to occurred when a man who was in search of his glasses walked in one of the chutes, obviously disregarding all rules for safety both for himself and persons using the slide.

SYNOPSIS.

John Andrew Kellogg, heir to millions, asks Barbara Thornton to marry him. She agrees, but not very graciously. When she hears that he has just lost his job she scolds him and calls him a playboy. He calls on his attorney, David Craig, who tells him that he will never inherit the money his father left if he doesn't prove himself capable of managing his life in a sensible way. He tells him that, since he has lost one job after another, he will have to double five thousand dollars in thirty days or live on an income from a trust fund for the rest of his life. John Andrew telephones this to Barbara, and she offers to give him five thousand to turn over to Craig. He refuses and tells her he is going out to Hollywood. She is furious with him and breaks the engagement. He decides to go to San Francisco and starts for California. On the train he meets Anne Ames, who is on her way to Hollywood with a letter of introduction to a movie producer. They become interested in each other. Before saying good-by in Utah John Andrew tells Anne that he will see her in Los Angeles in a few days.

Arrived in San Francisco, John Andrew meets an old school friend, Peter Merriam, on the street. Pete is selling Mercury cars and tries to sell one to John Andrew. They go for a trial spin and, with John Andrew at the wheel, have a slight smashup. In order to keep Pete from losing his job John Andrew buys the custom built roadster for $4,980. He also gives all but a hundred dollars of his expense money to an old man with an invention without asking what the machine is. He drives to Los Angeles in the Mercury and sees Anne at the Consolidated studio, where she is being tried out. He makes an engagement to take her to dinner. Before starting out he looks at the old man's plans and learns they are for a noiseless camera. He sells the patent rights to Consolidated for twenty-five thousand, the money to be turned over to him on the receipt of the signature of Blake, the inventor.

In the meantime the hotel people become suspicious of John Andrew and ask him to pay his bill. He decides to pawn some belongings. He receives a telegram from the inventor's attorney asking for five hundred additional or lose the contract.

INSTALLMENT XXIX.

A RIDDLE.

It was expensive. A dollar and forty cents. As Anne frowned at the card John Andrew did some rapid arithmetic. Why in thunder didn't they make their prices even, like fifty cents, or a dollar, or a dollar and a half? Carefully figuring, he had already reached the following amount:

$1.25 (caviar)
2.80 (2 whatever grenadin Talleyrand was)—

which, so early in the game, made the total neither more nor less—certainly not less—than $4.95. Taken from the $7.80 which was John Andrew's entire finances, this left $2.85.

"And," said Anne, blithely, "artichokes Mousseline" (60 cents). "And . . . O, look, John Andrew, escarolle! I love it" ($1.10). "And . . . I feel like a big greedy, but this's fun——"

"Um," said John Andrew, sorrowfully, "no salad for me. I'll just have a demi——"

And for good reason:

1.20 (2 artichokes)
1.10 (1 salad)—

now making $7.25.

"I'm not as hungry as you are," said John Andrew as the total hit him. "I think I'll not have either the artichoke or the soup. I never did like soup.

"Just where were we in this business of food?"

Even as a child I went away from the table rather than eat it" (thus shuffling the figures back to $6.20). John Andrew leaned back more comfortably.

"You aren't playing up at all," Anne pouted. "You've talked about ordering a perfect dinner until you've made me feel starved, but now——"

Unhappily John Andrew said, "Had too much lunch."

"Would you rather we just had a salad now, and then eat later?"

"No—no," said John Andrew, hurriedly. This'll do very well. Now, how about something sweet?"

"O, . . . I don't know . . . biscuit tortoni?"

Ninety cents; two demis, probably twenty-five each, making the total $7.40, with the waiter still to be feed. "On second thought," said Kellogg, "I believe I'll have a couple of lamb chops. Healthful, chops are. Very fond o' 'em. Always was. Seven dollars and five cents."

Anne stared at him. "What did you say?" John Andrew, hearing, felt despair clutch at him with icy fingers. "Seven dollars . . . what about them?"

"Figuring about the . . . the manufacturing cost of . . . er . . . lenses for the Blake-Kellogg if we decide to make them ourselves for Consolidated. Good idea? Give us additional profit. We can——"

Anne let him run down, looked at him curiously once, and then watched some of the other diners in the Spanish Room . . .

She was still silent when the waiter began to take the order; John Andrew gave it with little interest. "Cavair canapé for madam, and then the consommé Milanais for both of us, and next . . ."

A hand on John Andrew's shoulder made him start almost guiltily; the man who was standing beside his chair was vaguely familiar. "I've often wondered if I'd ever see you again, Kellogg," the man and girl heard. "Don't you remember me? Edwards? We worked in the same department at Simpson-Carter's."

John Andrew fought off his glum mood and nodded; standing also, he said, "Miss Ames . . . Mr. Edwards."

"What are you doing here?" Edwards asked (the waiter standing patiently on the far side of Kellogg). "I never thought I'd ever see you again. Wrote you once—or started the letter, and then didn't know where to send it." He began to laugh and, glancing apologetically at Anne, went on: "I'll never forget the day old man Carter came into the office and fired you! Gosh, how we all laughed about it! You told him he thought he was so important that he ought to be directing the Federal Reserve bank.

"Don't mention it," said John Andrew, fearfully.

"He was the only kick we had in the office," Edwards said to Anne, who tried to smile brightly. "I've got a good memory . . . and I didn't forget I owed you ten dollars, either. Never thought I'd have a chance to pay it back. Here it is——"

"Don't mention that, either; glad to have been able to let you have it."

"I'm in real estate here; if"—smiling toward the girl again—"you ever want anything in an exclusive, restricted district, street work all in, let me know. I'm selling Hollywoodlawn——"

"Sounds like a cemetery," John Andrew suggested. "I suppose if you buy a corner lot there the chances are you'll have to pay taxes on it, eh?"

"Our taxes are very low, considering . . . O, you're kidding again, old man. He used to have the stenographers in tears at Simpson-Carter's . . . well, glad to have seen you again, old man. Come out to the subdivision some time; our buses leave in front of the square every hour; no charge."

Anne's face was very thoughtful; John Andrew looked toward her only once, and then asked the waiter, "Just where were we in this business of food?"

"The consommé, sir . . ."

John Andrew tucked the bill into his vest pocket; $10 plus $7.80 certainly removed one immediate worry. "I've rather forgotten what we decided on."

"Order whatever you like," said Anne.

John Andrew said, "O, I see." He did, too. "Very well. Instead of whatever I have told you we'll have two canapés and some sort of chicken consommé, although I don't see it on the menu. Filet of Merian Orly . . . if it's good it's wonderful, and we'll have some. Next . . . O, the grenadin'll do, with some sort of soufflèd potatoes . . . escarolle, alone, and I'll make the dressing, and I want the oil cold, but not frozen. Tarragon vinegar. Eman. Artichokes and salad is all wrong. New peas—and not in cream. Biscuit tortoni for madam, and a bit of cheese and hard wafers for me."

"And we might have sweet butter and rolls?"

"Excellent, sir."

"How does that sound, Anne?" Kellogg asked expansively. "There's food for hungry people."

"It sounded as if you were a multimillionaire," said Anne. "But you weren't so hungry until Mr. Edwards gave you ten dollars, were you?"

John Andrew gulped.

When the canapés had been served he asked: "What's the matter? I thought you were starving?"

"It's delicious," Anne said dutifully.

"Then eat, woman. Look at me." John Andrew indeed was doing very well considering the size of the lunch he had enjoyed at the Poinsettia.

"John Andrew . . ."

"Kellogg. Yes'm. Some people call me Andy, too."

"You heard what the man said about your being . . . discharged."

"Those fellows are with us always. The kind who drag out old photographs. They took one of me, in topper and spats, as Georgie Morton's best man, and——"

"John Andrew! High hat, spats, a fashionable wedding, and . . . fired from a place like Simpson-Carter's!"

Kellogg could understand Anne's distress. She thought him a four-flusher, a huge bluff, a windbag, perhaps a playboy, but in a different sense than Barbara had; Anne . . . why, Anne loved him in spite of things.

"Was the manager of the Poinsettia like the landlady because they both wanted you to pay your bill?"

"I never answer riddles while eating," Kellogg countered.

"We're going to have a terrible time of it," the girl said. "But——"

John Andrew waited. "But what?" he prompted.

"You know," Anne smiled crookedly.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

It is probable that this fleshly work, which purports to tell the story of Anatole France's novel of the same name, got the best performance last night that it has had in the twenty years of its Chicago history.

For it is no exaggeration to say that Miss Garden is so far superior to all the others who have tried to play Thaïs that she is the only one who should ever be permitted to do it.

Mr. Mojica is back on a short vacation from having talking snapshots made of himself, and his good looks, exotic personality, and uncommon cleverness as a stage figure make him likewise the best of all those who appear as Nicias. Also Mr. Vanni-Marcoux enters the cast, and his extraordinary ability to project spiritual stress puts him at the head of all the Athanaels.

There were other perhaps lesser points of merit. One can admit freely that most of Massenet's music to the piece has for years been only an annoyance and grows more vexatious every year. One remembers how the "Meditation" used always to be encored in the old days, and records with joy that it was not encored last night for two reasons—because encores are forbidden and because the audience did not wish it repeated. It also can be admitted, if you are very particular, that Miss Garden has abandoned a bit of the pantherine litheness of her first entrance.

But she still is entirely capable of the superb gesture and the equally superb stride and posture. No one has ever come near equalling her in this, and it would seem to be about half the battle where the rôle of Thaïs is concerned. At any rate, what with one thing and another, she effectively removes herself from ordinary humanity and from ordinary stage folk, and becomes a striking, flashing figure of the Alexandrian world.

Among the minor and commendable happenings was a new setting for the first act which permitted the vision to seem something like a vision and not the mechanical removal of a part of the sky to give a girl a chance to be seen. Also the ballet, which is not entirely new, is of notable assistance to the general pictorial character of the performance. At that, Thaïs' house, supposed to burn at the end of this scene, merely smoked gently and declined to flame. But perhaps the bombardment of bursting light globes heard now and then during the performance had something to do with this.

Another child wonder made his appearance yesterday morning. He is Ezra Rachlin, pianist, 13 years old on the authority of advance publicity, and he played at the Blackstone hotel. Like many another of his kind, he displayed extraordinary facility, a technical development that made him capable of playing one of the early Beethoven sonatas and Liszt's "Rakoczy" march. In these and in other works he played with little apparent effort and with what would seem to be complete ability to transmit the musical ideas in which he had been instructed.

Appearing jointly with him was John Barclay, baritone. He was heard in a group of lieder, which he sang with agreeable voice and manner, a good many ideas of personal interpretation, which were sometimes excessively emotional but generally logical, and musicianly style.

Among yesterday's other musical events was the first January young people's concert by the Chicago Symphony orchestra at Orchestra hall in the afternoon and a benefit concert for Gamma chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota in the evening. This latter was a join appearance by Elly Ney, pianist, and the Amy Neill String quartet. Piano quintets in F minor by Brahms and in E by Schumann were played.

END PRIVATE SCHOOLS, THEY BREED SNOBS, EDUCATOR PLEADS

Cambridge, Mass., Jan. 9.—[Special.]—Declaring that privately owned schools were "educationally bankrupt," that their main purpose was to educate snobs, and that they were hampering the public education program of the nation, Dr. Thomas H. Briggs, head of the secondary education department of Teachers' college, Columbia university, speaking at Harvard university, today urged their abolition.

With few exceptions, private schools are "reactionary and complacent," said Dr. Briggs, and their students "have never acquired a faith in democracy or a genuine understanding or sympathy for the common man."

Bright Jewels of Dead Czars Flout Soviets

$264,000,000 Swag Vainly Hunts Buyers.

MOSCOW, Jan. 9.—(AP)—For better safekeeping Russia's $264,000,000 collection of crown jewels, probably the finest array of gems ever assembled, has been placed in a huge steel cage in the state bank, in a great coffer resembling a steel-barred cell in an American prison.

The dazzling gems, which date from the time of the extravagant Catherine the Great to the last czar, are placed in plush lined leather cases on long tables within the cage, where they may be viewed by Americans and other foreign visitors.

Upon presentation of proper credentials visitors are admitted to the cage to see this extraordinary display. No object in soviet Russia today, except it be the body of Vladimir Llyitch Lenin, which lies in state in a wooden tomb in Red square, attracts the same attention.

The principal gem in the collection is the magnificent crown worn by Catherine the Great at her coronation in 1762, which is valued at $24,000,000. Eager to see how it feels to wear a royal crown, many American visitors to the state bank have tried to put this crown on their heads, but were prevented by soviet guards.

Other Americans have been attracted by the huge Orloff diamond, which is as big as a bisected egg and weighs 196 carats. This stone was presented by Count Gregory Orloff, one of Catherine the Great's lovers, as a birthday remembrance to his sovereign.

Ever since the 1917 revolution the soviet government has been trying to dispose of the crown jewels for cash or to exchange them for tractors, locomotives, or other pressingly needed articles.

American experts insist the fact that the gems once belonged to the Russian royal family, who were murdered, and therefore have historic interest, only militates against their sale value, and that sheer weight of the jewels in carats as appraised at current market prices only will give them sale.

The Question.

The Answers.

Miss Mae Hultman, 1103 Wrightwood avenue, stenographer—If the purse would warrant it, life with a romantic man might be more colorful than with a practical man. I think, however, a combination of the two would be the most lastingly interesting. A romance without a comfortable income might fade with the exhaustion of the purse.

Miss Vivian Martin, 3763 North Kostner avenue, secretary—I hope my husband will be a practical man who always will be romantic about me. When I marry it is to be for life, I hope. However, I probably shall marry, as most persons do, the man I love, whether he is practical, romantic, or a combination of both.

Miss Geraldine Ryan, 6441 Kimbark avenue, stenographer—I am sure I would rather marry the romantic man, but why I don't know. Of course I wouldn't want to marry an impractical romantic man. The serious practical man is too likely to be prosaic. He would find of a romantic man would be the more interesting.

Miss Ruthe Hannan, 7235 Phillips avenue, secretary — I am crazy about the romantic type. The practical man is too likely to be dull and uninteresting. With the romantic man one could get more enjoyment out of travel; he would be brighter socially. It is taken for granted that he shall be reasonably situated financially.

Miss Loretta Rudolph, 915 Glengyle place, clerk—I should prefer to marry the practical man, because romance springs from the practical. The practical man knows how to keep the track clear. Married life demands a constant application of common

THEATER

SIX new plays are announced by the Dramatic League of Chicago for its second season in the Princess. The announcement explains that the six will be selected from a list of plays either now in possession of the League or held by it on option. One of the six will probably be the Molnar comedy which was tentatively scheduled for the present season. That it has not been given is due, it seems, to some technical trouble about the copyright—trouble of a sort customary in fixing the American rights in plays and books of Hungarian origin or handled by an Hungarian agent. . . . The League further states that it hopes to make a revival of one of Ibsen's plays; and I am letting drop no secret when I say that it will not be "Hedda Gabler," "Ghosts," "A Doll's House," or "The Wild Duck," and that the play in mind is "Pillars of Society," which hasn't been acted professionally in Chicago since, in 1910, Mrs. Fiske and the late Holbrook Blinn gave some performances of the piece in the Grand Opera-House. The League is not yet certain whether to give the play as an item in the subscription or to make it the subject of some special afternoons.

Other information from the Dramatic League is (a) that "The Infinite Shoeblack" is an uncommon attraction for the matinées in the Princess, and (b) that Miss Constance Collier, due here next week for some final rehearsals of "The Matriarch," is not to be the pro-forma star of G. B. Stern's play, but what is known in show-business as the "featured player," in the sense that Miss Helen Menken and Leslie Banks are "featured" in "The Infinite Shoeblack." In other words, the ads will tell that the offering is "The Matriarch" with Miss Collier, and not Miss Collier in "The Matriarch."

Miss Florence Reed announces that she is not to appear in "The Dowager Empress of China," wherein she has been rehearsing. The play is by Achmed Abdullah.

William Courtleigh, Miss Selena Royle, and Miss Valérie Valaire are well-knowns hired to perform in "The Lawyer Talks," something new by Edwin Stanley, an actor.

Otto Kruger, no longer in employment by the Theater Guild of New York, and Miss Katherine Alexander, who doesn't appear to have a Chicago record, are to be the principal players in "The Boundary-Line," by Dana Burnet, the story-writer.

And Miss Helen Flint, at one time a Chicagoan, is to have the feminine rôle of most importance in "Those We Love."

"The Jade God," which ran here for weeks and weeks at cut-rates, succumbed last week to the rigors of travel, and is no more.

"World Too Big for Ruling by Any One Sect"

Presbyterian Moderator Says So in Detroit.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

The ineffectiveness of any one of the Christian churches as a world influence was pointed out last night by the Rev. Dr. Cleland B. McAfee of Chicago, moderator of the Presbyterian general assembly. He spoke in Detroit. Dr. McAfee cited the divisions in Christendom as substantial evidence of the practical denial of the belief in "One Lord."

The leader of the Presbyterians challenged the sincerity of any group of Christians who feel that they monopolize either the total of Christian truth or its expression in terms of world needs. He pointed out that if one world and one Christ are taken for granted, it necessarily must follow that a united witness is the test of Christian sincerity.

"No sincere man," Dr. McAfee said, "can face the world of today as a Christian opportunity and dream for one moment that his own particular group is adequate for it. It would be folly for one denomination to say it can take care of the situation by itself. Any one church in its senses is staggered by the world problems. Thinking of world influence in Presbyterian terms or in Methodist terms or in Baptist terms is utterly out of the question."

Dr. McAfee spoke sympathetically of the times and conditions under which such divisions were developed. He indicated that conditions of earlier days might have justified the schisms. On the other hand, he contended that, in practically all cases, there could be found none for perpetuating the divisions.

Dr. McAfee quoted from government statistics. Dr. McAfee pointed out that there are 213 religious groups in the United States alone. Of these, he stated that 12 are non-Christian while 121 more are small in membership, with less than 100 congregations, while only 36 have more than 1,000 congregations. The greater number of the 36 are members of wide spread church families. For instance, Dr. McAfee declared that of the 18 Baptist groups, only five are forceful outside of a limited field. Among the 19 of the Methodists, he pointed out, that only seven have substantial strength, while whole Methodist denominations with a total of three, four or six congregations are set up in statistics beside 26,000 Methodist congregations as a single church body.

As Dr. McAfee examined the structure of the future unity which must prevail, he said, if the Christian religion is to survive, he declared two fundamental elements—liberty and brotherhood—must be recognized.

"There are times," he said, "when liberty must be had at any cost, while again, there are times when brotherhood must be maintained at any cost. Just when these times come is the perennial problem of sincere believers in Christ."

The program of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, Dr. McAfee indicated, is in the position of offering a basis both of union and disunion. He declared that some groups think that the affiliations of the federation gradually will bring about a union of churches, while other groups are cordial to the federation, because they think that federation will prevent real church union.

"One recent president of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America held his office in the hope that he might lead toward a much wider organic union; another held the same office with the feeling that he must prevent steps in that direction," Dr. McAfee declared.

In closing, he asserted that the union eventually must be grounded in the belief in one Lord. That, he stated, must be illustrated by a unity which the world can see. Dr. McAfee declared this is not done at the present time when the churches are divided and present to the world a scene of dispute.

New Book Shows Great Value of Fourth Vitamin

Sunshine Foods Are Health Holders.

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Do you wish to be a superman? If you do, you can be. You can be large of frame and of disposition by activating yourself with potency foods. Are you ambitious to have your child not merely an adequate child but a super infant? It is for you to determine. You can even determine whether your race shall be a stronger or more vigorous one than it is, or not. You can in an unbelievable measure, by taking thought and learning some fundamental dietary facts, discover that these things are within human control. Children who might have fair health can have this increased with the addition of incremented physical security.

Any human being can, if he will, secure for himself not only adequate but "optimum" nutrition. Those who have been practicing this belief have seen a striking proof of these facts when a group of boys living on an adequate diet have, with but a slight addition of potent foods, grown faster, had higher spirits, and an increased possibility of having vigorous health their lives long.

Exceedingly small quantities of potent food substances can vastly affect the very nature as well as the health of man. This fact is now scientifically established, while all through the ages a few people have, by instinct, realized this truth. Opposite to this is the fact that if a child does not get one of these potent substances he may have bowed legs, beaded ribs, a bulging forehead, easily decaying teeth, flaring ribs and therefore a swollen stomach, while all his physical mechanism is weak and ailing. All these things can be prevented and cured, if they start to develop, through foods, plus sunshine. Foods are the therapeutic agent in this prevention and cure.

Books on Food Potencies.

The University of Chicago has sent me for review the book, "Ultra Violet Light and Vitamin D in Nutrition," by Katharine Blunt and Ruth Cowan. I am glad to be thus complimented, for this is a book that in general should be put into the hands of any serious food person. Yet when I face the reading of such a book I want to put it off, or I feel that I would like to be frivolous, not to say frisky, but when once I plunge in I get absorbed, and delight to feel that I am mastering something highly worth expending mental energy on. At any rate, I read with great satisfaction to myself even so serious a book as this, one not too technical for the layman, and one to hold his interested attention when he will give himself over to it.

This volume is really a summary as well as a record of a great deal that has been written on the subject of the fourth vitamin, while the cementing elements of the book are descriptions of the work done by the authors in their own laboratory. We believe this patient and erudite work was all humanly motivated by the idea that there is but a limited natural distribution of vitamin D and of sunshine so much needed by humanity and that it is a condition to remedy.

What can be done about it? The answer seems to be to eat foods which have been irradiated, or have sunshine put into them. Certain foods can absorb light and give the eater the energy and the preventive and curative power of sunshine. You can takes doses of sunshine with your breakfast cereal as well as with cod liver oil.

Obtains Speedy Results.

This vitamin D in the diet is not only curative and preventive of an abnormality of the flabby bones of rickets, but is "of influence in the normal formation of bone and in other aspects of the normal activities, of calcium and phosphorous in the body." It is a great specific and of tremendous potency. Because of its power and advantages its use has its restrictions or dangers, while its great advantage is the speed by which results are obtained in its use. Under adequate direction its action seems to be both rapid and reliable in producing the effects we have mentioned.

One could hardly find in all medical literature, perhaps, a more striking illustration of the need of calcium in the diet to prevent and develop the skeleton than a picture in this book reproduced from the Journal of Biological Chemistry with the title, "Twin Brothers." It is a side view of the skeleton of two albino rats, one of which had received a diet of normal calcium content (wheat, meat, and milk), while the other had received a low calcium diet (wheat and meat).

Hitherto we have not heard much about the development and preservation of our skeletal structure, but one glance at this picture might convince us that even the adult has a daily need of calcium which must be met by the food he eats if the skeleton is to be preserved normally. [The abnormality of bone effects in age are sometimes shockingly manifest.] The experiments described in this book concerning the need of an adequate calcium diet, if we are to have "optimal" psysiological behavior, are certainly made convincing by the illustration we have mentioned.

Some Surprising Facts.

It is impossible, even if we had the ability, to summarize the influences of specific foods in this connection as described in this book. It is not only the getting of the calcium and phosphorus in our food but we must recognize that their retentive power is lowered under various conditions due to other foods. The high desirability of retaining these elements has determined the experiments to discover what balance the rest of the diet must have in order that these elements be retained. Some foods may depress the appetite and so prevent the getting of these essentials, and the form in which some natural food is served, and the amounts, may determine whether it is all good or harmful.

It is a somewhat revolutionary idea that polished rice and white flour are the least harmful when it is desirable to get a diet that is not deficient in vitamin D. The fine potentialities of foods have a marvelous interest worth our enthusiastic heed.

The food fakers who have jumped in are likely to make the most extraordinarily deceptive statements about the minerals in foods. I would like to mention the worst I ever heard, but it is more to the point that in an experiment with adult women each consumed half a pound of spinach daily. It was cooked, and the rest of the diet consisted of apple, bread, butter, cream, meat, potato.

When the spinach was not taken there was milk, and milk and spinach have about the same percentage of calcium. Perhaps the following remark was not intended to be humorous, but it seems so to me. When these women averaged eating more than half a pound of spinach daily for a week the statement followed: "A goodly amount, as any one who has eaten it for six days can testify."

No one can study a book like this without taking a livelier interest in his bones, in everybody's bones, and their nourishment.

Diplomat Named Social Arbiter for White House

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 9.—[Special.]—Warren Delano Robbins, minister to Salvador, and a foreign career officer with wide experience, was appointed White House ceremonials officer today by President Hoover. Selection of Mr. Robbins for this post marked the first time that a diplomat of so high a grade has been selected as a social arbiter for a President.

Minister Robbins will devote his entire time to the task of guiding social activities at the White House and arranging for the many formal events that are a part of the life of a President of the United States. In the past, the office of White House ceremonials officer usually has been considered a part time "job" for one of the secretary of state's young men in the diplomatic service.

Many Formal Events.

Expanding social activities during the Hoover administration are responsible for the assignment of a full time official to the White House post. Perusal of the schedule of White House winter social season discloses an increase in the number of formal events given over previous years.

The new ceremonials officer, with the guidance of the state department, will have the task of arranging the precedence lists for White House dinners. Except in cases where President and Mrs. Hoover take a hand, his word as to where a guest is to sit at the White House board will be law.

More social importance now attaches to the White House ceremonials officer position than during previous administrations. In the past the state department has not only arranged the White House dinner lists, but has been at the beck and call of every cabinet member, senator, representative, or, in fact, any government official who wanted information as to how to place his guests at the banquet board.

When Stimson Balks.

When Secretary of State Stimson took over the state department portfolio, he found that the time of one man was completely taken up by puzzled hostesses anxious to know the answers to such questions as to whether Mr. X. should be seated below or above Mr. Y. Mr. Stimson immediately halted this practice, stating that his wife arranged her own dinner lists and he did not see why the wives of other officials should not do the same.

The net result is that capital hostesess now look more or less to the White House for guidance. This lacking, the hostess calls in a social secretary or works out her own guest list.

Aside from his purely social work, the White House ceremonials officer must know the procedure to be followed when high ranking officials of other governments visit the United States. Before these dignitaries call at the White House he must look over the precedents and rehearse the White House aides in their parts of the ceremony. In some cases instructions as to where to stand and what to do are placed in the hands of members of the party of the visiting official.

Mr. Robbins will continue to hold his post as minister to Salvador, but will spend all his time in Washington. His appointment is for the remainder of the social season. Mr. Robbins is reputed to be wealthy and maintains homes in Tuxedo, N. Y., and Washington, D. C.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Salt Cod Dinner.

At any time when we wish to go colonial we have but to resort to a salt cod dinner. In a jocose way the salt cod has been called "Cape Cod turkey," and we can say that people were almost more than devoted to boiled cod and boiled potatoes with egg sauce, to the fish hash that was made from the leftover, and to the fish balls, which were considered a typical New England breakfast dish for a century or more. This devotion got into the college song with the refrain, "The waiter shouted through the hall, We give no bread with one fish ball."

Plain salt cod toasted before the open fire used to be one of the relishes recommended to raise a thirst, though this thirst was not gratified with anything stronger than old hard cider.

Salt codfish is not as it used to be, as dry as a bone. Today we buy a moist and boneless piece, very lightly cured, from a well packed box of pieces. Sometimes the box consists entirely of codfish middles—the best cut—and even this lightly cured, but perhaps it is best always to soak the codfish, even if for but a short time after washing it. If it should be dry and salt change the water several times and soak it for hours.

When ready to cook cover the fish with cold water, bring it practically to the boiling point, but do not boil, and then simmer fifteen or twenty minutes. We may now serve it with a garnish and the potatoes on the same platter, having it exceedingly hot. The sauce may be served over the whole or not, as we please.

If we use any parsley it should be but a little, and be thoroughly dry. The dishes in which a salt cod dinner is served should not only be hot but should also be served quickly. A beet salad goes well with this dinner.

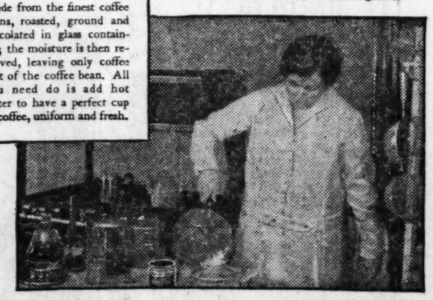
Miss Farmer's SCHOOL OF COOKERY proves new G Washington's coffee is an economy

Miss Alice Bradley, Principal of Miss Farmer's School of Cookery, Boston, Mass., and Cooking Editor of a famous woman's magazine.

How G. Washington's is prepared for your table

Made from the finest coffee beans, roasted, ground and percolated in glass containers; the moisture is then removed, leaving only coffee part of the coffee bean. All you need do is add hot water to have a perfect cup of coffee, uniform and fresh.

Regular tests made by the school staff definitely established the unvarying flavor and freshness of G. Washington's.



"We recently concluded a test of several coffees to determine the actual cost per cup to the average housewife. Four different brands were used, and two cups of each kind were made daily... Our results showed that G. Washington's Coffee was uniformly good throughout the two weeks of the test, while the other coffees differed from day to day. And further, it was proven that G. Washington's, especially considering its quality and service to the housewife, is not expensive or out of line in price. G. Washington's Coffee costs you less than old-style coffee, considering time and labor saved the housewife."

{Signed} ALICE BRADLEY, Principal

THE longer you use G. Washington's, the more you appreciate how economical it is. The small can makes just as many cups as a large can of ground coffee beans. It is as easy to make a good single cup as to make six, without any waste... It is good coffee, pure coffee, nothing but coffee—made from only the finest coffee grown. The can you buy contains "the coffee part of the coffee bean" with the grounds and water removed... To serve, simply add a level teaspoonful to hot water. There are no pots or percolators to scour, no bothersome strainers or grounds: literally, it is the coffee that makes itself... G. Washington's is uniformly fresh, because it is made and packed immediately after roasting, to preserve the original freshness and fine flavor... Send 10 cents for a sample can; G. Washington Coffee Refining Company, 1300 Hanover Avenue, Morris Plains, New Jersey.

Real Chance for Originality in Setting a Table

Express Your Personality, Says Sally Lunn.

BY SALLY LUNN.

The elusive quality of individuality without which no artistic expression is successful is of paramount importance in the intimate art of table decoration. Although the desirability of study and knowledge of the various aspects of tablecraft has been stressed in these weekly homilies, it has not been my intention to belittle the element of personal taste. Rather, I have wanted to demonstrate that table decoration is not an exclusive province to be enjoyed only by those who have means, opportunity, and the inclination to delve into it deeply, but that it also holds joy and gratification for any woman, no matter how limited her scope may be.

It is not necessary to possess great quantities of china, glass, linens, and silverware in order to consider yourself interested in table decoration. Table decoration is not concerned with display. Any housewife who spends two minutes to put a bowl of fruit in the center of the breakfast table with an eye to its decorative properties is a table decorator, even if the degree to which she can exert her taste is less extensive than that of Mrs. Gold Coast, who has a large butler's pantry crammed with the handsomest table things in the world.

Be Yourself.

Since this ingredient of individual taste is so important, by all means exercise it to the fullest extent in arranging your tables. It doesn't make any difference if you use whisk brooms for a centerpiece if you like them. The important thing is to express your own self, and if whisk brooms please you they will please those who are fond of you and what you like. Whisk brooms is an extreme example to take, and safe, as few of us have such radically unusual tastes.

On the whole, our own taste is reliable for us and acceptable to those who know us. Just be sure that you honestly like things and are not fooling yourself into liking them because someone else has convinced you that they should be liked. Sometimes you will find that experimentation is necessary to determine what you really do like, but it is part of adventure and romance to try again.

Hostess Gives Ideas.

Mrs. John R. Winterbotham Jr., one of Chicago's young hostesses who enjoys a reputation for setting unusual and attractive tables, remarked in a radio talk she gave this week on table decoration: "If we have the courage of our convictions we will be most successful." She prefers artificial table centerpieces to flowers, and accordingly rarely uses flowers. She believes that more and more women are interested in table decoration because they are becoming more confident of their own powers.

I might add that the secret for her charming tables lies in the fact that they express her own personality, and it is considered a most charming one.

BREAKFAST STARTS THE DAY OFF GAYLY

This pleasing breakfast table displays the charm of individuality that Sally Lunn considers the most important attribute to good table decoration.

Avocado, Ritzy Fruit, Becomes a Standard Dish

Delicious Flavor Wins Many Friends.

BY PAUL POTTER.

Needless is the trip to more temperate climes if the only mission be to secure fruits that abound there during the winter months. For, under modern orchard cultivation, packing and refrigerated shipping methods, the Chicagoan can enjoy every advantage of the Floridan or Californian except the pleasure of picking the fruit from the laden trees.

Even so, few realize the delicious luxury of a salad or even an entrée derived from the nutty heart of the avocado pear unless some visitor in the southland has cultivated the taste. Once considered a rare and expensive dish, this fruit is rapidly becoming standard in all but a couple of months in the year.

The avocado, mistakenly called alligator pear, is with the banana a contribution from Central and South America to the continental populations northward. Its cultivation over large areas in Florida and California is a matter of but thirty years or so, during which many handicaps of developing varieties and repelling insect invasions have been surmounted. Horticulturists believe there is a bright future for this pear, just as there has been for the grapefruit.

High In Food Value.

"Some 6,000 acres in California and Florida are now planted to avocados," according to a dispatch from the United States department of agriculture. "Because of its high nutritive value, the avocado deserves a place in the diet. In oil content, ranging from 10 to 30 per cent, this pear far exceeds any other fresh fruit eaten in the fresh or raw state, while its 2 per cent protein is more than twice that in other common fruits. It possesses about 75 per cent of the fuel value of cereals and has far more than that of lean meat or eggs."

The avocado in most demand is about a pound in weight, although many prefer the smaller ones with thinner skin. The rough skin or variation in color from green and purple to crimson or maroon, is an indication of difference in taste or mealiness of the edible interior, but the outward roughness should not be a discriminating factor in selecting a pear.

Resist Mild Frosts.

Varieties securing the preference of growers, nowadays, are resistant to mild frosts, with shells sufficiently thick to be packed and shipped without bruising. More attention is being given to combating insect enemies, and to the selection of varieties with the best pulp and firmly imbedded seeds. Seed propagation has given way to budding, in order to keep these select strains pure.

In Florida, the Trapp is most widely planted, with Pollock as second choice. The most promising pear varieties in California are said by F. W. Popenoe, horticulturist, to be Taft, Lyon, Meserve and Murrieta. Several named varieties have also become established in Hawaii.

For commercial cultivation, winter fruiting kinds are now in demand. Some people with patience in tree culture find the avocado an attractive additon to the landscaping about the home, even in colder climates, although they forego the fruiting qualities in such cases.

PEPPER POT SOUP

Campbell's make it for you!

From earliest Colonial times visitors to Philadelphia have returned home with glowing tales of the generous entertainment and distinctive dishes served by the gracious hostesses of those days. And particularly did they have occasion to remark on "Peppery Pot," a piquant, zestful soup of such definite character and appeal that its charms stood out in their memories above all the delicacies associated with this city famous for good things.

And what a sumptuous soup is this Philadelphia Pepper Pot, such a unique and unusual soup, with an historical background as definitely fixed in the traditions of Philadelphia as are Benjamin Franklin, Carpenter's Hall, Independence Hall or the Betsy Ross House themselves.

No other soup is like it.

A rich stock, velvety-smooth and subtly blended by Campbell's special Pepper Pot cook, with hearty pieces of delicious meat, a racy dash of savory thyme, sweet marjoram, freshly-ground black peppercorns, generously enriched with diced potatoes and carrots, sweet pimientos and tempting macaroni dumplings.

Everybody ought to know Campbell's Pepper Pot. Such distinction! What definite personality. No wonder that its fame and reputation for hearty goodness and pungent savor have spread far beyond the city of its origin. An original soup, wholly American, which even the French cannot surpass for piquancy and zest. Your grocer can supply you with Campbell's Pepper Pot or will gladly get it for you. 12 cents a can.

French Paintings on Show at Anderson, Knoedler Galleries

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

There are two exhibits of French painting from the late nineteenth century to the present day on view this week. One may be found at the Chester H. Johnson gallery and the other at the Knoedler galleries. The first has only a few paintings but the two galleries taken together supply a very creditable résumé of the subject.

There is a surpassingly fine example of Henri Rousseau at the Chester Johnson gallery. It is a painting of the jungle with monkeys and oranges in cheerful plenty. The color is clear and rich and the painting has body and substance. A less important Rousseau jungle picture is found at Knoedler's. Also at the Chester Johnson gallery may be seen a new Degas, a reserved still life of Derain, a shoreline in gray of exquisite quality by Cezanne, a warm Renoir, a cold Picasso, and a Gauguin still life of merit.

At the Knoedler galleries the exhibit is somewhat larger. There one may revel in the mistiness of a magnificent canvas by Claude Monet, "Waterloo Bridge." By Renoir are "La Source," one of the least beautiful paintings of his that has been shown in sometime, and "Madame Renoir Allaitant Son Enfant," in which to a very light palette Renoir's wife is nursing a well grown infant.

The "Zinnias," by Van Gogh is deliberately hard, bitter and intense, an extremely characteristic bit of painting. "La Baie de Grandchamp," by Sourat is delightful. Rousseau's "Vase of Flowers" is a charming still life with the flowers in a white jug on a blue floor with a gray background. Derain shows a nice still life and a finely modeled woman's head. Matisse has a picturesque still life in which a yellow cloth throws the blue plate and its accompanying peaches into delicious relief.

Modigliani appears in a more cheerful mood than hitherto with the portrait of a red haired girl and "La Belle Chocolatiere," who wears an irresistible twinkle in her eyes. "The Eglise de Saint-Denis, Paris," by Utrille is stunning and the "Flowers in a Vase" by Odilon Redon is exquisite in composition and color and texture.

Both of these exhibitions will be continued through the month.

Antoinette Tells How to Treat Dry Skin in Winter

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Yesterday we were talking about the oil drought that threatens the beauty of the female complexion. We suggested the inadvisability of deleting the diet of all fat and oil properties on the theory that it doesn't profit a woman's looks much if she gain her girlish waistline but lose her girlish complexion. We are referring to that scaly, dry, lusterless condition due to the absence of oil in the skin.

This is the type of skin that falls most readily into the wrinkled class, and it is subject to other discomfitures peculiarly its own. Right now it may be chapping unmercifully. It may, indeed, be suffering the inelegant "winter's itch." For the latter ill we can suggest a good pomade made of an ounce of cocoanut oil and an ounce of cocoa butter. Warm, mix and allow to cool. Apply all over the body a couple of times a week and to the affected parts as often as necessary. Superfatted soaps for the bath are advised for such sufferers also.

The face of a dry-skinned person requires protection from extremes of temperature, soaps and irritating cosmetics. Water must be used sparingly on the face. Olive or almond oil may be used freely, or your favorite cold cream, since it will probably contain animal fats or mineral oils to grease the skin. But always there should be left to remain on the skin a protective film of the oil or cream.

Cosmetics that are too strong and too astringent must be foregone entirely. In the care of a baby's skin bran baths are frequently recommended and the same recommendation may be made for adult dry skin. Put a pint of wheat bran in a sack (the old salt bag will do) and throw it into the bath. Squeeze the water in and out of the sack until the bath becomes milky.

For a wash bowl a small, square sized bag made of cheesecloth will do. And you can use the bag as you would soap. You can add orris root to lend a fragrance, if you wish. The bran bath softens the skin.

Another popular bath for the delicate, sensitive skin is one in which a cup of ordinary rolled oats is mixed with half a cup of almond meal, put into the tiny cheesecloth bags and used as described above.

Miss Ryan of Washington Bride of Count De Janze

PARIS, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Miss Maria Genevieve Ryan of Washington, D. C., today was married to Count Frederic Jacques Francois de Janze today. The civil ceremony was performed at the city hall of the Sixteenth ward, the religious right following at the Church of St. Pierre de Chaillot.

In 1927 the marriage of Count de Janze with the former Alice Silverthorne of Chicago was annuled by the Vatican in 1927, making the religious ceremony today possible.

The annulment followed the shooting of Viscount Raymond de Trafford at the north station in Paris by the then countess who also wounded herself. She was given a suspended sentence of six months.

After a wedding breakfast the De Janzes entrained for Nice where they will spend their honeymoon. In the spring they will go to the United States where the count has many acquaintances.

Miss Eugenie Bournique Will Open Auto Show

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 9.—[Special.]—Miss Eugenie Bournique, Prospect avenue, a leader in the younger social set, will open the 1930 automobile show at the Milwaukee Auditorium Saturday night, it was announced today. L. D. Frint, president of the Milwaukee Automotive Trades association, will introduce Miss Bournique.

Miss Lucille Mollan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Mollan, 4938 Kenmore avenue, and John P. Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Hamilton, 4530 Lowell avenue, will be married tomorrow morning at St. Thomas of Canterbury church, 4827 Kenmore avenue.

Women from Many Towns, Cities Shopping Here for Musicians

The musician genius came tumbling off his pedestal yesterday in a Palmer house conference room where the National Civic Music association's delegates from 157 cities met. Temperament was given a dollars and cents evaluation.

Delegates, who have undertaken responsibility for their home towns' cultural bettermen, window-shopped from a long list of "mediums, betters, and bests," seeking the most for the money. A famous artist at $3,500 often lost a date to a good newer one at $500.

With Dema E. Harshbarger, president of the association, urging them to candor, delegates called Mary McCormic's programs "too modern."

While some pianists were rated enthusiastically at the top, including Echaniz, the general view, as given by Miss Harshbarger, was:

"If there's any way of keeping four or five hundred pianists in Europe next year, let's do it. Let's pay their board and room and keep 'em over there."

Margherita Salvi, new coloratura of the Chicago Civic Opera, was praised.

"You leave it to the musical snobs to tell you what you should have," Miss Harshbarger chided the delegates. "This city idea is all the bunk. I don't care if it's Memphis, Milwaukee, or Chicago—you can't put 2,000 people in a hall and have every one standing on their toes when Harold Bauer gets through playing. You have to cram good music down their throats. You're dealing with masses, not classes."

The delegates then retired to the Opera club, 18 West Walton place. There they were given a tea and a program by Pavley, Oukrainsky, and members of their ballet.

Tonight the visitors will see the Chicago Civic Opera present acts of four operas, in which practically the whole personnel of the company will take part. Tomorrow they will be the honored guests at luncheon. There Samuel Insull will be the principal speaker.

MRS. H. P. WHITNEY MAY MAKE GERMANS' STATUE OF BENNETT

PARIS, Jan. 9.—Art circles here learn that Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney is among the chief candidates for the honor of sculpturing a monument in memory of the American flyer, Floyd Bennett, which a German committee is planning.

The Germans believe it would please America, especially American women, to have an American artist do the monument they plan to erect in Berlin in honor of the man who died of pneumonia after trying to rescue the German ocean flyers of the Bremen, Capt. Herman Koehl, the late Baron von Huenefeld, and the Irishman, Col. James Fitzmaurice, on Greenly island.

This week Bela Pollak, representing the German Bennett committee, is sailing to America to inquire the wishes of American flying circles in the matter.

To Give French Play.

The Sororité Franco-Americaine, a club composed of French women, will present its annual playlet, in French, at the Women's City club auditorium, 180 North Michigan avenue, tomorrow evening.

Horsemen to Feast.

The Chicago Equestrian association has issued invitations for its 22d annual banquet to be held at the Medinah Athletic club on Saturday evening, Jan. 18, at 7:30 o'clock. A. C. Thompson is president.

his teeth sound
—with Bottled Sunshine!

"If your baby's bones are to grow strong and straight, if his teeth are to come in sound, even and uncrowded, he must have special protection. Even the breast-fed baby needs it." Authorities are today stressing this fact to mothers.

Scientists say that there are two plentiful sources of protection. Sunshine and good cod-liver oil!

Sunshine could keep your baby safe if he could get enough of it on his bare body. But clothing and bad weather prevent this. Even ordinary window glass filters out the rays that protect.

For this reason physicians have come to depend upon "Bottled Sunshine"—good cod-liver oil—as the sure method of protection.

Thousands of the leading specialists choose Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil. They prefer Squibb's because it tests so high in two essential vitamins. It is very rich in the "sunshine vitamin," Vitamin D, which helps to build good bones and teeth, and in Vitamin A which promotes normal growth and increases resistance to infections.

Your physician will tell you that Bottled Sunshine is necessary in building the kind of bones and teeth you want your child to have. For your protection insist on Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil, the vitamin-tested, vitamin-protected oil. You can get it at all good drug stores. Plain and Mint-flavored.

Twelve Conjure Egypt's Gayety from Blizzard

BY THALIA ——.

The Twelfth Night ball, perennially one of the brightest of the succession of winter parties, is to take place this evening. The Michigan Square building, just completed, at the corner of Ohio street and Michigan avenue, provides the locale for the affair.

A scene of days of the Ptolemies, times when Cleopatra ruled in Alexandria, will be reproduced in the circular lobby of the building, which has pillars extending three stories high to a gold dome. The effect will be assisted by decorators provided by the Twelve Knights committee and the gay crowd that attends the party attired in costume appropriate for the era. Just how the cloakroom accommodations and the supper which usually is served during the evening are to be managed, I don't know, but the Twelve Knights doubtless have coped with the solution to such problems.

Before the ball proper there will be numerous makeup parties followed by large and small dinner-dances, and so the Twelfth Night affair probably will not get under way until about midnight. Five of the young bachelors, Otto and William Madlener, Herbert McLaughlin, Irving Osborne Jr., and Joseph Belden, have issued invitations, styling themselves the "Five Old Men," for a dinner-dance at the Chicago Yacht club.

Other hosts include Mr. and Mrs. John F. Jelke Jr., who are to entertain for the Chester Shepards at the Casino; the Philip B. Mahers, who will have a dinner party at the same place; the Carl Stibolts and the James Ward Thornes.

The marriage last Saturday of Miss Rebecca Stickney, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edwin P. Stickney of Arlington, Mass., to Pierpont Morgan Hamilton, nephew of J. Pierpont Morgan

MISS LILLIAN SHEA.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Shea of 7524 Essex avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Lillian, to Frank H. McCoy Jr. of 5438 Ingleside avenue.

interested quite a large group of young Chicagoans who have known the former Miss Stickney on her several visits here when she was the guest of Mrs. Charles H. Fargo. Her duties on Harpers' Bazaar were the main reason for her trips to Chicago, but there was always quite a good deal of entertaining for her, as well as business. The wedding was a private one with only a few friends and relatives present.

The Chicago committee of the Frontier Nursing service will meet this evening at Mrs. Waller Borden's residence at 1020 Lake Shore drive. Mrs. Mary Breckinridge will give an illustrated lecture depicting the work of the organization.

The University of Michigan alumnæ will benefit from the sale of a large block of seats at the gala performance this evening at the Civic Opera house. The seats taken by the alumnæ are the only ones available to the public, as the balance of the house has been reserved for the delegates to the conference of National Civic Music association.

Col. Albert E. Peirce of Winnetka has purchased Longmeadow farm from C. Colton Daughaday and has succeeded Mr. Daughaday as master of the Longmeadow hunt. Col. Peirce proposes to develop the Longmeadow pack of fox hounds, not only for drag hunting in the fall near Winnetka, but also for fox hunting in the winter on his Virginia estate near Warrenton.

The hounds and horses are to be shipped to Virginia on Jan. 15 for the season there, and will be returned to Winnetka about May 1. The Longmeadow pack was established in 1923, and Mr. Daughaday has been master since then.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lloyd of New York City are being congratulated on the birth of a daughter at the Woman's hospital on Wednesday. Mrs. Lloyd is the former Miss Josephine Munroe, daughter of the Charles A. Munroes. Her marriage last winter was one of the most elaborate of the season.

Mrs. John A. Prosser of Lake Forest and her little girls, Diane and Sylvia, are at Miami Beach, Fla., visiting Mrs. Prosser's mother, Mrs. Frank J. Egan.

Mrs. Hugh Johnston McBirney is planning to shake Chicago's snow from her galoshes soon to go to Europe. According to her plans, she'll be in Paris about March 1, and then go on to Italy to spend the following two months in her plazzo overlooking Florence. She has made arrangements for her Lake Forest house to be rented for the summer months, and will not return to Chicago until next fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Conover of the Belden-Stratford hotel departed yesterday for Palm Beach, Fla., to remain for two months.

Society Attends Opera "Thais"

That Mary Garden and Vanni-Marcoux have an irresistible attraction for Chicago opera lovers was demonstrated again last night by the large and enthusiastic audience at the performance of "Thais." Henry H. Porter was host in his box to Dr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Ryerson, Mr. and Mrs. Augustus A. Carpenter, and Mrs. Edward D. Hasles.

Mrs. Waller Borden had as guests Mme. Chana Orloff, Parisian sculptress; Mrs. Henry H. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. David Adler, Arthur T. Aldis, George Voevodski, and Ove Vett. Mr. and Mrs. Wirth S. Dunham had with them their daughter, Miss Jane Dunham, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Lindsay III., and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rogers.

Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Haggard, Mrs. Charles W. Dempster, and Edwin D. Krenn were guests of Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick. Miss Alice Haugan and Theodore Ritch were with Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Burnham. Miss Rosemary Baur was hostess in the Robert R. McCormick box to Miss Cornelia Fairbanks, one of the season's debutantes, and her visiting cousin, Miss Cornelia Faibanks of California; Clifton Utley, Ralph Hines, Reginald Luke, and William Bull.

In the Walter Ayer box Miss Clara Lake had as her guests Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bendelari, Harry A. Bigelow, and Harry Webber. Mrs. R. Townsend McKeever was hostess to Mrs. William A. Yager, Mrs. Jacob Baur, Mr. and Mrs. Hollister Sturges, Dr. Alexander Stevenson, and G. B. Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph S. Blome and Mr. and Mrs. William F. Juergens were guests of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Jaeger. Judge Hugo Pam and Miss Carrie Pam had with them Mr. and Mrs. Leo M. Steele and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Uppenheimer.

Mrs. Warren Morgan has returned from a motor trip through France and Spain.

Mrs. Caspar Whitney and her daughter, Miss Faith Whitney, are in Atlantic City.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hendy Bradford will start on Saturday for Santa Barbara, Cal., where they plan to remain until April.

Mrs. Vernon Howe Bailey sailed for Europe last night on the Saturnia.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Jan. 9.—Mrs. Hoover had not recovered sufficiently today to attend the reception to the judiciary, the first state function of her husband's administration. It was given tonight in the White House. The schedule of White House social affairs had been entirely upset by the period of mourning observed for the late secretary of war, James W. Good. The first official function usually is the cabinet dinner, followed by the diplomatic reception. Both of those were canceled.

The chief justice and Mrs. Taft were absent because of the illness of the former. Mr. Justice Holmes, the ranking justice after the chief justice, also was absent. Mr. Justice Van Devanter headed the line of the guests of honor. Mrs. Van Devanter was absent. Mr. Justice and Mrs. Brandeis, Mrs. Sutherland, and Mrs. Edward T. Sanford all were missing. Mrs. Pierce Butler and Mrs. Harlan Fiske Stone were the only women in the group. This was the smallest Supreme court group received at the White House in many years.

The smallest cabinet line also seen in many years at a state reception was the one tonight. The secretary of state and Mrs. Stimson and the secretary of the navy and Mrs. Adams are all en route to London for the naval conference. It was the first appearance in this distinguished line for all the members, except the secretary of labor and Mrs. Davis, and it was of particular interest to old timers to see Vice President Curtis and his sister promoted from the senate circle to second place in the land.

Miss Gertrude Lamont, debutante daughter of the secretary of commerce and Mrs. Robert P. Lamont of Chicago, returned here yesterday from her holiday visit in Chicago. Mrs. Lamont wore a gown of gold lace and gold slippers. Miss Lamont wore black velvet made in the new long flaring silhouette fashion. She will make her debut at a tea on Feb. 3, and the secretary and Mrs. Lamont will give a dinner dance for her Feb. 8. These dates were both postponed from last month.

Grandmother Gives Sage Advice on Rearing Children

By Mrs. Gladys Huntington Bevans

We expect the young intelligent mothers to whom a baby is a new and thrilling experience to want to learn and to think.

But as time goes on, I feel a growing enthusiasm and respect for the grandmothers whose minds, instead of holding up the good old days for all to admire and instead of closing to new ideas are open to them and constantly growing. Of course, many of these grandmothers have always been intuitive and intelligent about children, but in addition to that they are eager to expand.

These grandmothers write me from time to time and always have something interesting to say. Ordinarily, I omit printing the pleasant little bouquets of appreciation that come to me in letters. But I am leaving this one in the following letter because I do not want to learn over to the idealistic, visionary, or theoretical, and it pleases me to be sure that I am not.

"Dear Mrs. Bevans: When I say that your articles show the most good 'horse sense' I have ever discovered in one person, I mean to be sincerely complimentary. I like the emphasis you place on cause and effect.

"If parents could only take time to 'go away back and sit down' and look on their problems as they might on the predicament of some friend or neighbor, with a view to giving unprejudiced advice, it might help them a lot to be more open minded.

"I have reared three children and am now rearing a little grandchild—3 years—a live wire who taxes my patience, endurinca, and ability to the limit.

"I try to invoice—take stock—of all the traits and natural impulses of a child. Stubbornness equals tenacity of purpose—does it not? One does not wish to eliminate that. But it does take a lot of ingenuity, quick wit, perseverance, and above all, time—time—time to find a way to put this trait to good use—especially in very young children.

"Training children, or young horses, seems to me something like handling a sailboat. You must know how to pull in your sails, if necessary, how to make use of wind and tides, how to tack and how to lie low, if it seems expedient."

That letter really says a great deal, does it not?

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each childish saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address Bright sayings to Aunty Bee, The Tribune, Chicago.

It was February—a month of many birthdays in our family—and in addition it was our custom to call attention to the birthdays of famous persons by something a little extra in the way of fitting table decorations, etc. Came a day when a simple luncheon was set before the family accompanied by a dearth of birthday material.

Robert looked the table over critically and slumping back in his chair, complained, "I don't like des' plain days any more." B. S.

Little Jackie came home from grade school one day and showed his report card to his mother. He had received the grade of "ex" in all his studies except "Citizenship."

His mother wondered why he didn't get "ex" in that, too, and asked him, "Well, Jackie, just what is "Citizenship?"

"O," answered Jackie, "I guess it's the way I sit in my seat." G. F. G.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

A Very Sad Case.

"Can you be of assistance to an elderly couple I know? The man is 72, not well, and is an inmate of the poor house. His wife, 67, tries to support herself by cleaning when she is able. A friend has supplied her with blankets and some other things which were badly needed, but she has no coal and food is very scarce.

"They both need clothing which perhaps you can supply—shoes, size 7E, an overcoat, size 42, a suit, night shirts, and sweater for the man, and dresses and coat, size 44 or 46, shoes, size 5½, and underwear, 42 or 44, for the woman. A. C."

The comfort we always like to think of as accompanying old age has been denied this couple and along with many other discomforts they must suffer separation, also. They need help badly and they are so deserving. Won't you do what you can for them?

Daytime Dresses Are Simple and Tailored

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS.—[Special.]—The old year was the stage of a new drama of style in which skirt lengths, ably assisted by coat lengths, did a star sister act that is expected to have a long run in the new year. There has been no getting the skirt hem and the coat hem together since longer skirts came back to fashion. Coats kept going up and skirts kept sinking lower in order to keep a chic silhouette for the street.

The advance spring style shows of the Paris couture, however, have finally brought these two together, by the simple and practical method of shortening the skirt and lengthening the coat, so that the evenly long ensemble is now the newest thing in French fashions. You see pictured in our sketch the correct length for coat and dress that are to runabout all day in the city streets. One does not go to greater lengths than the other.

This Worth ensemble has other style lines to put over. It exemplifies the one color ensemble, this one being all a lovely shade of green with a slight bluish tinge. It also speaks of the popularity and chic of the one piece dress and coat ensemble. Paris, this winter, prefers such ensembles to those with three or four pieces.

Dresses for general daytime wear, like the one pictured, are simple and rather tailored. They make use of the button, which clothes psychologists tell us has the most mystery allure of all the trimmings yet conceived by fashions. Worth is lavish with this allure, using rows of buttons on skirt and waist of this green crêpe frock.

The bloused waist, with its high waistline emphasized by a green leather belt; the low plaited flare on the skirt, and the long yoke above it are parts that combine to give this frock the smartest lines. The coat is straight, with a little turnover collar, and a big cape collar edged in fox, which may be worn close around the neck, if you like.

The unusual cuffs on the sleeves of this broadcloth coat have the flare that is essential to the fashionable coat sleeve, these days. A green alligator bag matches the green alligator belt.

Fellow Blames Girl Because She Won't Lend Him Money

BY DORIS BLAKE.

It was expected, of course, that we'd get some reaction here to the stock exchange's failure to live up to its promise of perpetual affluence. But we did not expect that men would be writing in telling us how their girls—wives, in a couple of instances—refused to help out on the margin calls.

But here's "D. J.'s" idea of a girl who, perhaps, had better not be married to him, after all. He has known her for seven years, during most of which time she has been the party of the second part who has shared his spending money. During the last two years no other girl has had a dinner, a dance or a theater at his expense except this one girl who turned down his plea for funds at the critical margin moment.

Well, that time was tided over, somehow, with the girl still in possession of her several thousands. But now D. J. needs money to pay some mortgages on real estate. He went to the girl again, using what he thought was real diplomacy, this time. He said: "Do you know where I could borrow some money?"

She said: "No, do you?"

That wasn't so funny, not to D. J. He thinks the woman is too selfish to be considered for wife-adoption now or at any time in his future career. It is a good, trusting wife he thought he was bargaining for and now she turns out to be a cold, selfish woman.

Anyway, we answer, the lady will have her several thousands to console herself with if she is left out of D. J.'s wedding party. Probably more added to that—if she can hang on to her money that way. Maybe the long seven year wait may have steeled the woman to refusal, too.

Personally, the picture of a man trying to wrest away the life savings of a single woman, no matter what the circumstances, inspires no sympathy for him. The picture in itself is so out of focus with what you expect from a regular male person. And too many tales have been unfolded in the ears of this confidante to believe that money loans acquired on the grounds of love and future marriage ever bode anything but disaster for the girl involved.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

She's Protecting Herself.

"Dear Miss Blake: The girl I love doesn't seem to realize what 'steady' means, and often goes out with other fellows. What shall I do? J. E."

"Steady" doesn't mean anything to a girl, for she never knows when the young man's attentions may be diverted elsewhere.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

"Not Today, Girlie!"

While driving on Michigan avenue recently with a girl friend we were halted by traffic lights. I had two letters and dashed from the car to mail them. With my eyes on the lights I dashed back, opened the door, and started to get in, when a masculine voice crisply said:

"Not today, girlie. Try the next car!"

A roadster, with a man at the wheel and two in the rumble seat, had slipped in between my car and the curb. I was holding up two lanes of traffic at the busiest time. With horns tooting and laughter issuing from many cars I got into the right car and we drove away as fast as the law allowed. K. C. R.

Spoke the Truth.

Several years ago, after a long siege of company and being most tired, from entertaining, as the last guest departed, I sweetly remarked,

"I'm awfully glad you are going!"

Immediately, I wished the earth would open and swallow me up!

BLACKHAWKS, DETROIT PLAY OVERTIME TIE, 1-1

REISELT PLAYS LAYTON TODAY FOR CUE TITLE

Kieckhefer Beaten by Denton, 50-26.

New York, Jan. 9.—[Special.]—Angie Kieckhefer of Chicago was eliminated from a chance for the title when he bowed to Tiff Denton of Kansas City tonight in the world's three cushion billiard championship tournament at the Palm Garden.

Entering the match with a chance to go into a tie with Johnny Layton, present champion, and Otto Reiselt, former crown bearer, if he beat Denton, Kieckhefer lost by a score of 50 to 26 in 38 innings.

As matters stand now the championship will be decided tomorrow evening. This will bring together Layton and Reiselt, and to the winner will go the crown.

Allan Hall, St. Louis, stayed in the running for third place as he tumbled Gus Copulos of Detroit into sixth position with a 50 to 31 victory in 11 innings. The defeat was Copulos' second of the day, while the victory put Hall's fourth triumph in six starts. Hall had a high run of 4 and Copulos 7.

It generally was believed that Kieckhefer, one of the few left-handed billiard stars in the country, would take Denton's measure, thus precipitating a triple tie for first place and requiring a play-off after the Layton-Reiselt match tomorrow night.

Layton and Reiselt each has won five matches and lost one. Kieckhefer has won four and lost two. Denton has won four and lost three. The triumph over Kieckhefer was Denton's second victory of the day. In the first afternoon match he defeated Gus Copulos of Detroit, 50 to 31, in 50 innings. In the final afternoon match, Charles Jordan of Los Angeles defeated Harry Schuler of Brooklyn, 50 to 38, in 65 innings.

Denton, a one time holder of the title, played the two best games he has displayed in the tournament in scoring his double victory. He was never in danger against Kieckhefer and was able to make the balls roll almost as he wished, whereas Kieckhefer had great trouble in this respect and was continually faced with bad positions at which to shoot.

Denton Runs Six.

Kieckhefer won the bank and missed the spot shot, emulating the feat of Schuler in his match against Jordan. Denton went out with a flourish and after singletons in the first two innings ran six and thereafter was well in command. He added another run of six in the twelfth inning and he closed his game with a cluster of five.

The best playing by Kieckhefer came in the thirteenth, fourteenth, and fifteenth innings and again in the 18th, 29th, and 30th.

Denton's finishing game was as flashy as his start. In the final seven innings he counted in each and made a total in that time of 13.

In Denton's match against Copulos he trailed at the beginning, the Detroit player making a run of eight in the thirteenth inning. But Denton won five in his half of the same inning and thereafter led. Denton resorted to considerable safety play toward the end.

	W	L	HR	BG	TP
Reiselt	5	1	8	49	298
Layton	5	1	9	23	288

STADIUM HOLDS FIRST 1930 FIGHT SHOW TONIGHT

Stadium Card

Jackie Fields vs. Jimmy Owens, 148 pounds, 10 rounds.
King Tut vs. Bruce Flowers, 138 pounds, 10 rounds.
Billy Wallace vs. Danny Delmont, 135 pounds, 10 rounds.
Barney Ross vs. Louie New, 135 pounds, 6 rounds.
Billy Gabriel vs. Jack Barry, 165 pounds, 4 rounds.

The Chicago Stadium fight department has the snow all swept away from the door and is otherwise prepared to let the fans in to see the Stadium's first boxing show of 1930 tonight, beginning at 8:15 o'clock.

Although Jackie Fields, welterweight champion, is billed as the main attraction, his encounter with Jimmy Owens is accepted by the fans, it is said, as more of an exhibition than a fight. This circumstance, however, is purely incidental to the prospects for a thrilling evening, for in addition to the Fields-Owens go there will be two other ten rounders in which the performers are well matched on the downright slugging basis.

Those who have seen all the principals perform appear to be divided as to whether the King Tut-Bruce Flowers or the Billy Wallace-Danny Delmont match will be productive of the greater action. Because Delmont is a Chicago boy and a favorite here, many are predicting that Danny's fight, though listed third on the card on the basis of importance, will be the thriller of the show.

This is not to say, however, that there will be anything slow about the Tut-Flowers affair. Tut still is in the glow of his recent Milwaukee knock-out victory over the aforementioned Wallace but is said not to be over-confident in his contemplation of his Negro adversary from New York.

SHIRES ADVANCE SALE OF $22,000 BREAKS RECORD

Boston, Mass., Jan. 9.—(Special.) C. Arthur Shires, who rarely missed them at first base for Comiskey last summer when the great man wore only one glove and, now, as a prize fighter with two gloves, stops them all with his face or torso, may be a flop as a boxer, but he is no box office joke in Boston. The Garden officials awoke tonight to the surprising realization that the bout between Shires and Al Spohrer, Braves catcher, tomorrow night had drawn an advance sale of more than $22,000, a record in Boston ring history.

The seat sale record is all the more remarkable when it is considered that the top price is $4.40 per seat.

Among others amazed at the turn matters have taken is Spohrer himself. Spohrer has received more than 700 letters, the majority of them from fans, baseball and fistic, who urge Al to knock the bragging Shires for a home run.

VOTES "NOT GUILTY"

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 9.—[Special.]—For the second time within the last two days Charles Arthur Shires won a decision today, the kind that cleared the Great One of all alleged irregularities in the ring. Shires, appearing before the Michigan boxing commission, was exonerated from charges that he had made efforts to fix or was a party thereto his scheduled New Year's day fight with Battling Criss in Detroit.

But Shires' manager, Nessie Blumenthal, and two Detroit fight figures, one a promoter, the other a fight manager, namely, Benny Ray and Scotty Strachan, were punished with suspensions, bans that stay until a more thorough investigation is made by the commission.

If, in the process of further investigation, it develops that Criss actually was tampered with, those guilty face jail sentences and fines.

Charges against Ray and Strachan were made by Vandes Gildersleeve, manager of Criss. Ray was the matchmaker for the West Side Athletic club of Detroit, which was promoting the fight.

Gildersleeve testified Criss was offered $300, or double his contract purse, to take a dive for Shires.

LEADING TENNIS PLAYERS FAVOR OPEN TOURNEYS

New York, Jan. 9.—(AP)—National open tennis championships, as proposed by the United States Lawn Tennis association, are favored by a substantial majority of the top ranking amateur players of the country.

The results of an official questionnaire, made public today in the magazine Tennis, showed 36 out of 42 replies in favor of establishing a new title tournament, open to amateurs and professionals alike. All 36 expressed willingness to compete. Five replies were noncommittal and only one negative.

Battalino Knocks Out Foe in Nontitle Bout

13 PREP TEAMS IN U. OF C. SWIM TRIALS TODAY

Several of the University of Chicago's interscholastic swim records are expected to be shattered when the thirteen leading prep teams of the Chicago territory go into action today in Bartlett gymnasium in the preliminaries of the sixth annual meet.

Tilden and Schurz, leaders for the last three years, with Tilden winning in 1927 and 1929 and Schurz copping in 1928, are the favorites for the team title, but Maine township will be a threat despite the loss through illness of Murphy, its star.

GIRL ATHLETE DIVORCES SON OF PHYSICIAN

Helen Filkey, holder of several women's world's records for running, hurdling and jumping, yesterday won a divorce from Beach Warren, son of Dr. H. S. Warren, 5632 Sheridan road, before Superior Judge Sabath. The decree, which was granted on charges of cruelty, restores to her the use of her maiden name. There was no request for alimony.

SAMMY MANDELL. MANUEL QUINTERO.

Von Porat and Uzcudun Enter Ring Tonight

New York, Jan. 9.—[Special.]—If the beatings he took from such exacting taskmasters as Herr Max Schmeling and Tuffy Griffith haven't robbed Paulino Uzcudun's left hook of its effectiveness and softened him up generally, a hotly contested fight may result tomorrow night in the Garden when the bounding Basque starts taking inventory of Otto von Porat's heavyweight stock in a ten round bout.

There is a deep rooted conviction among the habitués of Cauliflower alley that Paulino has gone over the hill, that he is all washed up and ready to be dispatched to the pressing department. The big bettors are backing that conviction with odds of 9 to 5. More generous souls, who have a wholesome respect for Von Porat's wallop, are wagering that Uzcudun will not be fully conscious at the finish.

Paulino licked Von Porat a year ago, but the Von Porat he meets tomorrow night will be a more formidable opponent. Otto was only a few punches away from a Miami fight with Sharkey the night he fought Phil Scott.

EXPECT 20,000 FANS

Miami Beach, Fla., Jan. 9.—(AP)—Sammy Mandell, lightweight champion, and Manuel Quintero topped off training today for their ten round nontitle fight here tomorrow night. The bout, to be held at the Miami Beach Kennel club arena, will open the series of major fistic attractions scheduled for Miami's 1930 season.

Workmen today were completing extension of the Kennel club arena's seating capacity to allow for a crowd of 20,000. Special trains are being run into Miami to carry fight fans, while a delegation of 350 Cuban enthusiasts is expected here from Havana by boat tomorrow.

Mandell was conceded an edge over his opponent, although many admitted the champion's lack of familiarity with left handers might cause him difficulties. He has been training with Sam Crosby, a southpaw, as the major part of his preparation.

Old Tom Sharkey, former heavyweight boxer, and Pat Maguire, Daytona Beach, Fla., another old time heavy, will present a four round exhibition as a feature of the card.

SHARKEY FINDS IDEAL PARTNER FOR MIAMI POLKA

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 9.—There is considerable indignation here over the invitation extended to Fainting Phil Scott, the English or horizontal heavyweight prize fighter, to dance with Jack Sharkey, the Leering Lithuanian of Boston, in the principal polka of the Garden corporation's winter production in Miami next month. The feeling among the members of the profession is that the Garden corporation has discriminated against a number of other, more deserving young men, and I am inclined to believe that this is the case, but somewhat, on your correspondent's part, there is no indignation but a sense that the heavyweight championship is again being decided strictly according to traditional routine.

Heavyweight champions never do rise to the rank and perquisites of the title by beating the best of their contemporaries, and now that the title has become a business asset of an estimated worth of $2,000,000 and the allied racketeering industry has shown such rare business precocity, it is practically impossible for a young pugilist to succeed on his merits as a prize fighter. Instead he must rely on the political acumen of his manager and the latter's alertness to make the most of momentary situations in the affairs of the firm which conducts these events.

House Title Since 1919.

The heavyweight championship has been a house title of the Tex Rickard and the Madison Square Garden corporation ever since 1919 when Jess Willard became so fatigued that he resigned it to Jack Dempsey in Toledo. Only once since that date has a heavyweight championship prize fight been conducted by any other interest, and that one, the affair of Dempsey and Tom Gibbons in Shelby, Mont., was not, strictly speaking, a contest, for the referee was a member of Dempsey's personal entourage and very loyal and conscientious.

Most of the time since Dempsey won the championship the majority of the heavyweights of any prominence whatever have been, in a manner of speaking, house employés of the Garden firm, and the pairings and the cross pairings have been arranged, as in the present instance of Sharkey and Fainting Phil Scott, so as to maintain the prestige of the leading employe until such time as another employe can be invested with a prestige of similar power.

The purpose of the winter prize fight in Miami is to fill the Miami stadium with customers and earn the rent, insurances and taxes, and a fair profit on the investment, and in order to exhibit Sharkey without risking that prestige which has been cultivated for him it was necessary to select an accompanist who would offer the least resistance.

Phil Has Fine Record?

For this purpose Fainting Phil Scott was admirably qualified on his previous showings in the U. S. A. He had executed six or seven swoons, in

WALTER LAUFER SETS RECORD IN C. A. A. U. SWIM

Lake Shore Leads in Club Competition.

Lake Shore Athletic club carried off the major share of the honors at the Central A. A. U. swimming championships in the Lake Shore pool last night, while three senior champions, although pressed to the limit, retained their laurels in the central amateur section.

The distinguishing performance of the evening was turned in by Walter Laufer, Lake Shore star, who successfully defended his title by taking first in two events and setting a new central district record in one of them. The record smashing came in the 150 yard backstroke event late in the program.

Laufer, who holds the indoor and outdoor national title in the 50 yard free style, had already chopped his way to a victory in his favorite event a shoulder ahead of Al Schwartz, Northwestern ace.

He was figured an easy winner in the 150 yard back stroke, for which he held the Central A. A. U. record of 1:44.6 with Johnny Weismuller. But before the surprised crowd was aware of the situation, Dick Hinch of Northwestern had plunged into a big lead which it seemed could not be wiped out.

For more than three-quarters of the race the Purple tanker continued the furious pace, but on the last two trips across the pool Laufer bobbed his way even with the collegian. In the last bobbing spurt, Laufer reached out and touched his finger tips to the end of the pool an instant before Hinch. His time was 1:42.4, two and one-fifth seconds faster than his former record.

50 yards free style, senior women—Won by Mary Lou Quinn, I. W. A. C.; Mary Ellen Stark, I. W. A. C., second; Marian Dose, I. W. A. C., third. Time, :29.5.

Beaver Turns Tables and Sets a Trap for the North Woodsman

BY BOB BECKER.

Ogemaw County, Michigan, Jan. 9.—If you should decide to visit these snowbown miles of scrub oak and jack pine plains, where the deer are staging a great comeback and red foxes hunt the snowshoe hares for a winter meal, you'll see at the edge of many of the lakes large, round snow covered houses. Yes, they are beaver houses, snug and warm, with ample supplies of food for the winter.

But should you cruise around one of these houses to examine the cuttings on the big poplar trees, the work of the chisellike teeth of the beaver, watch your step. As we learned this cold, windy morning, many an innocent looking drift of snow at the edge of the lake may let you down three feet to one of the water filled canals made by the beaver to facilitate the transport of their supply of bark. One drift dropped us waist deep and there we stood while the ice water poured into our boots. Ice water, wet socks, and a four mile ride ahead with the temperature too close to zero to be classed as comfortable—this was the situation at 11 o'clock.

There was only one thing to do. Build a fire and dry socks in order to prevent a few frozen toes. Shavings from a dry pine stump were quickly gathered, pine sticks piled on these, and in less than a jiffy a fire was going. With a chunk of wood for a seat, we huddled over the blaze, laid out the wet hose, and for thirty minutes tried to find the border line which means the difference between scorched wool and dry hose.

INGRAM'S GOAL IN LAST MINUTE AVERTS DEFEAT

Ayton Scores Early for Cougars.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 9.—[Special.]—Catching one of Vic Ripley's passes in midair, Frankie Ingram, Blackhawks' left wing, sent the puck flying for a goal, enabling Chicago to earn a 1 to 1 overtime tie with the Detroit Cougars in a National Hockey league game here tonight. Ingram's scoring effort came with 30 seconds left to play in the regulation pastime.

Detroit, which Sunday had shut out the Hawks, 4 to 0, scored midway in the first period when Laurie Ayton sent the rubber past Charlie Gardiner, Chicago goalie.

Chicago's two new players, Teddy Graham and Stewart Adams, disported themselves commendably. Johnny Gottselig and Ripley were others contributing to the visitors' cause.

Couture missed a chance to bring Detroit victory in the extra session, his shot, on a rebound from Ripley's stick, going wide of the goal. Snow on the ice slowed up overtime play on the part of both clubs. Lineup:

a great variety of movements, ranging from the simple jackknife dive to the intricate backward spiral, in the course of a single round with Knute Hansen, the melancholy Dane, of Kenosha, Wis.; he had run away from a large, lumbering novice named Victorio Campolo in a ten round pursuit race in Brooklyn, and he had really outdone himself in a final spectacular leap to the resin in the second round of a mild affair with Otto Von Porat, claiming foul.

He has yet to deliver his first punch in the ring in the United States, his repertoire up to now having consisted of timid left jabs delivered as if in fear of reprisals, and on the whole there is no other athlete with Fainting Philip's admirable qualities for the work to be done in Miami.

Calls for Discrimination.

The situation required the exercise of extreme care, for Sharkey has not been what the horse people would call a thoroughbred, fighting very impressively one night and very poorly the next time, and there is always a chance that he will make one of his poor fights in an important setting and eliminate himself from the projected match with Schmeling. This would disarrange all plans for next summer. If he had been matched with Tuffy Griffith of Chicago, or Otto Von Porat, the Scandinavian who recently made Scott retire, claiming to have been painfully fouled, or with Campolo, or Carnera, there would have been too great an element of risk, and Fainting Phillip seems to me an ideal selection.

The Garden corporation is now engaged in the final delicate arrangements for the appointment of a heavyweight champion who will place himself in the corporation's employ for the duration of his career, as Dempsey and Tunney did. Sharkey and Schmeling have been selected as the finalists and, inasmuch as the championship exists only in the imagination of the customers, there is never any call for indignation, however darkly the chaps may connive.

Dempsey might have become champion in an open tournament, but I seriously doubt that under such conditions the customers ever would have heard much of James Joseph Tunney, except as the author of Lorna Doone.

Crane Tech heavyweights, City league champions, made their debut in the west section of the league last night with a 23 to 17 victory over Austin, duplicating the score of last year's final championship game with Lindblom. Meanwhile Harrison, the other west section representative in 1929, was defeated by McKinley, 28 to 25. To offset this Coach Smith's lights buried the McKinley juniors, 43 to 23.

Marshall's lights, rated as the best in the section, came back with a 37 to 14 win over Medill after having been upset by McKinley in their opener. In the opening game of the south section yesterday Bowen heavies made themselves contenders for the sectional title by trimming Parker, 32 to 6.

Bocek Leads Scorers.

Milt Bocek headed the Crane heavyweight scorers with nine points. The champions held Austin to four points during the half. Benson and Magins featured for Austin. Crane's lightweights, led by Rick and Newman, hung up their second victory by trimming the Austin juniors, 28 to 13.

The Harrison-McKinley heavyweight battle was close throughout the first half, but Gentile, Murphy, and Madison connected in the second half to give their team a 25 to 15 lead at one time. Godina, with 14 points, and Rudman, with 9, accounted for most of Harrison's points. The entire Harrison lightweight team joined in rolling up the 43 point total, with Capt. Odron, Sisulak, and Masters featuring.

Parker Held to Basket.

Harlow, Celmar, Moore, and Sandell starred in the Bowen heavies' win over Parker. The losers were held to 3 points in the first half, a basket by Archbold and a free throw by Noftaker. During the second half Parker didn't score from the floor. Bowen's lights made it a double victory by defeating Parker, 23 to 17.

Marshall lightweights, recovered from Tuesday's upset by McKinley, showed that they are still in the running by their defeat of Medill. Leon Marks, Louie Gratch, and Oscar Tucker featured. The lineups:

Paterson Pro Five Defeats Bruins, 25-24

NEARS TITLE

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 9.—(AP)—Cleveland's chances of winning the first half championship of the American Basketball league soared skyward here tonight as the Rosies defeated Rochester, 25 to 23. The game eliminated Rochester from the race.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Paterson evened the series with the Chicago Bruins last night at the Chicago Stadium, winning 25 to 24. There was no doubt about Paterson's victory, but if any game should be credited as a gift this was the one.

The Bruins completely outplayed their opponents throughout the second period and with three minutes remaining were leading, 23 to 20. They stalled, waiting for the final whistle. Then came the break which permitted McElwain to score four consecutive free throws on one play and Chicago trailed, 24 to 23.

Each Scores Again.

Each team counted again from the free throw line in the last 30 seconds and the gift game was accepted by the eastereners with appropriate thanks to Referee Chuck Salador.

This is how McElwain was given his chance to mark up a personal victory. Al Kellett broke away from Benny Borgeman on the stalling game and dribbled under the basket for an easy shot. He missed and Benny recovered the ball. With Kellett out of position Borgeman started a fast offense which sent McElwain under the Bruins' hoop. Nat Hickey purposely fouled him to prevent the score.

Apparently Salador miscalled the player, announcing Kennedy. This decision would have sent the Chicago captain from the game on five fouls and all the players rushed protesting to the referee. Salador slapped two technical fouls on the team to top off the argument, although he reversed his decision on who had committed the foul.

McElwain Makes Four.

Then McElwain stepped to the free throw line and made all four shots. In the seconds remaining Borgeman added a point on Kellett's foul and Ely did likewise for Chicago when Roe tackled him as he dribbled in.

The Taylor Trunks also reversed the finish of the preceding night, defeating the House of David, 16 to 10. All of the Trunks' regulars scored, and while doing same, held Pop Tucker, the lengthy center to two successful shots, half of his total of the first game.

The first game of the evening was another thriller, the Solar five winning, 12 to 11, from the 135 pound team of the Boys Brotherhood Republic. The lineup:

Central High of South Bend Bids for League Lead Tonight

[This is the seventh of a series dealing with prospects of northern Indiana high school basketball teams.]

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 9.—[Special.]—All roads will lead to La Porte tomorrow night, when the Bears, South Bend's Central High school basketball team, tied with Goshen for second in the eastern division of the Northern Indiana High School conference, play the Slicers, who are leading the association. A victory will give Central a tie for first place.

And there isn't anybody more excited about the game than is little Bobbie Fisher, formerly of Peoria, Ill., who is yell leader of the boys and girls who cheer for Coach Earl H. Kuhny's squad.

Wee Lad Makes Big Noise.

Wee Bobbie, a junior at Central, is only 49 inches tall, and when he and his able assistant, Harry Carey (no, not the wild west screen star), start the Central locomotive yell—well, the roof does well to remain on the National Guard armory in which all of the home games are played. Central High, although one of the largest high schools in Indiana, does not have a suitable gymnasium for conference games. But one is in sight for next year.

O. C. Osborn, assistant to J. S. McCowan, principal, pays Coach Kuhny a great compliment when he says that this year's team is the best coached aggregation since 1913. That was a memorable year, as the Bears were nosed out of the state championship by Wingate, in an overtime game, 15 to 14. The game proper ended with a 12 to 12 tie.

Mishawaka, which formerly was Central's greatest rival, is not going so strong this year and was beaten early this season by Central. In 1928 7,000 people filled the Notre Dame fieldhouse to see Central defeat Mishawaka by a 41 to 29 score. That is the largest crowd that ever attended a basketball game here. It is at football games between these two schools that the attendance records rival collegiate contests. Twenty-one thousand attended the grid game this year, which was won by Central to the tune of 21 to 0.

Coach Teaches History.

Coach Kuhny was born at Washington, Ind., which, by the way, has a great basketball team this year, and was graduated from Franklin college, where he was a member of the basketball team. On receiving his diploma he accepted a position as coach of track and swimming at Central High. He received his master's degree in 1927.

This is his third year as basketball coach. In the first year of his régime Central finished third in the conference. In the second year it tied for fourth. It is tied for second in this season's race.

History is the subject taught by Coach Kuhny and this morning while being interviewed, writing on the blackboard read: Allies, central powers, and battle fronts. No doubt Earl was thinking about his net squad when he wrote those words.

The Bears certainly have a large number of fan allies, Central High is known for its power in athletics, and as to battle fronts, take Goshen and La Porte and you have some of the best battle fronts to be found in northern Indiana.

Although Central now has the leading rôle in the athletic drama around here, in a few years it will be receiving stiff competition from Riley High school, a new institution which is in its second year. Riley is not in the conference, but probably will be a member next year. The team under the tutelage of Robert Forbes, has had a fair season, playing some of the smaller schools around here.

Record Shows Seven Victories.

Elmer Burnham, an easterner, is a member of Supt. W. W. Borden's staff as physical director and he has proved a great aid in the developing of cooperation between the coaches and the students.

Coach Kuhny gives his first string as follows:

Forwards—Edward Esh, Howard Salzwedel, John Hodosy, Robert Smith.
Centers—Joe Buzolits, captain; George Basler.
Guards—Earl Barr, Casmir Borowski, Robert Lee, Mathew Mittemeyer and his brother, Henry Mittemeyer.

The second team:
Forwards—James La Flore, Vincent Piotrowski.
Center—Eugene Willeman.
Guards—Irwin Wagner, J. Curry.

The team's record is as follows:

Central, 33; Lakeville, 16.
Central, 29; Riley, 9.
Central, 41; Mishawaka, 10.
Nappanee, 30; Central, 16.
Central, 28; Elkhart, 26.
Central, 43; Michigan City, 17.
Central, 37; Riley, 13.
Central, 21; Goshen, 9.

DE PAUL WHIPS SOUTH DAKOTA STATE, 38-19

For reasons of his own Coach George Edmonds of South Dakota State, North Central conference champion, withheld three of his best players for more than half of last night's game against De Paul. As a strategic maneuver, it failed, for the Blue Demons piled up a 38 to 19 victory. The defeat was the first of the season for South Dakota.

Possibly the Jackrabbit coach was saving his aces, Capt. Herting, Arnold Nicholson, and Weert Englemann, for other games. Englemann entered the fray when three minutes of the second half had been played, but Herting and Nicholson did not see action until the final period was half over. All three starred against Iowa, Nicholson registering sixteen points. Last night Englemann lasted only six minutes, going out on personals. The Jackrabbits registered only three baskets, two in the first half by Rishoi, and one in the second period by Raak. De Paul led at the half, 16 to 5.

De Paul probably exhibited its best form of the season, producing an accurate passing game and a sturdy defense. As it was, 41 De Paul shots from the field went astray. South Dakota attempted only twenty from the floor, three of which found the mark. The lineup:

MAROONS TO RELY ON DEFENSE IN INDIANA GAME

Chicago's speed combination will take the floor against Indiana tomorrow night in Bartlett gymnasium in the opening Big Nine game of both teams.

Indiana has not won a practice game, but has been facing some of the best quintets of the country. De Pauw defeated Indiana, 26 to 24; Pittsburgh's team won a 35 to 31 victory; Pennsylvania won, 26 to 21, and Notre Dame last Tuesday took a thriller, 30 to 29.

The Maroons will have to rely on their tight defensive work to hold down the Hoosier score. The Chicago team seems to have better shooting skill this season than last, with Yates as the main threat. When Fish is hitting he rings shots from all over the floor, and Stephenson is a consistent scorer.

WILDCATS PLAY GOPHERS

Northwestern university basketball squad will brave the snowbound areas of the north tonight when they leave for Minneapolis, where the Wildcats meet Minnesota tomorrow night. The team will leave Chicago at 10 o'clock.

Coach Dutch Lonborg has elected ten players to make the trip. They are: Capt. Rut Walters, center; Bert Riel, Russell Bergherm, Johnny Whelan, and Bob Hill, forwards; Merrill Mundy, Bob Lockhart, Bob McCarnes, Bus Smith, and Dallas Marvel, guards.

BRIG. GEN. CLINNIN WILL REFEREE TRIBUNE DERBIES

Skaters to Tune Up Blades Sunday.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Brig. Gen. John V. Clinnin, chairman of the Illinois athletic commission, has consented to referee THE TRIBUNE'S fourteenth annual Silver Skates Derbies at Garfield park Jan. 25 and 26.

Gen. Clinnin has refereed this winter classic for years. His rulings always have been fair. Skaters have learned to respect and obey his instructions.

"I am happy to be honored again," Gen. Clinnin said when asked yesterday to perform in his usual capacity. "I believe THE TRIBUNE skating races do more for the growing boy and girl than any other event in Chicago. The fact that contestants cannot participate in more than one race causes no overexertion. The events are not too long, eliminating danger of ill effects in later years, and the competition is keen and honest."

Skaters in Tests Sunday.

Gen. Clinnin, however, isn't the only official who has helped to make these Derbies one of the greatest of skating events. Men who have served since their inception again will be on hand.

In the interim, skaters who have entered the Derbies are practicing. Managers and captains of teams will take advantage of the races at Bessemer park Sunday morning to tune up for THE TRIBUNE tests. Others will save their efforts for the contests at Humboldt park Sunday afternoon. Virtually the same racers will go into the final test Jan. 19 in the annual Opal A. A. Derby at Douglas park.

Individual entries continue to be received. But aside from Brentano playground, which will be represented by thirty-nine candidates, no other team nominations have been filed.

Entries Close Jan. 19.

Those in charge will wait until after Sunday's Derbies to determine the personnel of squads. As THE TRIBUNE Derbies will bring together not only the fastest skaters in Chicago but the best in the central states, team captains and managers will enter only star performers.

Entries close Jan. 19. An entry blank appears elsewhere on the sports pages. Team entry should be made as soon as possible.

FOUR BOUTS ON MULLEN CARD AT WHITE CITY

Jim Mullen has announced his complete card for next Monday night's show at White City. It includes four seven round bouts and three four rounders. The performance will be headed by Harry Dublinsky and Ray Kaiser, Bobby La Salle and Clyde Hull, Paul Pantaleo and Rocky Adams, and Marshall Leach and Tuffy Williams.

In addition to the all fighter card at White City, it was rumored yesterday that Mullen has in preparation an inaugural card with which he will launch a winter season at the Rainbo Fronton.

In the Wake of the News

BABE RUTH'S SALARY.

BABE RUTH, greatest turnstile attraction of all time in baseball, asks a salary of $85,000 per annum with a three year contract. This is an advance of $15,000 from his present pittance of $70,000. The New York Yankees are said to be willing to pay the $85,000 for one year, but balk at the three year request.

Babe Ruth is worth $85,000 a year so long as he can play in his present form. He is not worth that sum, as baseball salaries go, unless he can play pretty near to his present form. Nothing vanishes so quickly as a baseball reputation when the hero becomes a goat. The hero must make good all the time.

On that basis the Yankees have some excuse for objecting to a three year term for the highest salary ever paid in baseball. If Ruth can put over his demand, more power to him. We anticipate a compromise, perhaps on a two year basis.

The Wake always has thought baseball salaries were low compared with those paid other public entertainers of equal prominence. Especially is this so when one considers the usually limited time a player spends in the majors, which is his greatest earning period. Often just as he reaches his maximum earning power he begins to slip physically. Baseball salaries, however, are high compared with those of a few years ago.

Despite baseball's popularity, few clubs in the majors and practically none in the minors are big money-makers, considering the investment. Admission prices are low when you consider other entertainment, except the movies. Cost of adequate plants, used only 75 days a year, traveling expenses and all other expenses are heavy. This operates against larger salaries. Yet, reverting to the past, Comiskey and other old-timers will tell you how big $1,500 a year once looked.

Wonder what's become of all the stock market tips we were getting back in August and September. Come to think of it, we haven't been handed a "good thing" marketwise for several months. Funny thing, too, all the stocks are cheaper now and therefore ought to be better than when we were getting all the "good things."

A Question of Size.

Dear Harve: I'm remembering way back when in 1924 our Bloomington, Ill., High school team rambled to Toledo for a game. We stopped off in Chicago, went to a restaurant, and every one ordered juicy steaks. The waitress, wanting to find out how to have them cooked, started the census. Of our right end she asked, "How do you want yours, medium?" His ready and unhesitating reply was, "No, large."

Now It's Eyesight.

Sir: Instead of wondering if the climate or fatigue from the long trip makes strong eastern elevens duds on the Pacific coast, why not try some experiments to see what the difference in atmosphere does to the eyesight. We all know what happens when we go from a dimly lighted room to a brilliantly lighted one. It takes time to adjust ourselves. My suggestion is that this same thing happens when an eastern eleven goes from a heavy atmosphere to a lighter, clearer one. Any way I am willing to wager that any time the elevens are anywhere near equal and the coast team sticks to passing, it will win eight out of ten games. C. H. Hollister.

EDWARD W. BOK WILL BE BURIED IN SOUTH TODAY

Philanthropist Succumbs to Heart Attack.

Lake Wales, Fla., Jan. 9.—(AP)—A specially built crypt at the foot of a great singing tower of bells he built in the wilderness of a bird sanctuary at his home here tomorrow will receive the body of William Edward Bok, editor, author, and philanthropist.

The singing tower with its carillon of 71 bells was dedicated by the philanthropist as a gift to America for the success this country had brought him.

Bok, who rose from the estate of a poor Dutch immigrant boy to a position of fame and wealth, died at his mountain lake home early today of heart disease while specialists and relatives were rushing here from the east.

Coming to this country at the age of 17, Mr. Bok became a messenger boy. He rose to success as a journalist, retiring only ten years ago from the editorship of the Ladies' Home Journal.

Story of Great Fire on Radio Thrills Elmer

Has Praise for W-G-N and for Quin Ryan.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

Chicago's great fire of '71 did not occur last night, but Quin Ryan's description of it, W-G-N, 8 to 8:30, actually made one feel as though fire and destruction were here again. And that's not exaggeration—ask any listener. The narrative, I find, was written by Edward Barry, whom we have hitherto only known as a pianist. The story, rather the tragedy, was reinforced by impressive original orchestral music by Alfred Wathall. Well, we escaped with our lives and with our property also—what a relief!

Now, from direct tragedy to a novelty. For on Thursday evenings we have one program that strikes me as being funnier every time I hear it. During the W-G-N 8:30 to 9 program a character named Jefferson tells a story that could be told in about three minutes, but the interruptions [Jefferson calls them disruptions] for orchestral and feature numbers string out the story to the full half hour. And one waits willingly, for it is no ordinary story, but an extraordinary whopper of a fantastic extravaganza.

We had a reminder of the last presidential campaign days last evening. Calvin Coolidge addressed a commercial gathering at St. Petersburg, Fla., heard locally through KYW, 8:30 to 9. Senator Pat Harrison, speaking from the east, was heard locally through WBBM, 9:30 to 10.

The University of Chicago choir, WLS, 9:30 to 10, presented a very impressive program of anthems, sung unaccompanied, of which I managed to hear all of the Russian and English groups. I am sure that these monthly concerts by this exceptionally well trained choir are looked forward to eagerly.

MRS. HUCKINS INDICTED WITH HUSBAND, SON

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Jan. 9.—(AP)—Elmer S. Huckins, his wife, Amelia, and George E. Huckins were charged with obtaining money under false pretenses in indictments returned by the Linn county grand jury here today.

While the indictments against the father and son were similar to those contained in the true informations filed against them several weeks ago by County Attorney Carl Hendrickson, the indictment of Mrs. Huckins came as a surprise. Her name was not mentioned in previous charges.

BODY OF SLAIN GIRL FOUND IN SACK IN YARD

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 9.—(AP)—Stuffed into a sack, the body of a young woman was found today in the rear yard of a vacant house on Poplar street. Police said she had been murdered. There was a deep gash on her forehead and black and blue marks about her throat, indicating strangulation, the authorities said.

There was no clew to her identity. Neighbors told the police the sack in which the girl's body was found had been in the yard about a week.

The girl apparently was about 20 years old. Police are working on the theory that she was slain elsewhere and her body thrown into the yard from a street which runs back of the house.

PRICES CRAWL UP IN CHICAGO STOCK TRADING

Winton Engine Shares Up Three Points.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Stocks crawled up a little on the Chicago exchange yesterday, and though the advance was negligible measured by the standards of 1928 it was enough to lend a bit of encouragement to those who have watched the course of the market since the first of the year with a good deal of dismay. Volume, however, continued small, with total transactions approximating 140,000 shares.

The steadiness of the stock markets generally yesterday can be attributed in part to buyers who got out of the market early in December for tax purposes and are now getting in again

Auburn Up 5 Points.

Gains on the Chicago board were nothing to whoop about, but in the light of recent happenings were welcomed by the bull side. Winton Engine sold up to 50 and closed there with a net gain of 3 points. The earnings statement of the company, which is due shortly, is anticipated by the market as favorable.

Auburn Automobile snapped back 5 points to finish at 200. President E. L. Cord stated yesterday that the company had established a new production record during 1929 with an output of approximately 25,000 cars, compared with 12,899 during the previous twelve month period.

Cities Service was active again after a period of comparative quiet. The issue was fractionally higher, as 4,650 shares changed hands. A. M. Castle was not traded in, though directors voted the usual extra dividend of 25 cents on the common stock in addition to the regular quarterly payment of 75 cents.

Other stocks in the general classification to show gains at the end of the day were Addressograph, up 1¾; Adams Manufacturing, up 1½, and Gleaner Combine Harvester, which improved an even point. Fractional advances were made by General Theater Equipment, McGraw Electric and Continental Steel. Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line was practically unchanged.

Move in Narrow Range.

The utilities moved within a narrow range, with prices firm. Central and South West has declared a dividend of 1 per cent in stock on the common shares. The Associated Telephone Utilities company, it is understood, will shortly offer an issue of 15 year 5½ per cent debentures with conversion rights. Middle West was one of the most active issues on the board but closed unchanged at 26⅞.

Leath & Co. issues were quiet. The company reports that 1929 profits will be about $500,000, compared with $491,653 in 1928. The per share earnings, however, will fall short of the $3.50 paid in 1929. The 1929 earnings will be slightly over $3.

RAW SILK.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—(AP)—SILK—Raw futures closed very steady. Sales, 1,270 bales. March, $4.46; May, $4.42; July, $4.40. Open market quotations [sixty day basis]: Shanghai steam extra B, $4.30; Canton double extra A, 14-16s, $3.90; Japanese crack double extra, $4.60.

BROKERS' LOANS SAG, ALTHOUGH FUNDS POUR IN

Speculators Seen Holding Aloof.

BY O. A. MATHER.

With a slack demand for money for commercial purposes and with their "window dressing" for year-end reports on their financial condition out of the way, the banks of the country outside of New York have poured funds into the stock market in the last week. Corporations and other brokers also offered money following the year-end disbursements.

But it would appear that speculators didn't want much of this money, in view of present stock market and business conditions, even at 4 and 4½ per cent rates. So the weekly report on brokers' loans by the federal reserve board yesterday showed a decline of $72,000,000, bringing the total down to $3,352,000,000. This figure is only $34,000,000 higher than the low mark in the recent movement reached on Dec. 24, and it is also $1,951,000,000 under a year ago.

The interior banks increased their loans by $115,000,000, although they still are lending $970,000,000 less than a year ago. Corporations and other lenders furnished an additional $94,000,000, but still are lending $714,000,000 less than a year ago. But these combined current additions enabled the New York banks to reduce their own loans by $281,000,000.

Further Gold Exports.

The ease in call money rates was a contributing influence to further exports of gold, which totaled $8,632,000 for the week and most of which went to France, while imports were only $98,000. The Bank of England maintained its 5 per cent discount rate and the New York Federal Reserve bank made no change in its 4½ per cent rediscount rate.

The slack demand for credit for all purposes following the year-end also was reflected in the weekly report of the federal reserve system, issued last night. Member bank borrowings dropped $64,806,000 to a total of $567,615,000, and the reserve banks disposed of $73,042,000 of bankers' acceptances and $25,745,000 of government securities. Note circulation fell $71,869,000, while deposits rose $8,624,000.

Gold and total reserves expanded $71,296,000 and $94,202,000, respectively, and the ratio of reserves to liabilities strengthened to 72.9 per cent, compared with 69.6 per cent a week ago.

Chicago Borrowings.

The statement of the New York reserve bank showed a decline of $40,683,000 in member bank borrowings, bringing the total down to $131,177,000. Bankers' acceptances dropped $39,409,000 and deposits receded $30,949,000. Reserves expanded $63,799,000 and the reserve ratio rose to 67.4 per cent, compared with 60.5 per cent last week.

At Chicago member bank borrowings declined $15,748,000 to a total of $96,819,000, and bankers' acceptances receded $5,203,000. Deposits advanced $4,955,000. Reserves increased $17,254,000, and the reserve ratio rose to 73.7 per cent, compared with 70.7 per cent a week ago.

Alfred Decker & Cohn Profits Show Increase

Improved conditions in the clothing industry are reflected in the annual report of Alfred Decker & Cohn, Chicago manufacturers. Net profits for the fiscal year ended Oct. 31, 1929, were $302,924, which was equivalent, after preferred dividends, to $2.62 a share on the 100,000 shares of no par common stock. After paying $2 on the common stock, the surplus was increased by $62,905 to a total of $1,035,515. Net profits for the previous period were $208,795, or $2.08 a share.

AUDIT REVEALS UNITED CIGARS INCOME ERROR

New York, Jan. 9.—(AP)—A reduction of about 46 per cent in the net profits of the United Cigar Stores Company of America for the year ending Dec. 31, 1928, from the figures announced by the company early last year was shown today in a revised profit and loss statement issued by the accountants who have been examining the books of the company for the present management.

The net profits for 1928, as announced by the company, amounted to $8,352,762, whereas the revised statement of the accountants showed that the profits totaled only $4,525,609.

Several months ago control of the United Cigar Stores passed from the Whalen group, its organizers, to interests headed by George K. Morrow, president of the Gold Dust corporation. Soon afterward the new management ordered that an audit be made of the United company's books.

BOND TRADING BRISK ON SALES OF $11,047,000

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 9.—Brisk trading in bonds on the stock exchange today sent total sales to $11,047,000, the largest turnover since Dec. 3, but domestic bond prices on the average were only slightly higher and foreign loans closed a shade lower. There was a good demand for legal railroad bonds during the last hour of trading and most of these issues finished at or close to the best prices of the day.

American Telegraph and Telephone issues were unusually active on the news of the forthcoming issue of $150,000,000 debenture 5s. The debenture 5s of 1960 sold off 1¾ points as a result. The convertible 4½s however, advanced 1¼ points. The latter's running mate, International Telegraph and Telephone convertible 4½s advanced the same amount.

Of the active rail issues, St. Louis-Southwestern first 4s of 1989 jumped two points, Southern Railway 6s 2¼ points, while C. M. St. P. & P., adjustment 5s eased off ¾ of a point, Erie general 4s half a point.

Board of Trade Dues for 1930 Are $500

Board of Trade dues for 1930 have been fixed at $400, with an extra $100, a total of $500. In 1929 they were $400. Heavy expense of fitting out the new building as well as the moving will necessitate greatly increased expenditures, it was said. Emanuel F. Rosenbaum Jr., son of E. F. Rosenbaum, head of the Rosenbaum Grain corporation, has been posted for membership on the Board of Trade. The last sale was $18,000.

It is estimated that nearly 20,000 new savings accounts were opened in New York state during October and November.

Forecast for Midwest Sees Steady Trade

BY SCRUTATOR.

Industrial and agricultural activity in the territory surrounding Chicago will be about the same in the first three months of 1930 as it was in the similar period of 1929, according to a forecast presented yesterday at the sixth annual conference of the Midwest Shippers' Advisory board.

This forecast is worthy of more attention than many others that have appeared in the last few weeks. First, because it is to be used in determining how many cars will be required to carry away the production of Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, northern Michigan and western Indiana; second, because no ulterior motive is involved, and, third, because the board in recent years has predicted rather closely the actual trend of business volume.

The first quarter of 1929 required 1,220,164 car loadings in the territory. The estimate for those three months was 1,210,681, an error of considerably less than 1 per cent. Yesterday's estimate was that 1,213,043 cars will be loaded before the end of March.

On Conservative Side.

At the beginning of 1928 an error of somewhat larger proportions appeared in the forecast, but it was on the conservative side. In both preceding years, it should be noted, the estimates fell short of the actual loadings.

The figures on which the final tabulation was made were furnished by traffic managers, who are as closely in touch with what their companies are really going to do as any one else. Reports from shippers of twenty-nine principal commodities were brought together by the chairmen for the commodities.

Decreases are expected in the shipment of the following lines: Automobiles and trucks, 22 per cent; lumber and forest products, 3 per cent; steel and iron, 5 per cent; lime and plaster, 35 per cent; fresh vegetables, 7 per cent, and fresh fruit, 15 per cent. Little changes are looked for in the shipping of chemicals and explosives, flour and meal, coal and coke, ore and concentrates, paper and paper products.

Where Rise Is Expected.

Increases over a year ago are looked for in the movement of grain, 1 per cent; poultry and dairy products, 2 per cent; canned goods, 3 per cent; machinery and boilers, 5 per cent; agricultural implements, 5 per cent; brick and clay products, 7 per cent; petroleum products, 15 per cent; fertilizers, 28 per cent; cement, 30 per cent, and potatoes, 33 per cent.

The shippers' advisory boards, to which considerable credit for relieving car shortages has been given, form a link between shippers and railroads. Their coöperation is informal. Because the board has no axes to grind about the state of business and because its forecasts are so close to actual conditions, it is fair to assume that nothing particularly depressing is confronting Chicagoland during the winter and early spring.

BANK OF AMERICA AND MURRAY HILL TRUST CONSOLIDATION NEARS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 9.—Directors of the Bank of America, N. A., led by Dr. A. P. Giannini, chairman, and directors of the Murray Hill Trust company, have voted to consolidate the two institutions and form a new firm with capital of $36,775,300, surplus of $37,000,000, and undivided profits exceeding $3,500,000. Acquisition of the Murray Hill Trust company by Bank of America marks another step in a long series of mergers in which the bank has been concerned since the present institution was formed through the uniting of the former Bank of America, the Bowery and East River National bank, and the Commercial Exchange bank in April, 1928, when A. P. Giannini entered the banking field.

Bank of America has capital of $35,775,300. Par value of Bank of America stock is $25 and there are 1,421,012 shares. The stock sold today at around 126.

Will Issue 150 Millions in Debentures

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 9.—Bankers for the American Telephone and Telegraph company will offer for public subscription, probably next Monday, an issue of $150,000,000 sinking fund 5 per cent gold debentures, in furtherance of the company's elaborate plans for continued expansion of its physical properties.

Although details of the new financing were withheld today by the bankers and by officials of the company, it was reported that the securities will be offered under the same indenture as was the successful offering of $125,000,000 5s by the corporation on Jan. 1, 1925, giving the bonds a maturity of 31 years. The offering price will be 99½, to yield slightly more than 5 per cent.

J. P. Morgan & Co. will head the syndicate offering the bonds, and it is expected that the company will be joined by the banking firms who have participated in the American Telephone and Telegraph company's major financing of the last dozen years. This group, headed by J. P. Morgan & Co., includes Kuhn, Loeb & Co., Kidder Peabody & Co., the First National Bank of New York; the National City company; the Bankers Trust Company of New York; the Guaranty Company of New York; Harris Forbes & Co., and Lee, Higginson & Co.

VICK FINANCIAL CORP. TO VOTE ON STOCK PURCHASE

Stockholders of Vick Financial corporation, at their meeting Jan. 28, will be asked to approve purchase of 100,000 shares of the corporation's stock at $8.50 a share.

The annual report of the corporation, which was organized last spring by the Vick Chemical company, shows a shrinkage in value of the common stock of 32 cents a share from the par value of $10, in spite of the fact that the company did not begin business until June 10 and had been operating less than five months before the stock market break.

Sugar Co. Begins 1930 Cane Grinding in Florida Mill

The Southern Sugar company of Chicago this week began 1930 cane grinding operations at its enlarged Clewiston, Fla., mill, one of the largest cane sugar mills in the United States. Since last year's grinding season, the capacity of the plant has been increased from 1,500 tons of cane per day to 4,000 tons per day. Approximately 300,000 tons of cane will be harvested from 10,0000 acres, according to B. G. Dahlberg, president. Last year 4,500 acres were harvested and ground.

A. G. Spalding Has Year Earnings of $2,050,446

New York, Jan. 9.—(AP)—The annual statement of A. G. Spalding and Brothers shows net earnings of $2,050,446 for the year ended Oct. 31, 1929, as compared with $1,845,535 for the preceding year. The directors reported the company entirely out of debt to banks for the first time in 37 years as a result of a new issue of 50,000 shares of common stock last February, by which it acquired $3,050,000 additional capital.

SWIFT DEMANDS RIGHT TO SELL FOOD PRODUCTS

Reports Net Income of $13,076,815.

A demand that the big meat packing companies be permitted to engage again in wholesale and retail distribution of food products, which business now is forbidden to them because of the famous "consent decree" entered into with the federal government years ago, was made yesterday by Louis F. Swift, president of Swift & Co., at the stockholders' annual meeting.

"In line with the nationwide movement toward better distribution methods," Mr. Swift said, "we have asked for a modification of the consent decree which at present prevents us from engaging in the retail trade or from distributing certain food products which we are well equipped to market economically.

Changes in Distribution.

"We have based our request on the commonplace fact that methods of distribution have undergone a revolutionary change since the decree was entered into and that nothing is accomplished in the public interest by closing to us a field which is wide open to most of our competitors. It also seems inequitable that we should be prohibited from going into other lines of business when others are free to engage in meat packing.

"I am glad to note that agricultural interests have almost unanimously approved our action in requesting that these inequalities be removed. The restoration of free and unrestricted competition in the nationwide distribution of agricultural products would be one of the most effective forms of farm relief."

In reviewing the financial results of the company last year, Mr. Swift called attention to the narrow margin of profits despite large volume of business.

Profit in By-Products.

"During the year we paid out $543,975,887 for live animals," he said. "Our total sales of meat, butter, eggs, cheese, poultry, and all by-products amounted to more than one billion dollars. As in former years, we proved the value of diversification. Practically all of the by-product departments made good profits. In the slaughtering end of our work for nothing.

"Now that the country seems to be passing through a period of readjustment in business, I call attention to the fact that the packing industry is one of the fortunate industries which are not so much affected by business recessions. Food is one of the last things people stop buying when purchasing power declines. But we have so much confidence in the future of this country and in the opportunities for Swift & Co. that we expect to go right ahead with our development plans as if nothing had happened."

Equals $8.71 a Share.

Net earnings for the fiscal year ended Nov. 2, 1929, were $13,076,815, equivalent to $8.71 a share on the $150,000,000 capital stock, and after paying $8 in dividends there was a surplus of $1,076,815, which brought total surplus up to $77,216,699. Net earnings for the previous period were $14,813,182, or $9.87 a share.

The proposal of the directors to split the capital stock and exchange four new shares for each present share was ratified by the stockholders. Alden B. Swift was elected a director.

BY FRED HARVEY.

New York, Jan. 9.—Something that passed for a boomlet swept over the stock market today. Bull traders snapped out of their somnolent state with a start and gave their favorites a rally reminiscent at intervals of what the trade is fond of referring to as "old times," meaning thereby the ancient days preceding the cave-in of last October and November and thereabouts.

Volume increased to 2,397,330 shares and prices of the active leaders were run up anywhere from one to more than 5 points. It was, in fact, the second most active day of the new year.

The rise was primarily due to short coverings. Bear traders have found in the last few days that the market is in a relatively strong technical position and evidently have set out to take in part of their lines in order not to be caught napping.

Sees Buying Inclination.

Sales were not lacking on the rise for the account of those who were only waiting opportunity to pare down their holdings, but the general public was more inclined to buy than to sell and price movements for the most part were steadily, if slowly, to the fore all day.

As in most other advances in recent months, strength and vigor was most pronounced among the utilities. Advances of 2 to 5 points were common in that section and the turnover was large. American Foreign Power, Consolidated Columbia Gas, American Waterworks, and United Gas Improvement vied for pace making honors. Pacific Lighting fell behind the group as a result of profit taking after its spurt of yesterday on announcement that only the regular dividends have been declared. Western Union, with a runup of 14½ points, was the biggest individual gainer of the day.

The food stocks and merchandise issues were notably better. A statement by H. T. Parson, president of the Woolworth company, that retail trade was good with the outlook improving, helped the store shares. Mr. Parson reported Woolworth sales had increased more than 16 per cent in the week following Christmas compared with the corresponding 1928 period. Macy gained 5 points on the day's sales.

WHEAT PRICES DIP ON SELLING; CLOSE IS HIGHER

General Short Covering Brings Rally.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Local operators yesterday generally went out of their lines of long wheat, while Winnipeg bulls also unloaded, which, with the weakness in Liverpool, resulted in a decline of around 1¼c from the finish of the previous day.

The bulk of the selling in Chicago was around $1.31 for May, with the surplus in the pit absorbed by a new set of operators through houses with eastern connections, and toward the last there was fairly general short covering, which advanced prices to above Thursday's finish. The close was at the top, with net gains of ¼c.

Winnipeg wheat at one time was 1⅝@1¾c below the previous close, and messages from there claimed that a leading professional had sold out a big line of grain during the last two days. However, there was a rally toward the close, with the finish ⅛c lower to ¼c higher. Liverpool lost 1¾@1⅞d for the day. Owing to the sharp fluctuations in foreign exchange the Buenos Ayres and Rosario wheat markets are unsettled, both closing ⅛c lower for the day.

Export Demand Slow.

Strength in corn had some effect on the wheat market, with local sentiment mixed. In some quarters there was a belief that leading holders of rye had been selling wheat of late as a hedge against the former grain.

Foreign demand for cash wheat was generally reported as slow, with no sales of consequence reported, although there was intimations of business having been done overnight, and the spot basis at the gulf was around ½c higher, with No. 1 hard being quoted at 4½c over Chicago May, and No. 2 hard at ⅛@¾c over, the best figures of the season.

Heavy snow was reported over the greater part of the winter wheat area, and the new crop now has protection against low temperatures. However, this failed to have much effect on the July delivery except for a brief period at the opening, with July ¾c over the nearby future at the finish.

Corn Trade Broadens.

A bullish construction placed on the government estimate on the amount of corn secured in 1929 as grain, showing 2,191,000,000 bu, against 2,360,000,000 bu in 1928, combined with light country offerings, active shipping demand and small receipts, resulted in the corn market showing more activity than for sometime past. The close was at the top, with net gains of 1⅝@1⅞c. Sellers of offers were forced to protect themselves on the way up. The spot basis advanced ⅛@1¼c as compared with May.

Coöperatives have started to operate in the southwestern cash corn markets and were said to have bought No. 3 corn at Kansas City during the day, paying 13½c under Kansas City May. As far as is known this is the first actual purchase of cash grain at terminal markets. Buenos Ayres futures closed ¼@1⅝c higher.

An increase of around 1,000,000 acres for the new Argentine corn crop is estimated by Broomhall's agent, being placed at 12,800,000 acres, against 11,826,000 acres planted last season, when the harvested area was 8,688,000 acres, the heavy reduction being due to drought damage.

Oats were firmer in sympathy with corn, with the close ⅝@¾c higher. The spot basis was steady to ½c higher, while shipping sales were 111,000 bu.

July rye was weak and sold down 1½c to 97½c, a new low for the season, with the finish unchanged to ¼c lower, while July lost 1c.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Although there was no change in raw sugar prices today, the undertone was easier and offerings were more liberal. The only sale reported was 24,500 bags of Porto Rican for January shipment to an outport refiner at 3.80c delivered. The issuance of 10 January notices had a depressing effect in raw futures. The spot month closed 7 points lower. Later deliveries closed net unchanged to 1 point lower. Approximate sales were only 19,950 tons. Prices follow:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. close.
March	1.98	1.98	1.96	1.97	1.98

July	2.08	2.08	2.06	2.08	2.08
September	2.15	2.15	2.13	2.13	2.14

There were fair withdrawals of refined but no new business, and prices were unchanged at 5.20c for fine granulated.

CASH-GRAIN NEWS

With the exception of a few parcels of wheat afloat sold to Rotterdam and Antwerp there was little done at the seaboard, with sales in all positions estimated around 200,000 bu. Bids at the Pacific coast were about 3c out of line. Local handlers sold 13,000 bu wheat; 98,000 bu corn, and 111,000 bu oats to the domestic trade.

STORM LIFTS BUTTER PRICES

Two more butter and egg contracts were added to the Chicago mercantile exchange trading list by initial sales in January fresh butter at 32½c and in April storage packed eggs at 28¼c. An increase of about 11 per cent in the week's butter make and light storage withdrawals failed to have much effect in the future trading against bad weather and reduced receipts. January and February deliveries gained $120 a car, or ¾c. March finished ⅝c higher. January fresh finished at 32¾c. Sales were 167 cars and receipts, 4,900 tubs. January refrigerator eggs closed unchanged after a bulge of ¾c to 40c. January fresh gained ¼c up and February closed unchanged. Sales were 131 cars and receipts, 7,013 cases. Prices follow:

LARD PRICES MOVE HIGHER

Heavy buying yesterday of May lard by a commission house, which was credited to a leading packer, caused covering by shorts. This, combined with an advance of 10c to 30c in hogs, made a better feeling in the provision market. Prices advanced 5c to 7½c on top of the previous day's rise, and closed 2½c under the high point on all futures. Lard in Liverpool was stronger, with prices 1s 3d to 1s 9d higher. Cumberland sides were up to 1s and long cut hams 4s lower. Export clearance of lard were 2,362,200 lbs, and bellie, 54,500 lbs.

Hog receipts at western points, while larger than a week ago, were materially under last year's. Prices follow:

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

It will be no surprise to see Liverpool wheat prices show a moderate advance early today. The uncertainty as to large foreign buying, limited definite reports as to the size of export business from day to day, combined with uneasiness as to the next move of the federal farm board, make it unpleasant for the speculative trade.

The latest reports from Russia say that the total grain procurements by state and coöperative procuring organizations of soviet Russia by Dec. 20, 1929, exceeded plan for 1929-'30 marketing year by four per cent. Bread grains alone were 6 per cent below requirements. Share of wheat in total procurements was 31 per cent compared with 46 per cent last year, and 49 per cent two years ago. Share of rye increased from 11 per cent last year to 21 per cent this year.

WABASH ROAD VOTES DIVIDENDS OF 10% ON PFD.

Pennsy Subsidiary Pays Initial.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 9.—Directors of the Wabash Railroad company today declared dividends of 10 per cent on the preferred B stock of the company. Five per cent of the total is for 1928 and 5 per cent for 1929.

Dividends on this issue had been stopped in January, 1929, with the cancellation of a $5 payment as the result of a decision in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals that back dividends on the preferred A stock must be paid before payments could be made on the preferred B or the common. This decision on the preferred A claim was reversed in the United States Supreme court on Monday and the way was left open for the resumption of payments on the class B.

Is Convertible Issue.

Wabash class B stock is a 5 per cent convertible issue of $100 par value, and there are now only 24,312 shares outstanding, most of the issue having been converted into preferred A and common on a basis of $50 par value of each of the other issues for each $100 par of preferred B held.

With greatly increased earnings for Wabash last year and the resumption of dividends on the class B preferred the Wabash common has moved a step nearer entrance into the list of dividend paying issues. A dividend of 1¼ per cent also was declared out of the surplus of the company on the preferred A stock.

The Western New York and Pennsylvania railway, controlled by the Pennsylvania, has declared its first dividend in 34 years. The declaration is 4 per cent on the common and the full 5 per cent on the preferred. The railroad has never paid a dividend and is a reorganization in 1890 of a company of the same name. The Pennsylvania will receive $1,303,000 on its holdings through this dividend.

Declares Extra.

The Homestake Mining company declared an extra dividend of $1, the same as paid last year. The Capital Management corporation will pay an extra of 25 cents. The Lefcourt Realty corporation declared an extra of 25 cents. Virginia Bond and Mortgage company omitted the semi-annual dividend of $3.50 a share, due on the preferred stock.

W. A. Sheaffer, president of the W. A. Sheaffer Pen company, stated that a dividend to include an extra in cash will be declared some time in February for payment March 15. The amount of the extra has not yet been determined.

The lessee expects at a later date to improve with a business block. J. H. Salomon and Joseph Gould were brokers. C. A. Winston and Pearlman, Goodman & Skolnick were attorneys.

Mrs. Jennie T. Maxwell of New Brunswick, N. J., has sold the residence at 739 Rush street to the Misses Charlotte Voge and Leone Grandland for an undisclosed consideration. The residence was the girlhood home of Mrs. Maxwell and was in the hands of her family for more than fifty years. The new owners will remodel the structure at once. The Bowes Realty company was broker.

Top yesterday, $14.50; average, $13.65.
Estimated receipts at Chicago today, 3,000 cattle, 28,000 hogs, and 15,000 sheep.

All classes of live stock sold strong to higher yesterday, some kinds making new high marks for the season. Top cattle reached $16.75, highest since last September, and within 25c of the 1929 peak on load lots.

The bulge in the hog market brought the top to $10.25, highest since October 9, and $1.10 above the corresponding day in 1929. Two years ago top hogs sold at $8.35. Lambs at top prices today equaled the highest since July of last year, but compared with $17.25 a year ago.

Competition Is Brisk.

Brisk competition for hogs followed a 10c higher opening yesterday, resulting in additional gains of 10@25c in mid-session, with the extreme top up 30c at $10.25. Prevailing quotations are 50c above Tuesday and 90c@$1.10 above the low day of the winter, established last November.

The general average price advanced 20c at $9.85. Small packers and shippers bought freely at the advanced list of prices, while larger houses refused to follow at the full strength.

Some of the 8,000 left at the close were being held off the market on the strength of an advance estimate of only 28,000 for today, which compares with 47,176 a year ago.

Gains of 15@25c were scored in better grades of cattle yesterday, while others sold steady and in spots were obtained at weaker bids. Fancy yearlings averaging 931 lbs set up a new 1930 top of $16.75, which goes back more than three months for an equal.

Eighty yearlings averaging 1,018 lbs sold at $16.65 and $16.00 was paid for prime 1,329 lb steers. Plain heavy cattle were slow to sell, some averaging 1,450 lbs going as low as $11.75. Some steers averaging 1,664 lbs at $14.15 were well finished. Cows and heifers were in good demand at steady to 25c higher prices. Calves advanced 50c. Stockers and feeders were scarce and firm.

Sheep Receipts Small.

Sheep receipts were held below trade requirements yesterday and with lighter supplies in sight for the remainder of the week, buyers were on the market early for "numbers."

Better quality was also an attraction and offset much of the 15@25c price gain, according to packers. Most 85@100 lb fat lambs brought $13.75@14.25, with prime 99 lb averages at $14.10 and 92 lb lambs at $14.25. Top at $14.50 equaled the season's peak. Aged sheep held firm. Yearlings at $12.25 were strong. Country buyers were unable to fill orders for feeding lambs at steady prices.
